"Which of these three, do you think, was a neighbor to the man who fell into the hands of the robbers?" He said, "The one who showed him mercy." Jesus said to him, "Go and do likewise." - (Luke 25:36-37)

We are all familiar with the story of the Good Samaritan. Most of us we first heard it for the first time in Sunday school. It was taught to us then to reinforce our morals in helping those in need; an important lesson for children to learn. The mercy shown by the Good Samaritan towards the victim of the robbery is exemplary. The Samaritan doesn't just help the victim in the moment, he continues to help him until he is fully healthy and able to continue with his life. It is a commitment that goes beyond what even the average person might do.

But when we revisit the story, it tells us an awful lot about how we see the world, and it gives us insight into who we are. Jesus introduces the idea that even the highly respected members of the church do not necessarily follow and do what God would have them do. We can only surmise that they used the convenient excuse of how busy they were to mask their unwillingness to help. Coupled with this is the idea that the Samaritan, an outsider, is the one to show mercy in contrast to what their preconceptions are about Samaritans. Jesus is making a powerful statement that we need to listen to. All people, regardless of their faith, or their nationality, or any of a thousand things that can differentiate us, are beloved children of God made in God's image. And we are all called to act as God would have us act for our siblings. We are called to be God's action in the world.

That call is not easy; it was never meant to be easy. To sacrifice for each other is to put someone else's needs above our own. We do this out of love. We do this as an expression of God's grace that is freely given to us, grace that we cannot earn. It is not transactional, we ask nothing in return for the things that we do for others out of God's love. That is what it means to be a Christian.

Many people are experiencing a feeling of isolation in the world right now. Our faith is being challenged in ways we never thought possible. We never felt that we could be defined by the things that differentiate us. When we hear others proclaiming a different message it can cause us to reexamine our understanding of who God is. But a gospel that turns away from the very basic teachings of Jesus is no gospel at all.

But there is always hope. When we are baptized, we are baptized into a community of Christ. We are sealed with the sign of the cross forever and joined to all in community. Individually, our voices and our actions may seem insignificant. But when we come together, and share in God's love, we can shine a light into the world that the darkness cannot overcome. That is what it means to be a church. That is what it means to live out the gospel. The good news of Jesus Christ doesn't need to be "inflicted" on anyone. That is not our calling, it was never our calling, because the good news speaks for itself. It speaks not in words but in our actions...

It doesn't proclaim a kingdom; kingdoms are of this world. God works through each of us to care for and love our neighbors as ourselves. God binds us through the Holy Spirit, and through that connection we can change the world.

May the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

Pictures from our 2026 Breakfast Worship & Annual Meeting

Annual Meeting

This past Sunday we had our annual meeting and reported that the mission of the church is thriving and that we are in solid financial position moving into the future. It is overwhelming to think of all the people that have come together to carry out God's mission and to enact it in our congregation.

We discussed three capital projects for the future. The first is the renovation of the bathroom at the church Parsonage. This bathroom has been inoperative for years and the congregation made the decision to contract to have it renovated and repaired. The funds for this project will be allocated directly from memorial donations.

Secondly, a fund has been created to repair or replace the church bells which also have been inoperative for many years. The opportunity exists for individuals to contribute to this fund as they feel called to do.

Finally, a fund was created for the installation of air conditioning in the sanctuary. The basis for this was a generous contribution made of almost $6,000 which will serve as the basis of the fund. Future donations will account for the balance of this project. Approximate total cost for the project is $35,000.

Folks of Spring Prairie Lutheran Church,

I have been elected President of Spring Prairie Lutheran Church Council. I will do my best for each of you. I invite you to contact me for any reason, at any time, about anything on your mind.

I try to impose a purpose on things that I do. Life is too short just to flitter it away on peripheral non-essentials. The question becomes: why do I attend church on Sunday mornings, particularly at Spring Prairie Lutheran Church? To answer this question, I researched scientific studies on this topic.

Research scientists discovered the following eight reasons why a person may benefit from regular church attendance.

1. Regular attendance at church services is linked to lower rates of depression and anxiety. Studies suggest that community support and a sense of belonging can improve mental health.
2. Some research indicates that people attending church services regularly may have lower blood pressure, a stronger immune system, and a lower mortality risk. This is not only due to the stress-reducing effects of religious practices but also to the inspiration and motivation to lead healthier lifestyles that church attendance can provide.
3. Churchgoers often benefit from a strong social network, which can provide emotional support, reduce feelings of loneliness, and increase overall life satisfaction.
4. Attending church can offer individuals a profound sense of meaning and purpose, which is associated with greater life satisfaction and resilience against life's challenges.
5. Regular church attendance can reinforce a sense of moral and ethical guidance, providing a strong foundation for better decision-making and personal behavior, making individuals feel guided and supported.
6. Being part of a religious community often encourages volunteerism and charitable activities, improving mental health and providing a sense of fulfillment.
7. Regular church attendance may increase a person's hope and positive energy toward life.
8. A person's faith in a higher power can positively affect overcoming addictions and physical sickness.

These benefits can vary based on individual experiences and the religious community involved. In my opinion, there is no better place than the Spring Prairie Lutheran Church to experience these eight benefits to a healthy life.

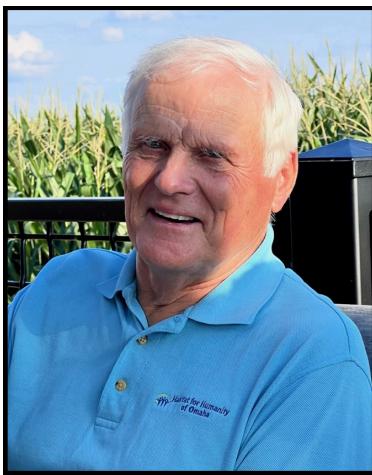

I don't go to church on Sunday morning to fulfill a duty, a social responsibility, to make a public acknowledgement, to drop a check in the church box, or to order my favorite bagels. No, I go to church on Sunday morning because it is good for me. It is healthy for me. And because it is healthy for the people I love. I especially like the part about "a lower mortality risk" in item 2. In fact, if everyone took these eight reasons to attend church seriously, it would be SRO every Sunday morning, and what a wonderful world it would be.

See you Sunday!

PRAYERS

- † Prayers of comfort to the family and friends of Bob Harm over at United in Christ in Morrisonville. Bob passed away the week of January 18th. He was the Council President and an integral part of their church leadership and missed by many across our synod.
- † Continued prayers of healing, strength, pain relief, and peace especially for Mike & Cathy Plyman, Gloria Rortvedt and Robert Bredeson.
- † May the love of Christ guide us as we seek out ways to ease the conflict in the world. May that love help us to see all human beings as our siblings, deserving of our love. May we be compelled to extend the grace and mercy that God shows us with all humanity.

\** If you or a loved one are in need of prayers and would like to be added to our prayer listing, please let Pastor Rick or Jenny know.*

Financial Update

The end of the year annual report showed we finished the year in a good financial position. We were able to pay all our end of year bills, and had a good cash reserve on hand. Thank you to all who have made this possible. The winter brings challenges with the cold and snow, such as lower attendance and more erratic giving. Our heating and electric bills are significantly higher, just like for many of you as well. Please continue to support Spring Prairie with your regular contributions.

GREETINGS FROM JJ'S FELLOWSHIP CORNER!

I hope you and your loved ones are able to stay warm during this cold snap. Given how cold it was, I was pleased to see so many members at our Pancake Breakfast and Annual Meeting—thank you for coming, sharing your opinions and helping us prepare for 2026. We welcome your feedback and encourage you to continue to contact any council member with suggestions or concerns. Special thanks to all who helped cook, serve, and clean up! We served about 57 people and a lot of pancakes and sausages! A huge shoutout to Barb Mickelson for running home and bringing more supplies, hopefully no one went home hungry! And a big thank you to Ben and Cheyenne Johnson for quickly handling the kitchen sink leak cleanup during the meeting. Let's pray that it will be a simple repair.

January was an active month. On the 11th, we hosted our bread fellowship and welcomed 40 guests. The bread we sampled was delicious! I'm interested in organizing more events like this—feel free to share any suggestions.

We had the privilege of participating in the baptism of Chloe on the 18th and served approximately 38 guests. This brings the total number of individuals we shared food and fellowship within January to approximately 185 people! Looking forward to February, we have 2 more baptisms, which of course means cake. So don't start your 2026 diet just yet!

Reminder: I am working on plans for a craft fair/sale at SPLC in May. Please send me your suggestions—any advice is welcome as this is my first time organizing! Volunteers are needed to assist with setting up the day prior to the event as well as with post-event cleanup. Those who want to sell and who volunteer to set up will have the advantage of being able to set up their booths the day before! What a perk! I will share more details as planning progresses.

May God's love and peace be with you,

JJ
