From FR. C.P.

We, Christians, consider marriage as a lifelong covenantal relationship based on faith and commitment. This is amply taught in the teachings of the Catholic Church on the theology of the sacrament of matrimony. However, unfortunately there are quite a few who have to go through hard decisions of separating from a spousal relationship, sometimes after being together for several years. The Church in her motherly concern for the separated individuals makes room for remarriages after going through a process of annulment. An annulment is not a divorce, but a declaration by the Church that due to the absence of the required conditions for a valid marriage, the marriage never took place or simply put, the marriage celebrated was not a valid one. That is called the nullity of a marriage. To help married couples considering having an annulment decree issued to them by the Church in terms of getting the materials/documents needed to apply for it, some people from a few parishes in our dioceses have received a special training in recent weeks. They are usually called 'nullity ministers'. If you or your dear ones are in the category of those who are in need of going for an annulment, and would require help through the process, kindly approach me. I could direct you to where the help can be available. Let's pray always for married couples that their efforts to stay together in love and fidelity may be blessed by the Lord abundantly, who has put them together. "What God has joined together, let no human put asunder." (Matthew 19:6)

Catholic Living Power to Love Enemies

Following Jesus means to live a life in which we start loving one another with God's original love and not with the needy wounded love that harms others. Original love is a love that has the power to love enemies as well as friends. It is a divine love that makes us "sons and daughters of the Most High, who is kind to the grateful and the wicked...who causes the sun to rise on bad people as well as the good, and the rain to fall on honest and dishonest people." (Mt.5:45)
"You have heard it said, 'Love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I tell you, that you may be children of your Father in heaven. He causes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous." (Mt. 5:43-45)

Eucharistic Gem

Most Holy Trinity--Father, Son, and Holy Spirit--I adore thee profoundly. I offer thee the most precious Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ, present in all the tabernacles of the world, in reparation for the outrages, sacrileges and indifferences whereby He is offended. And through the infinite merits of his Most Sacred Heart and the Immaculate Heart of Mary, I beg of thee the conversion of poor sinners.---Angel of Peace, the Guardian Angel of Portugal, to the Three Children at Fatima
