Soup Trends

BRING THE HEAT

Sweet heat is sticking around as spicy elements added to classics give consumers a complex heat experience. Diners are also looking to define the origin of the heat. Identify your ingredients with menu terms like "Carrot Habanero Soup"

CRAZY FOR CURRY

Indian curry varieties are expected to get more attention this year in soups, stews, sauces and marinades. The spice blend offers adventure and flavor exploration, allowing consumers to travel with their taste buds.

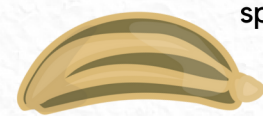

CARIBBEAN-INSPIRED NOTES

Caribbean street food is heating up across the country. Tropical and imaginative flavors that can take consumers on a journey will trend well. Popular Caribbean flavors for soups and seasonings include coconut, jerk spice, sweet potato and pineapple to enhance savory dishes.

CREATIVE GARNISHES

Innovative and creative garnishes have become a way to elevate the presentation and taste of soups, making them more visually appealing and flavorful. Think savory granola, dried seaweed, citrus zest, or thinly sliced spiced nuts..
