PREFACE

Many friends and colleagues, both past and present, have diligently chronicled the lineage of the Blair family and have contributed uniquely to both the factual record and traditional folklore of our remote ancestors. Without question, such cumulative research allows more precise identification of our distant progenitors and more inclusive affiliation with our global kindred. Appropriately, individual recognition is accorded to Fredrick Eugene Blair and James Garner, quintessential genealogists who initially traced our Blair lineage in colonial America as part of the Scotch-Irish migration preceding the Revolutionary War, and subsequently broadened our knowledge of those who migrated in the early 1800s from the Blue Ridge Foothills of North Carolina to the Cumberland Foothills of Kentucky.

In addition to numerous civil records from conventional genealogical resources, this volume integrates relevant ancestral charts, colonial-era maps, and pertinent historical observations to authenticate our understanding of each primary family group. At the same time, though not necessarily representative of our own Blair ancestors, the two emblematic "Arms" on pp. 11 and 43 are commonly viewed as modern-day variants of the Scottish Blair de Blair of Ayrshire Coat of Arms, and are portrayed here solely as visual expedients to our distant Scotch-Irish heritage.

This compilation further appends the collective record of our Blair family, but clearly contains the inevitable omissions and oversights that escalate with each succeeding generation. For that reason, and because our extended family is now geographically diverse and more difficult to trace, the descendants of James and Nancy Day Blair named in this chronology are limited to the first six generations.

Finally, presented as a unifying epilogue to prior, accumulative research, this chronological record includes the known facts and credible assumptions that have made my understanding of our ancestral heritage more satisfying and personal. Hopefully, by some small measure, this review of the Blair kindred may broaden our knowledge of recent family history, and foster additional research that may further resolve our distant heritage. To be sure, when we respectfully acknowledge the lives and contributions of our predecessors, we not only validate our distant past but also assure our continuity with present and future generations. To that end, this compilation pays homage to our many ancestors who faithfully embodied the pioneer spirit, and forever consigns our memories of them to posterity.

This generation chart illustrates the many direct and collateral relationships defined for those who share common ancestry. Below and to the right of the "common ancestor" are any two children of that predecessor, with later descendants listed sequentially. Follow appropriate blocks down and across to determine your relationship to any descendant who shares your "common ancestor."

COLBERT BLAIR I

- Born 1730, possibly in Bucks Co., PA
- Married Sarah Morgan before 1750. Probably, Sarah's parents were John Morgan & Sarah Lloyd who removed from Bucks Co., PA in 1741/42 and likely traveled the Great Wagon Road from Philadelphia on their way to the Quaker community near Winchester in Frederick Co., VA (maps, pp. 13-14). Orphaned five years later (1747), Sarah Morgan married Colbert Blair by 1749, possibly in Frederick Co., VA.

  Sarah Morgan (Colbert's wife) possibly was a first-cousin of Daniel Boone, the son of Squire and Sarah Morgan Boone. Also, Sarah possibly was a first-cousin of Leah Morgan (W/O William Scholl) whose son Joseph later married Levina Boone, the daughter of Daniel Boone.
- Migrated by the early 1770s from the Virginia frontier to Rowan Co., NC (which was established from Anson County in 1753). Settled 1770-1775 on Choate's Creek, about two miles south of his brother James on Blair's Fork of Lower Creek — in the area of Rowan County that became Burke County in 1777 and Caldwell County in 1841 (see maps, pp. 13-18 & 31).
- Though never charged with Toryism, as a Loyalist he identified politically with the British during the Rev. War. †
- Died c.1805 in Burke County, NC
- Buried at the Cedar Valley Methodist Cemetery in Caldwell Co., NC (p. 7)
- Six proposed children (see also pp. 4-5)

JAMES BLAIR II

- Possibly born in Bucks Co., PA
- Married Ann Hayes before 1760. Ann was the daughter of George and Sarah Dyer Hayes, and later the stepdaughter of James Edmiston/Edmisten, all from Augusta Co., VA. James Edmisten was the father of William who later married Margaret Sudderth Blair, after her first husband (?James) Blair died 7 Oct 1780 at the Battle of Kings Mountain during the Rev. War (see pp. 4, 16, 18 & 20).
- Sold his land on the Pedlar River in Amherst Co., VA in 1767 and likely traveled on the Great Wagon Road to the Carolina frontier. James preceded his brother Colbert to Rowan Co., NC and settled just north of the Catawba River, on a small stream that became known as the Blair's Fork of Lower Creek (see map, p. 18).
- Died intestate 1783 in Burke Co., NC. On 22 Oct 1783, his widow secured a letter of administration for his estate and her brother, Thomas Hayes, was named as one of her securities. In the estate administration records, George Blair was cited as the "eldest son" of James Blair II. Although not named in the administration records, James Blair III likely was a son based on his affiliation with George and Ann Blair (children of widow Ann Hayes Blair), who later accompanied him to South Carolina after the Revolutionary War.
- Three proposed children (see also p. 8); probably there were other children but, for now, their names remain unknown.

JAMES BLAIR I

- James Blair I, traditionally regarded as the father of brothers Colbert I & James Blair II, was born at the turn of the eighteenth century, very likely in the Ulster Province in the North of Ireland. He married prior to 1730 and possibly traveled with the Presbyterian Ulster-Scots in 1725-29 on one of their voyages to Pennsylvania, where family lore suggests he lived in Bucks County. By long-standing custom, his spouse, also likely born in the United Kingdom, has been identified as Mary Colbert, but this proposed association is based on oral family tradition and is not yet corroborated by extant civil records.
- A James Blair who lived in Guilford County, NC during the early 1770s has been long regarded as a plausible patriarch of our Blair family. A farmer and miller, he was 70 years old when his will, written 5 Mar 1776 and later probated in May of 1776, identified his minor children as John and Agnes. This James 'Blear' died 11 Mar 1776 and rests at the Alamance Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Guilford County. In the same county, in November of 1796, the will of Mary McConnell identified her daughter (Mary Blair) as the wife of 'James Blayr' and also referred to her granddaughter, Agnes, as a 'daughter of James Blayr.' These civil records confirm James and Mary Blayr (Blair) of Guilford County were the parents of John and Agnes Blair. To further identify this James Blair of Guilford County as the possible progenitor of Colbert I and James II would presuppose an earlier marriage, perhaps to the Mary Colbert of family tradition. However, the presumption of this marriage is not substantiated by extant civil documents, family records, or traditional kindred associations.
- As part of the ascendant Scotch-Irish migration from Pennsylvania to the Virginia frontier in the mid-1700s, our Blair ancestors settled in Augusta Co., VA before 1761 and then acquired property in neighboring Amherst Co., VA by the mid-1760s (pp. 6 and 14). On 10 July 1766, in Amherst County, VA, Colbert and James Blair received patents for 320 acres of land along the south branch of the middle fork of the Pedlar River, a tributary of the James River. One year later, on 3 Aug 1767, Colbert sold his 154-acre parcel to William Powers of Augusta Co., VA. Moreover, James, having previously arranged for his impending move to Carolina by giving power of attorney to Benjamin Higginbotham, conveyed his 166-acre patent to Alex Bagg(e)s of Augusta Co., VA on 7 Sep 1767. Although Colbert lingered in Virginia through 1770, he migrated by 1775 to Rowan Co., NC and joined his brother James, who had preceded him in 1767.

† After the Battle of Kings Mountain (Oct. 7, 1780), the journal of Lt. Anthony Allaire (an officer in Col. Ferguson's British Corps) attests Colbert Blair aided a small unit of British troops on patrol in Burke County, NC during the weekend of Nov. 11-12, 1780: "We marched thirty miles and arrived at Colbert Blair's just at daybreak. … This good man secreted us in his fodder house and gave us the best his house afforded" (Draper, DD4, p. 85ee). Purportedly, Colbert's son (?James) died the preceding month while allying with the Tory forces entrenched at Kings Mountain.

✞ In his pension statement, James Blair III recounted his patriotic military service during the Revolutionary War — on one occasion, as the over-mountain men passed near Morganton on their way to Kings Mountain, they camped at Quaker Meadows and joined Charles McDowell, who then dispatched James Blair on an express ride to Colonel Lenoir at Fort Defiance, to hasten the mustering of local patriots. On this trip, James "was fired upon by some Tories, and was wounded in the shoulder; he continued on the express to Col. Lenoir, and on his way back, finding that he could not get back to his old company, he joined Gen. Cleveland who was on his way to the Battle of Kings Mountain …" (Draper Manuscripts, King's Mountain Papers, DD2, pp. 214-223).

In the 1790 census, William & Margaret Sudderth Blair Edmisten were enumerated with the 5th company militia of Burke Co., NC, where they lived on the headwaters of Mulberry Creek. At that time James Blair was about nine years old when enumerated, along with his younger half-brother Robert, as one of the two males under age 16 in the household of William Edmisten. James married Nancy Day c.1799 and migrated by 1814 to Cumberland Co., KY and by 1817 to that section of Adair Co., KY that became part and parcel of Russell County in 1826. They settled on the Reynolds Creek tributary of Russell Creek and raised thirteen known children (pp. 43-417).

Children

ENOS BLAIR I

- Born 6 Jul 1750, likely in VA (poss. in Frederick County)
- As the first child, Enos' birth in 1750 indicates Colbert Blair and Sarah Morgan were married by the autumn of 1749. Extant records suggest Sarah's parents were John and Sarah Lloyd Morgan who, as Quakers and members of the Qwynedd Monthly Meeting (MM) in Bucks Co., PA, were granted certificates in 1741/42 for their impending transfer to the Hopewell MM (p. 14) in Frederick Co., VA. Five years later, in 1747, John Morgan died in Frederick County, and possibly it was here where his daughter Sarah married Colbert Blair. Although Sarah likely was Quaker by birthright, there are no extant records of the Hopewell Monthly Meeting to confirm a Quaker marriage, nor were there any Quaker congregations where they later settled. Colbert probably was of Presbyterian heritage, as were most early descendants of the Ulster-Scots, but ensuing civil records (see John Blair, p. 5) imply Colbert & Sarah became Methodists in later years. Nonetheless, soon after marriage, they migrated to Augusta Co., VA, presumably during the 1750s but no later than the birth of Colbert's nephew, James Blair III, in March of 1761. Subsequently, on 10 July 1766, Colbert purchased a 154-acre plat along the Pedlar River in neighboring Amherst Co., VA (p. 6).

  "for and in Consideration of the sum Fifteen Shillings of good and lawful money for our use paid to our Receiver General of our Revenues in this our Colony and Dominion of Virginia We have given granted and confirmed and by these presents for Us our Heirs and Successors Do Give Grant and Confirm unto Colbord Blair one certain Tract or Parcel of Land containing one hundred and fifty four acres lying and being in the County of Amherst on both sides the South branch of the middle fork of Pedlar River" (Virginia Land Office Patents, 1764-67, No. 36, p. 938).

  Apparently, this land along the Pedlar River did not fulfill initial expectations since, on 3 Aug 1767, Colbert & Sarah sold their 154-acre plat to Walter Powers of Augusta Co., VA (Amherst Co. Deeds, B:201), and by 11 Apr 1770 they were in Bordens Land Grant (p. 14) of Augusta Co., VA (Chalkley Chronicles, III:510). Subsequently, this family joined James II and Ann Hayes Blair along Lower Creek in Rowan Co., NC, where the first record of Colbert Blair refers to his appointment to a road jury on 11 Feb 1775 (Minutes of the Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions 4:65).
- Married Hannah Millikan 10 May 1775 Guilford Co., NC

  Hannah, born 1756 in Chester Co., PA, was the D/O William Millikan (b. ca. 1720 Ireland) and Jane White (ca. 1720-1758). Hannah died 14 Jan 1852 in Randolph Co., NC and was buried near Enos at Springfield Cem.
- Lived near the Archdale community in northwest Randolph Co., NC, where he died 12 May 1834; buried just across the county line in Guilford County, at the cemetery attending the Quaker congregation at Springfield Friends Monthly Meeting.
- The gravestone of Enos Blair I honors 12 children called the "Twelve Tribes," but likely there were 13 issue since two children named 'Hannah' died young. (See also p. 7).

MARY BLAIR

- Born circa 1751-1755, likely in Augusta Co., VA
- Married Moses Guest II in 1772 Rowan Co., NC

  Moses, born 1 Jan 1750 in Prince William Co., VA, was S/O William Sr. (b. 1720-30/d. 1790-1800) & Susannah Guest. He lived on Mill Creek near Fort Defiance, NC (see map, p. 18), and was a captain of the horse cavalry at the battle of Kings Mountain during the Revolutionary War. Moses died 1 Oct 1837 in Franklin Co., GA.
- Died 1827 Franklin Co., GA (see maps, pp. 423-424)
- Fifteen children are enumerated in the Moses Guest Family Bible – copy in the Georgia Archives in Atlanta, GA. The fourteen children of Moses and Mary Blair Guest are shown at right. Not long after Mary died, Moses was 79 years old when he married Eleandor York, and 80 when he became father to the last of his fifteen issue – Joseph Flint Guest.

?JAMES (the Loyalist) BLAIR

- Possibly, his first name was James, with his son named in his posthumous honor (see 1908 Blair Reunion below), but Allan Poe suggests the name Morgan is equally plausible.
- Born circa 1756-60, likely in Augusta Co., VA
- Married Margaret Sudderth c.1779 Burke Co., NC

  Margaret (b. 1759) was D/O William Sudderth who came from Albermarle Co., VA to Burke Co., NC by 1778/79, and established residence on Blair's Fork of Lower Creek. After her husband's untimely death, and birth of her first child (?James), Margaret Sudderth Blair married by 1782 to William Edmisten (younger half-brother of Ann Hayes Blair, the wife of James Blair II) and became mother to six daughters and eight additional sons. The Edmisten family resided in Burke County, NC until 1841, then relocated to Wilkesboro, NC where the elder William died on 21 Oct 1847. The descendants of this family have used a number of variant spellings for their surname, including: Edmison, Edmisten, Edmiston, Edmonson, Edmoundson, Edmunson, and Edmundson. Though not descendants of Colbert and Sarah Morgan Blair, as half-siblings of James Blair, Sr. of Russell County, KY the fourteen children of William & Margaret Sudderth Blair Edmisten are shown at right.
- Purportedly died 7 Oct 1780 in Loyalist service during the Rev. War at the Battle of Kings Mountain (p. 16). The first known commentary on his death stems from the collective reminiscences of those at the Blair Reunion (10 Oct 1908) in Springfield, NC. The proceedings of this reunion were published in The Quaker Yeoman and The American Friend, including the following short quote: "Of the sons of Colbert Blair, Sr., James was killed in a battle of the Revolution..."
- His only child, James Blair, Sr. of Russell County, KY, was born 1780/81 (likely posthumously). The parental assignment of this son to (?James) Blair & Margaret Sudderth is based on the probated will of Margaret's brother Emmanuel Sudderth who, at his death in 1795 in Fluvanna Co., VA, bequeathed part of his estate to "James Blair my sister Margaret's son."

ISABEL BLAIR

- Born 13 Dec 1761 Augusta Co., VA; date is from pension application of her husband on 7 Jan 1833 in Adair Co., KY.
- Some have suggested Isabel possibly was the daughter of James Blair II, but birth dates for potential siblings prove contradictory with this scenario. Conversely, ascribing her parentage to Colbert resolves the potential conflict between her birth on 13 Dec 1761 and the birth of James Blair III (likely a S/O James II) on 3 Mar 1761. Even so, others have proposed for Isabel a birth year prior to 1761, based on her "stated" age of 97 on her land-bounty application of 15 May 1855 in Henderson Co., TN. However, on her pension application of 22 Sep 1853, her declared age was 93. Possibly, this discrepancy was little more than an error of transcription by the Justices of the Peace who prepared the corresponding declarations or, perhaps, a miscalculation by Isabel due to confusion associated with her advanced age.
- Married (pensioner) John Grider in 1781 Burke Co., NC

  John, born 11 Jul 1755 in MD, probably was the son of Frederick Grider I who, prior to the Revolutionary War, established residence near Lower Creek in Rowan Co., NC, where he coordinated the construction of Fort Grider. Possibly, this elder Frederick was the Fredrick Grieder (b. circa 1715), who emigrated from Rünenberg, in the Canton of Basel, Switzerland and sailed to Pennsylvania from Holland in 1736, and later migrated to Carolina. John Grider served in the Rev. War in 1778 (#W358).
- Isabel & John moved in 1811 from Burke Co., NC to Adair Co., KY — and in 1836 to Henderson Co., TN where John died on 3 Oct 1838 and Isabel 15 May 1855. Both rest at the Grider Family Cem., Henderson Co., TN (see Isabel, p. 7).
- Twelve known children

JOHN BLAIR

- Born 6 Jul 1764 in Augusta Co., VA
- Raised with his brothers and sisters along the Lower Creek watershed of the Catawba River in Burke Co., NC, where the family of Colbert Blair I settled on the Choate's Creek tributary in the early 1770s (map, p. 18). After Colbert I sold his 473-acre farm in 1789, he and John moved further up Lower Creek, to property purchased from Nicholas Day. Thereafter, John (1799) and Colbert (1800) acquired land in Cedar Valley, where they established their final homesteads. Though Colbert I died circa 1805, John lived more than 40 years at his home along the headwaters of the Upper Little River. Prior to 1792, he served in Burke County, NC as a Justice of the Peace and, several years later, as a Caldwell County commissioner. In 1841 his home became part of Caldwell County – where his will was written 14 Feb 1844 and subsequently probated in April of 1846 (see John, p. 7).
- Married Frances Hill c.1782 in Randolph Co., NC

  Frances, b. 14 Jan 1768, was D/O Thomas & Elizabeth Hill of Randolph Co., NC. Frances died 7 Dec 1853 and was buried near John at the Blair Family Cemetery, now Cedar Valley Methodist Church Cem., Caldwell Co., NC.
- Died 25 Feb 1846 Cedar Valley, Caldwell Co., NC
- Buried Cedar Valley Methodist Cem., Caldwell Co., NC

  After Samuel Lowery died in 1797, his two sons (Squire & John) settled the estate and sold property to John Blair (300 acres on 5 Mar 1799) and Colbert Blair (218 acres on 18 Jan 1800), reserving one acre for a cemetery and arbor. In 1803 Colbert Blair I deeded land to James Blair (likely his grandson, James V), reserving one acre near the cemetery for a building which would shelter a school and church. Blair's School and Church served the Cedar Valley community until shortly after the Civil War when a new church, Cedar Valley Methodist Episcopal Church South, was dedicated in 1868. Later destroyed by fire in 1905, this church was replaced the following year by the Cedar Valley Methodist Church.
- Thirteen known children

COLBERT BLAIR II

- Born ca. 1774; date is based on birth date of first child and on censuses of 1790 & 1800, but place of birth is uncertain.

  Colbert I and Sarah Morgan Blair sold their 154-acre plat in Amherst Co., VA on 3 Aug 1767 to Walter Powers of Augusta Co., VA (Amherst Co. Wills, B:201). Three years later (11 Apr 1770), Colbert I witnessed a land transaction in the 925,000-acre Bordens Land Grant (page 14), in that part of Augusta Co., VA that became Rockbridge County in 1778 (Chalkley Chronicles, III:510, with reference to Augusta County Deed Book XVII:275). Soon thereafter, this family migrated to Rowan Co., NC, where the first extant record of Colbert I confirms his appointment to a road jury on 11 Feb 1775 (Minutes of the Court of Pleas & Quarter Sessions, Rowan County, North Carolina 4:65; from LDS microfilm #0313776). In this record, Galbraith Blair and others were authorized to establish a road from "Morrison's Mill across the Three Little Rivers, Three Creeks to the Lime Kilns on Cattaba River." However, since a "Galbraith" Blair was not cited in other records of this era, many believe this name represents an error by the court clerk and should be read as Colvard/Colvarth Blair.

  The birth of Colbert Blair II was during this transitional period (1770-1775) when Colbert I & Sarah Morgan Blair joined James II & Ann Hayes Blair along Lower Creek on the Catawba frontier of western North Carolina.
- Married before 1795 in Burke Co., NC to Jane Murray (born early 1770s; died c.1846 in Montgomery Co., IL)
- Migrated about 1810 from NC to Adair Co., KY, where he lived about seven years, then moved about 1817/18 to Illinois (became a state in 1818) and settled in that part of Bond Co. that became Montgomery Co. in 1821 — where he helped organize the Bethel Reg. Baptist Church in 1830.
- Died 29 Aug 1846 Montgomery Co., IL (see map, p. 31)
- Will written 28 Aug 1846 and probated 25 Sep 1846 in Montgomery Co., IL
- Ten known children (four identified left and six right)

Briefly cited in the Draper Manuscripts (DD5, pp. 69-70), this child (older than Argin below) married George Isaacks of GA [S/O Colonel Elijah Isaacks] — Issue: Elijah Isaacks

Genealogist Allan Poe disputes the designation of this child as a daughter of James Blair III, and asserts she more likely was a daughter of George Blair (S/O James Blair II), based on the close alliance of George with the Issacks family when moving to Bedford Co., TN in 1807. Even so, she is enumerated here as a child of James Blair III based on the Draper Manuscripts.

Children

GEORGE BLAIR

- As the eldest son of James II and Ann Hayes Blair, George likely was born before 1760 in Augusta Co., VA, and was a young child when his family traveled just east of the Blue Ridge Mountains to the Pedlar River of Amherst Co., VA, where James II purchased a 166-acre plat on 10 Jul 1766.

"for and in Consideration of the sum Twenty Shillings of good and lawful money for our use paid to our Receiver General of our Revenues in this our Colony and Dominion of Virginia We have given granted and confirmed and by these presents for us our Heirs and Successors Do Give Grant and Confirm unto James Colbord Blair one certain Tract or Parcel of Land containing one hundred and sixty six acres lying and being in the County of Amherst on both sides the South Branch of the Middle Fork of Pedlar River" (Virginia Land Office Patents, 1764-67, No. 36, p. 937).

In this land patent, and in Amherst County Deed Book B: pp. 201, 216 & 249, the "middle" name Colbord (Colbert) is of uncertain significance. Although some have premised James "Colbert" Blair was the father of the Colbert Blair who married Sarah Morgan, others (i.e. Allan Poe) have suggested the middle name Colbord/Colbert, as imputed to James, possibly was an error by the surveyor or patent office clerk. Nonetheless, it seems logical that we link, and identify as brothers, the James Blair & Colbert Blair who migrated together through the Valley of Virginia on a journey that led, at last, to the North Carolina frontier.

- Soon dissatisfied in Amherst Co., VA, and in preparation for his relocation to the Carolina Province, on 16 Oct 1766 James Blair II granted Benjamin Higginbotham the power of attorney to sell his transitional property on the Pedlar River. The following year, 7 Sep 1767, the title to this 166-acre patent was conveyed to Alex Bagg(e)s of Augusta Co., VA (Amherst Co. Deeds, B:249), and the family of James II & Ann Blair settled along Lower Creek in Rowan Co., NC.
- Extant records indicate George's mother (Ann Hayes Blair) was a daughter of George Hayes & Sarah Dyer of Augusta Co., VA. After George Hayes died, Sarah married James Edmiston/Edmisten of Augusta Co. and Amherst Co., VA. James was the father of William Edmisten who settled along Mulberry Creek in Burke Co., NC and married the widow Margaret Sudderth Blair c.1781/82, after her first husband (?James) Blair died at the Battle of Kings Mountain in 1780.
- Married circa 1789 in Burke Co., NC to Mary Mallory (orphaned daughter of William Mallory & Dorothy Baker).
- Moved to Pendleton, SC by the federal census of 1790, then migrated to Bedford Co., TN in 1807. George died before the tax enumeration of 1829 in Lincoln Co., TN.
- Nine known children: William, Alfred, Anna, Isabella, Elizabeth, Abner, Dorothy, Permelia, Nancy

JAMES (the Patriot) BLAIR III

- Born 6 Mar 1761 in Augusta Co., VA — date of birth is from Franklin County records catalogued in the Georgia State Archives in Atlanta. In the family bible of his son Powell, the date of his birth is inscribed as 6 Mar 1763. However, if born in 1763, James was barely seventeen years old when he participated in several Revolutionary War skirmishes during the summer and fall of 1780.
- Fought alongside the Patriots at the Revolutionary War Battles of Pacolet River, Sumters Defeat, Cane Creek, Kings Mountain, Blackstocks, and the Siege of Augusta. Additionally, he served as an Orderly Sergeant, Ensign, and Courier, and was wounded while on an express ride to Fort Defiance prior to the Battle of Kings Mountain.

"He was sent by General McDowell with an express in company with two others to Col. Lenoir, but before he reached the Col. — he was fired upon by some Tories, and was wounded in the shoulder; he continued on the express to Colonel Lenoir, and on his way back, finding that he could not get back to his old company, he joined General Cleveland who was on his way to the Battle of Kings Mountain, and was placed under the command of Captain Barton. He then went on in said Company and was in the Battle of Kings Mountain; from there he was sent as one of the Guard with the prisoners to Moravian Town (Bethabara in Moravian Wachovia, see page 14), when he was discharged." (from Draper Manuscripts, King's Mountain Papers, DD2, pp. 214-223).

- Married circa 1782 Burke Co., NC to Elizabeth Powell

Born 16 Apr 1765 in Orange Co., NC, Elizabeth was a daughter of John Powell & Mary O'Neal. She died on 26 Mar 1839 in Pickens Co., AL and was buried there in a marked grave at Mt. Moriah Cem. in McShan, AL.

- Migrated by the federal census of 1790 to Pendleton, SC. Interestingly, in South Carolina, canvassing of residents for the 1790 federal census extended into 1791 (p. 423).
- Migrated to northern Georgia during the early 1800s and settled in Franklin County (organized 1784), where he was a surveyor and Indian negotiator, and also a State Legislator from 1810 to 1818. Later, 1826-1830, he became a State Legislator in Habersham County, which was organized from Franklin County and adjacent Indian Lands in 1818. Purportedly, Blairsville in present day Union County, GA was named in his honor (see maps, pp. 17, 31 & 424).
- James III and Elizabeth moved in 1838 to Pickens Co., AL. Shortly after Elizabeth' death, James died on 31 Mar 1839, purportedly while returning to Georgia. Possibly, he was interred at the site of death in an unmarked Georgia grave.
- Twelve proposed children - five left and seven right

ANN BLAIR

- Born 1769 Rowan Co., NC; died by 1793 Pendleton, SC
- Married circa 1789 in Burke Co., NC to Charles Baker (S/O Dorothy Davenport Mallory, and the uncle of Mary Mallory who married Ann Blair's brother, George Blair).
- Migrated to Pendleton, SC by the federal census of 1790
- One known child: Martha 'Patsy' Baker (d. 17 Feb 1844 Gwinnett Co., GA), m. William Gordon — Issue: Hugh, Jarrett, William Thompson, and Belle Gordon

BLAIR HERALDRY

– HISTORY OF THE EARLY BLAIRS OF THE SCOTTISH LOWLANDS –

Heraldry (the granting of Coats of Arms and the art of tracing genealogies) began in Western Europe around AD 1150 when the general populace, though often illiterate, could easily recognize a bold, eye-catching design. These colorful patterns were first portrayed on battle shields in medieval times as a means of identification among knights during face-to-face combat, and later were woven into cloth surcoats known as Coats of Arms which were worn over the suit of armor. The term Heraldry has become synonymous with the study Arms because, at medieval jousting tournaments, the "herald" announced the appearance of each knight by sounding the trumpet, then publicly proclaimed the many victories achieved by the knight and, accordingly, conferred status to the name associated with each Coat of Arms. In this manner, the surnames of many Western Europeans gained honor among the gentry of that era, and were held in high esteem by those of succeeding generations who inherited the distinguished family names.

The Blair surname most likely originated from a medieval Western European naming custom which assigned last names based on one's homesite. The first to assume the Blair surname probably was an immigrant of Norman (Old French) descent who journeyed northward to the Lowlands of Scotland and settled along one of the local Blars, a Gaelic term which denoted "a plain clear of woods." The Celtic clans of this era used such accessible "plains" for warfare, and in due course "Blar" signified a field of battle.† One of the first records of the Blair surname in Scotland is in the Registrorum Abbacie de Aberbrothoc (Registry of the Abbey of Aberbrothoc), which briefly refers to Stephen de Blare as a witness to a charter by Dovenald (Abbe de Brechin to the monastery in the Parish of Arbroath in Forfarshire, AD 1204-1211). In medieval times two dominant Blair families established their homes in the Scottish Lowlands, including (1) those who lived on the east coast in the shires (counties) of Perth, Fife, and Forfar (later Angus), and (2) those who settled on the southwest coast in the shires of Ayr, Renfrew, and Wigtown (see map, p. 12).

The chief seat of the Blairs of the east coast was at Balthayock Castle in Perthshire, near where Alexander de Blair had received lands in Fife(shire) about AD 1214. The principal seat of the Blairs of the southwest coast was at the Barony of Blair in Aryshire, where William de Blair was cited in registers as early as AD 1205. By Parliamentary decree in 1672, the Lord Lyon's Register was organized in Edinburgh to record all verifiable Scottish Arms, including several versions of the Blair Arms. In 1927 a basic variant of the unregistered "Blair de Blair" Arms (from the Blairs of the Barony of Blair in Ayrshire) was adopted for use in America by the Blair Society for Genealogical Research.

The armorial or blazon representing the Blair de Blair of Ayrshire Coat of Arms translates as "Blair, Argent, on a saltire sable, nine mascles of the first, in chief a mullet, in flanques two crescents, in base a garb. Crest on a wreath argent and sable, a stag lodged proper." Literally, this means that "on a silver (argent) field or background is placed a black (sable) cross (saltire) which contains nine diamond-shaped objects (mascles). In the upper third (chief) of the shield is a star (mullet) and on each side (flanques) of the middle third are two crescents. In the bottom third (base) of the shield is a sheaf of grain (garb). The crest above the shield is a stag lying down (lodged proper) on a silver and black wreath." Additionally, the inscription Amo Probos translates as "I love the virtuous."

VARIANT OF BLAIR de BLAIR OF AYRSHIRE COAT OF ARMS

The saltire (X-shaped) cross was one upon which St. Andrew (the apostle and patron saint of Scotland) was crucified circa AD 60, and its representation subsequently was granted to one who proved steadfast in his beliefs. The mascles represented the buckles of the knight's suit of armor, and were symbolic of the girding of both armor and sword in defense of the right. On the crest, the stag in repose signified one who loved peace and harmony. The helmet in profile, with visor closed, was evocative of Esquires and Gentlemen. The mantle (mantling), when present, was assigned the principal color of the Arms and its lining the principal metal. The wreath or torse was a twisted piece of cloth interposed between the helmet and crest, and typically contained six balanced spirals which alternated the color and metal of the Arms.

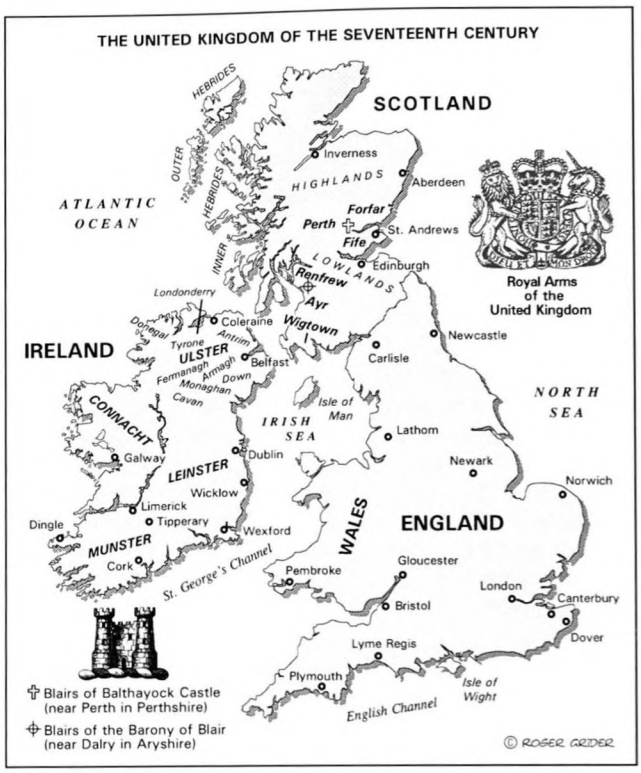

† In the first millennium AD, much of Scotland was ruled by unprogressive Celtic clans or tribes. Although the "Lowlanders" began to embrace a civilized culture by the 12th century, the "Highlanders" retained a clan society and often were deemed "wild tribesmen" well into the 1700s.

THE SEVENTEENTH-CENTURY PLANTATION OF NORTHERN IRELAND

– THE EMERGENCE OF A DOMINANT SCOTS-IRISH POPULACE AND SUBSEQUENT MIGRATION TO AMERICA –

After the relatively unchallenged invasion of Ireland in 1171 by England's King Henry II (1154-1189), the Irish citizenry experienced several centuries of English rule, but often were only superficially compliant with royal dictum. In the latter part of the sixteenth century, during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I (1558-1603), the Crown weathered three major Irish rebellions, the last of which led to England's plantation (colonization) of a community of Lowlander-Scots in the dominions of the insurgent Gaelic lords of Northern Ireland.†

In the third rebellion (1594-1603), or Nine Year War, Hugh O'Neill (the earl of Tyrone), and other Gaelic lords in Northern Ireland's Ulster Province, resisted the intrusion of Queen Elizabeth's royal authority in the Irish dominions, and also believed the only way to effectively counter the continuing incursion of the Protestant Anglican Church into the predominately Catholic Irish communities was to drive Elizabeth's military forces from Irish soil. By 1600 the Irish lords had gained the qualified support of the Papacy and of some 4000 Spanish troops, but by 1602 the rebellion was repressed and O'Neill of Tyrone, the last of the insurgent Ulster lords, finally submitted to English rule a few days after Queen Elizabeth died in March of 1603.

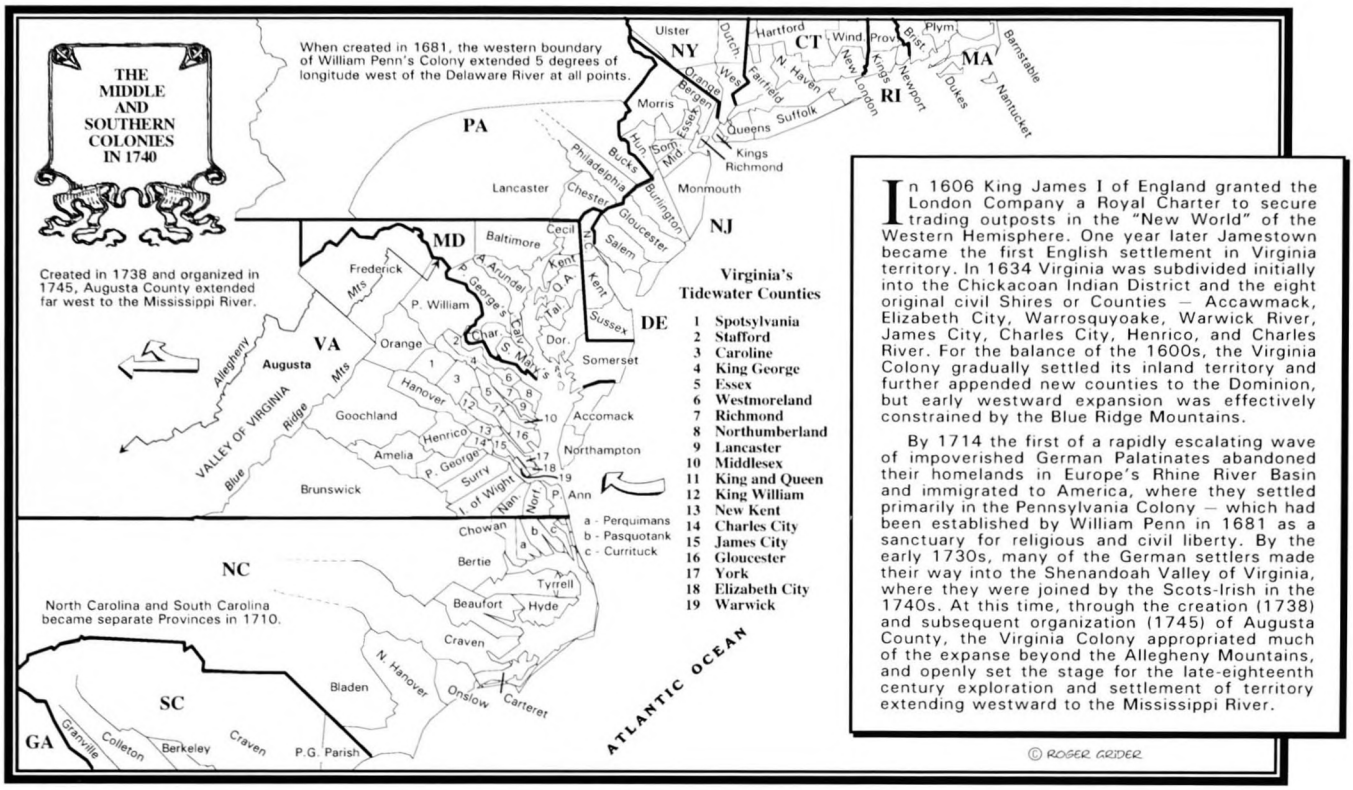

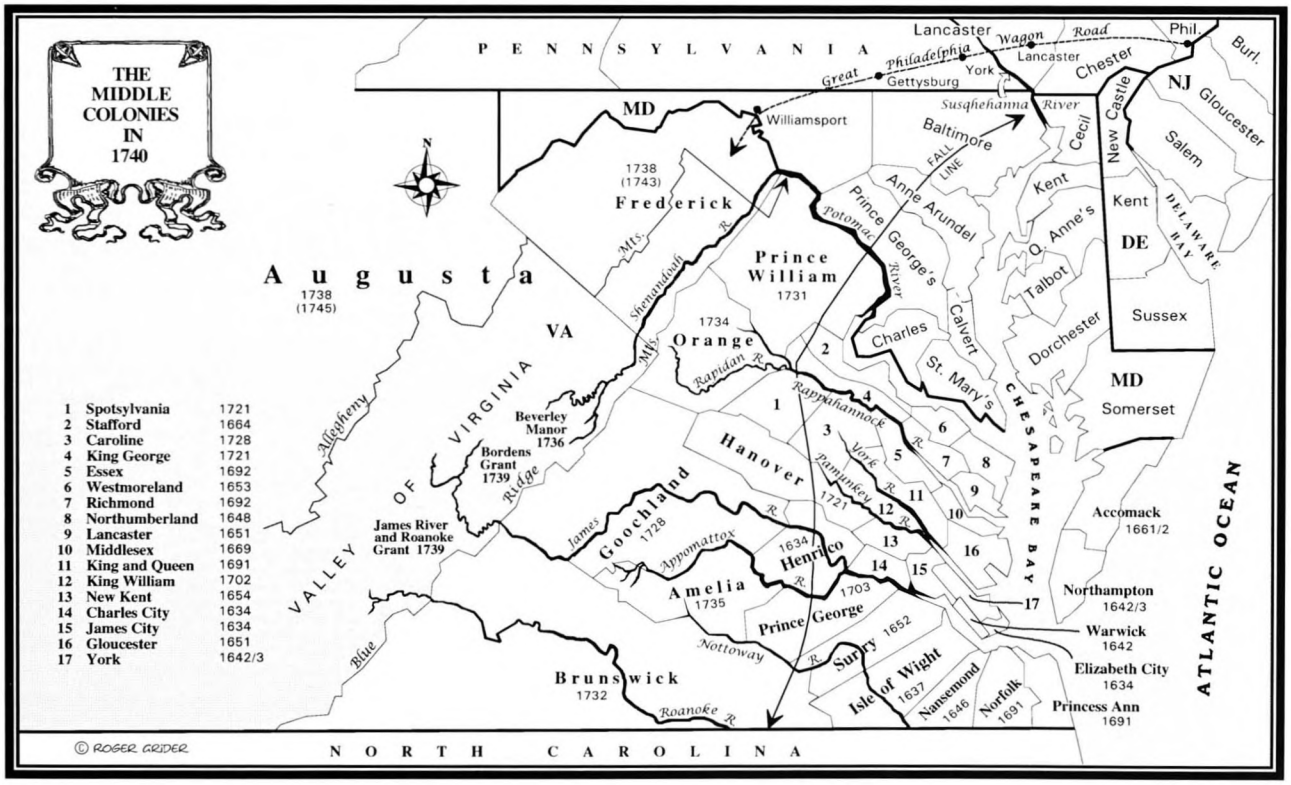

Elizabeth was succeeded by the existing King James VI of Scotland, who then became King James I of England and Ireland (1603-1625). Early in his reign, James I made it clear that he would continue the Elizabethan policies in Ireland that not only favored the economic interests of the English aristocracy but also encouraged the creation of additional Irish Protestant settlements, as organized by the Anglican Protestant Church. Consequently, the exodus of Catholic clerics and members of the Irish military to more receptive countries in continental Europe escalated in the early 1600s. The simultaneous exile of O'Neill and other "disgraced" lords of Northern Ireland opened the way for the English plantation of the Ulster Province with a spate of new Protestant landowners, tenants, and laborers — some of whom were English, but most were Presbyterians from the Scottish Lowlands, including those with the Blair surname.

For the balance of the seventeenth century the community of Scots "planted" in Northern Ireland increased greatly, and soon they were the dominant ethnic and religious group in the Ulster Province. By the early 1700s they were so numerous, and demand for land so great, that farms could be leased only at inflated rates that most found prohibitive. This compounded the problem of general poverty in the area and further alienated the Scots who already felt estranged in an adopted Irish homeland that suppressed their economic options and disallowed the full expression of their Presbyterian faith. In search of affordable land and a better life, by 1717 they began what quickly became a burgeoning migration to America, joining from the Rhineland the many Palatinates who also were fleeing oppressive conditions in their homelands in continental Europe. Although immigrating continuously to the Colonies from 1717 until the American Revolution in 1775, the Ulster-Scots accelerated their exodus from Northern Ireland during five distinct periods of exceptional economic hardship: 1717-18, 1725-29, 1740-41, 1754-55, and 1771-75.

During the migration of 1717-18, the Presbyterian Ulster-Scots could not afford the large plantations of Virginia and the Carolinas, or the leases of the large manors of New York — nor would they support Maryland as a Catholic Colony, or Virginia and the Carolinas as extensions of the Church of England. Consequently, they settled primarily in New England and Pennsylvania, where ownership of small farms was encouraged. By 1725-29 the Ulster-Scots immigrated almost exclusively to Pennsylvania, where they were called the Scots-Irish (Scotch-Irish). By 1740-41 they joined the Germans in Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, and by the migration of 1754-55 they hastened to the expanding western frontier of Virginia and North Carolina. By 1771-75 the Scotch-Irish no longer arrived in America through the Delaware River ports of Pennsylvania but, rather, sailed directly to ports near their final destination (see maps, pp. 13, 14 & 15).

† The plantation of Ireland in the 16th & 17th centuries stemmed from England's disdain for the defiant Irish Catholics. Accordingly, England seized the estates of wealthy Irish lords and populated those lands with English and Scottish Protestant immigrants who supported the Crown.

From colonial Philadelphia the Great Wagon Road first extended westward past Lancaster and the Susquehanna River by the 1720s, then pushed quickly through York and Gettysburg to Williamsport, Maryland by the 1730s (p. 13). From there the Trail passed south into the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia and reached Looney's Ferry on the James River by the 1740s. Near the site of present-day Roanoke the Path turned east through the Staunton River Gap of the Blue Ridge Mountains, and then south to reach the Piedmont of North Carolina by the early 1750s.

In 1754 the continuing incursion of colonists into the established hunting grounds of Native Americans in western Pennsylvania and Virginia culminated in the French and Indian War. The steadfast colonists built safeguarding forts along the troubled frontier, but many settlers withdrew to safety in the coastal regions or hastened to western North Carolina where the local Cherokee Uprising did not begin in earnest until 1756. For want of safe passage, the migration of settlers through the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia was effectively delayed for nearly a decade, but was much less encumbered in North Carolina where the Roadway stretched to Salisbury by 1760. After final closure of the Cherokee Uprising in 1761, the Great Road unfolded to the Pine Tree Creek settlements of South Carolina, then turned southwest to Augusta, Georgia along the Creek-Indian frontier (see p. 17).

TRANSMIGRATION TO THE AMERICAN SOUTHERN COLONIES

– THE GERMANS AND SCOTCH-IRISH OF PENNSYLVANIA MIGRATE TO THE WESTERN BORDERLANDS –

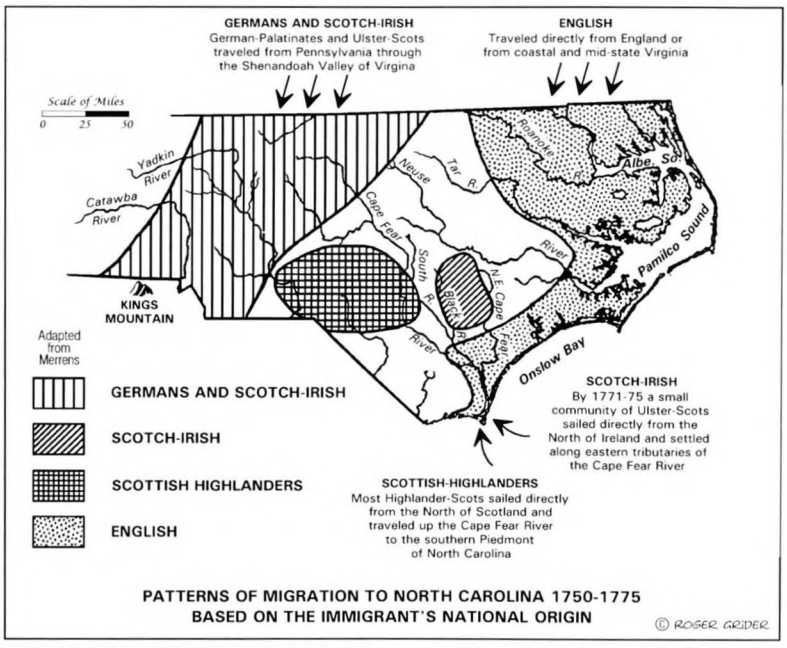

After Jamestown was established as the first Virginia settlement in 1607 most of the early European immigrants who sailed to America during the 1600s were of English extraction. By 1710 the initial consignment of emigrants from the German Palatinate settled in the Middle colonies, primarily in Pennsylvania. Here the Germans, and other Palatinate settlers from the European Rhineland, found easy access to tillable land and religious tolerance no longer available in their homeland.† By 1717 they were joined by the Scotch-Irish who likewise fled their homeland in Northern Ireland to escape the religious, political, and economic strictures that plagued the Ulster Province during the early eighteenth century.

After arriving in the Middle colonies many European immigrants remained there a relatively short time before migrating south to the fertile inland territory of Virginia. This was especially true for the flourishing German-Palatinates and Scotch-Irish, who moved in escalating numbers from Pennsylvania into Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, where they settled between the Blue Ridge and Allegheny Mountains (map, p. 14).

In 1700 the total population of Virginia was approximately 79,000, but by 1756 had increased to about 293,000 — including both white plantation owners and the black slave populace initially brought to Jamestown in 1619 as indentured servants. Although coastal and mid-state populations were escalating rapidly, pioneer settlement of the western territory of Virginia was slowed both by hostile Indian resistance and by the physically demanding terrain which the Indians called "Wasioto," later named the Cumberland Mountains by explorer Thomas Walker. Despite these hardships, by 1750 the wilderness of Virginia had become of burgeoning interest to hunters for its rich supply of game, and to colonial land-grant companies for its lucrative potential as farm land for settlers who were primarily of German and Scotch-Irish descent.

After migrating to Virginia many new arrivals promptly established permanent roots for their families and succeeding generations, but others continued their trek further south through the Shenandoah Valley, along what became the "Great Wagon Road" to the South, and settled in the Appalachian foothills and Piedmont of North Carolina (see map, p. 14). During the early eighteenth century, western North Carolina was inhabited primarily by the Cherokee Indians, but, in due course, the colonial hunters and trappers were lured to the hills and streams that literally teemed with game. By the time Rowan County was created in 1753 many from Virginia and the nearby Middle colonies already had learned of the bountiful game and mesmeric scenery that had captivated the early hunters and explorers. During the ensuing twenty years that predated the Revolutionary War the Appalachian foothills of North Carolina became a haven for those who had grown weary of the expanding influence of the British military in the colonial communities to the East. It was during this compelling era in colonial history when James Blair I (probably a Presbyterian Ulster-Scot from the North of Ireland) fostered two sons, Colbert and James II, who migrated by the 1760s (possibly from Bucks Co., PA) to Augusta County along Virginia's inland domain, then relocated by the early 1770s to Rowan County (later Burke County) along North Carolina's western frontier (map, p. 17).

In the wake of escalating emigration from western Europe and transmigration from contiguous colonies, the population of North Carolina grew rapidly during the mid-eighteenth century, doubling from about 35,000 settlers in 1730 to 70,000 inhabitants by 1750, and then increasing to about 180,000 total residents by 1770. Although the state was open to settlers of contrasting religions, languages, and nationalities, there were relatively distinct geographic regions where immigrants of certain national origins tended to cluster during the quarter-century (1750-1775) immediately preceding the Revolutionary War. Such geographic kinship among the immigrants of similar national origin was also true for those of the Blair scion who accompanied the wave of Scotch-Irish (Ulster-Scot) settlers who migrated from Pennsylvania, through Virginia, into the fertile western frontier of North Carolina.

† Increasingly compromised by religious intolerance, heavy taxation, and unending warfare during the early 1700s, disgruntled emigrants from the Rhenish Palatinate, and from adjoining Provinces along the Rhine River in central Europe, made their way to the American Middle Colonies.

Prior to 1775, the English immigrants in North Carolina arrived directly at coastal ports, or traveled overland from the coastal and mid-state regions of Virginia, and generally remained along the eastern portion of the state. Most German and Scotch-Irish settlers initially left their European homelands and immigrated to Pennsylvania, before making their way through the Shenandoah Valley to the western frontier of Virginia and North Carolina. Conversely, prior to the American Revolution, almost all of the Highlander-Scots in North Carolina sailed directly from northern Scotland to the southern ports of the state, then traveled up the Cape Fear River to the southern Piedmont, primarily to Cumberland and eastern Anson Counties. Before long, the geographic distribution and political allegiance of these early Carolina settlers dramatically impacted the spirit and course of the Revolution in the southern colonies.†

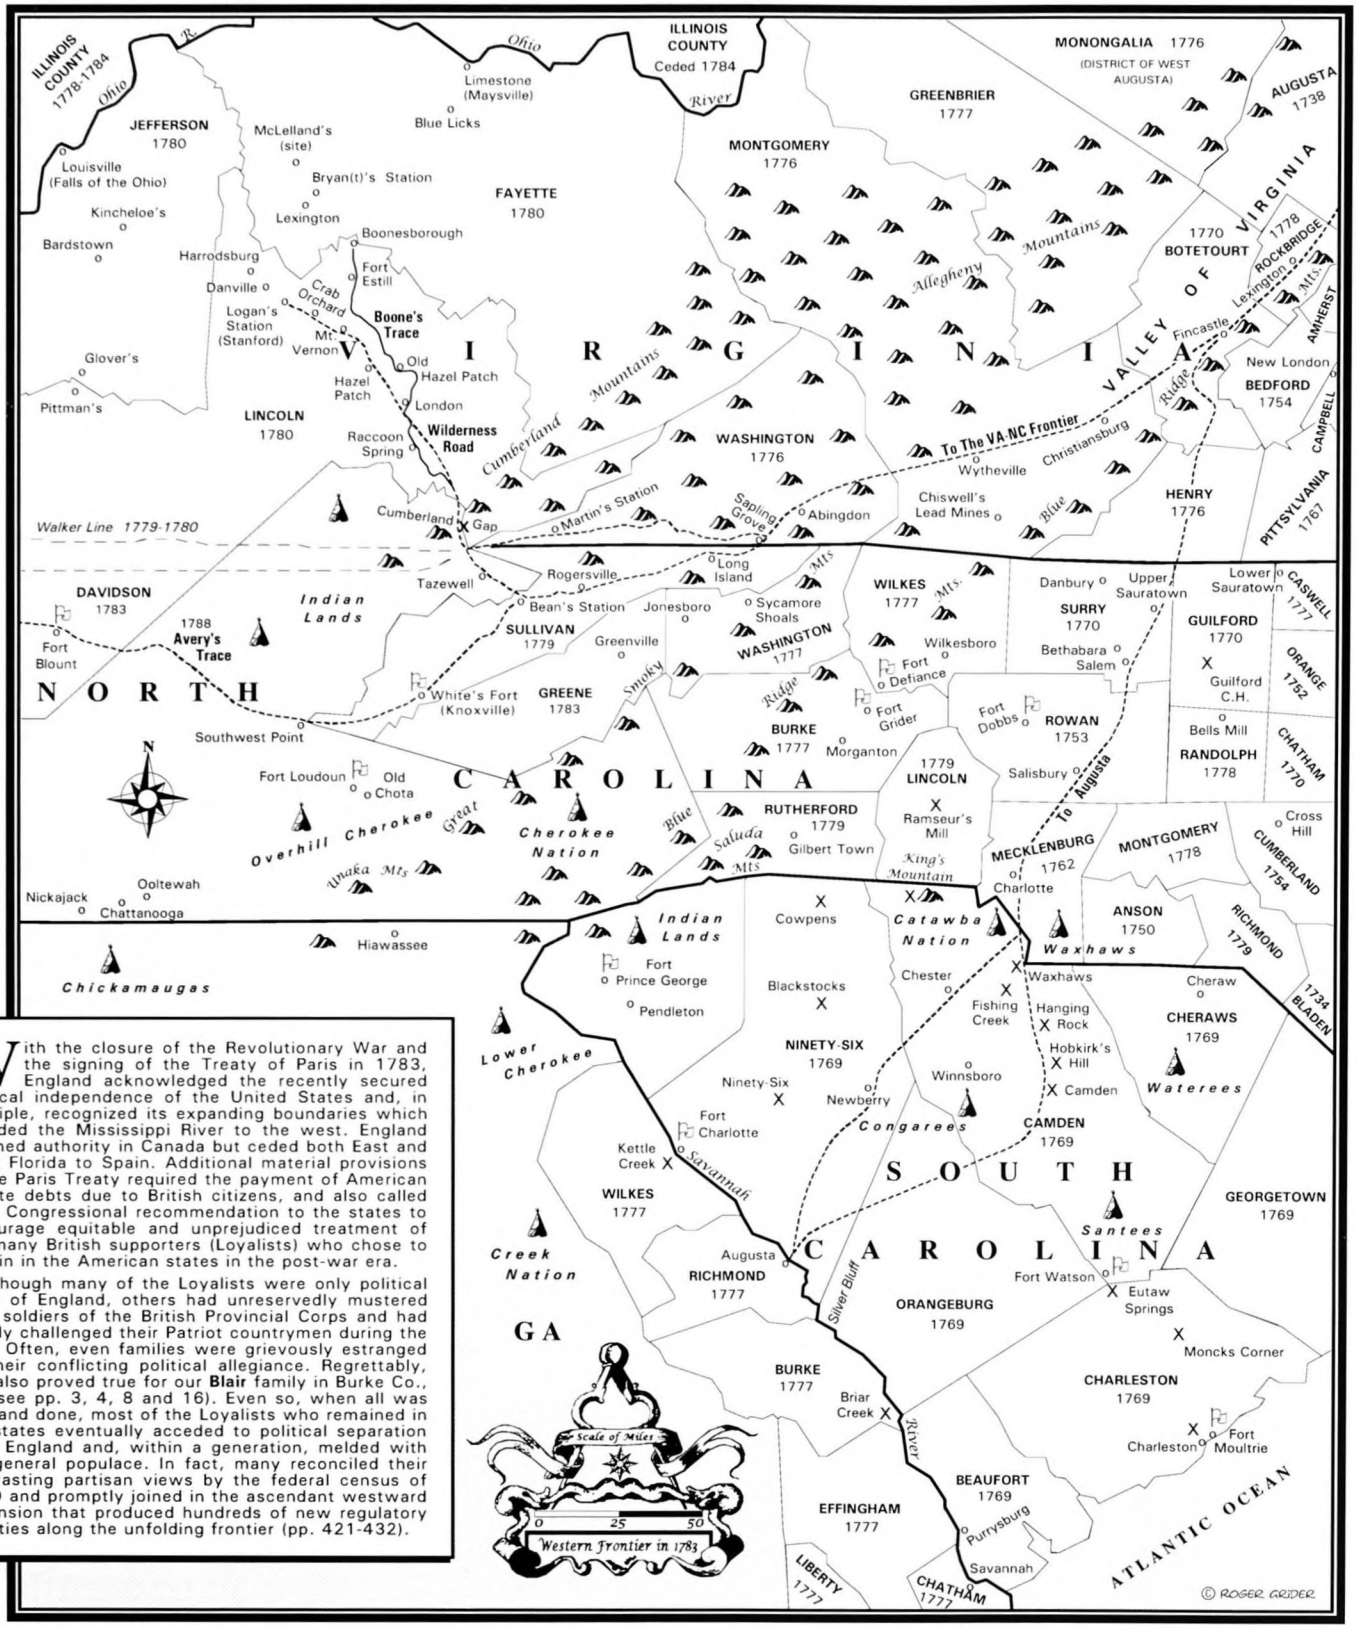

In the beginning, the American Revolutionary War (1775-1783) was contested primarily in the northern colonies. However, in 1778 the British command launched a major military campaign in the South and relentlessly attacked the Patriot forces in both Georgia and South Carolina. By late summer of 1780, the American Continental army faltered in South Carolina in the wake of military disasters at Charleston, Waxhaws, and Camden. After summarily routing the undermanned Patriot forces at the Battle of Camden in August of 1780, the Provincial and Tory forces, under the British commander Charles Cornwallis, prepared for a similar offensive against the local militias in North Carolina. To carry out the British incursion into the frontier of the western Carolinas, Cornwallis sent Major Patrick Ferguson to muster a militia loyal to the British endeavor and to subdue once and for all the remaining Patriot militia. As an opening salvo in September of 1780, Ferguson issued a scathing mandate to Carolina's "Backwater Men," directing them to lay down their arms, or he would "lay waste the countryside with fire and sword."

In response to this open threat, and initiating a counteroffensive, several hundred "Over-the-Mountain" frontiersmen from the Watauga and Holston settlements west of the Blue Ridge Mountains assembled at Sycamore Shoals and journeyed 90 miles southeast to Quaker Meadows near Morganton in Burke County, NC, where they joined fellow compatriots who mustered from the German and Scotch-Irish strongholds in Burke and surrounding North Carolina Counties. In short order, about 90 men from Burke, 110 from Wilkes, 60 from Surry, and 50 from Lincoln joined the Patriot forces as they advanced to Cowpens, South Carolina where, on October 6, 1780, they assembled with other Patriot volunteers from Georgia and South Carolina. Of those who mustered at Cowpens, about 910 men were selected to advance under the cover of rain to Kings Mountain on the border between North and South Carolina. By noon the following day they encountered about 1125 Tory militiamen entrenched on Kings Mountain under the command of British Major Patrick Ferguson. Many of the Tory militia had mustered from New York, but others were from Carolina's Loyalist strongholds and were companion settlers, if not affable neighbors, of their Patriot foes. A large number of these men were Scottish-Highlander Tories (some from Anson, Cumberland and surrounding Counties in North Carolina's Piedmont region) and the extant registers of Carolina Loyalists cite many distinctly Scottish names such as McDougal, McEwen, McLeod and McRae. Although the Battle of Kings Mountain lasted only an hour, the forces under British command were soundly defeated, and casualties among the victorious Patriots were comparatively few — about 28 dead and 62 wounded.

Ultimately, the confrontation at Kings Mountain was one of British opposition to American sovereignty. However, in the short term, the conflicting political allegiance of the Patriot and Loyalist settlers effectively culminated in a provincial civil war that pitted neighbor against neighbor and, often, family member against family member. Although Loyalist Colbert Blair I was not openly charged with Toryism, a son (the father of James Blair, Sr. of Russell Co., KY) died with the Tory militia at Kings Mountain, while a nephew, James Blair III, served in the horse calvary with the Patriots. Nonetheless, the Battle of Kings Mountain in October of 1780 marked the first substantial setback to the British southern campaign during the Revolutionary War, and effectively mobilized the Patriot forces to final victory over General Cornwallis the following year.

† Most Germans and Ulster-Scots (Scotch-Irish) in North Carolina settled on the western frontier and opposed the British incursion during the Revolutionary War. Conversely, most Highlander-Scots settled in the southern Piedmont and, as Loyalists, championed the British endeavor.

With the closure of the Revolutionary War and the signing of the Treaty of Paris in 1783, England acknowledged the recently secured political independence of the United States and, in principle, recognized its expanding boundaries which included the Mississippi River to the west. England retained authority in Canada but ceded both East and West Florida to Spain. Additional material provisions of the Paris Treaty required the payment of American private debts due to British citizens, and also called for a Congressional recommendation to the states to encourage equitable and unprejudiced treatment of the many British supporters (Loyalists) who chose to remain in the American states in the post-war era.

Though many of the Loyalists were only political allies of England, others had unreservedly mustered with soldiers of the British Provincial Corps and had openly challenged their Patriot countrymen during the War. Often, even families were grievously estranged by their conflicting political allegiance. Regrettably, this also proved true for our Blair family in Burke Co., NC (see pp. 3, 4, 8 and 16). Even so, when all was said and done, most of the Loyalists who remained in the states eventually acceded to political separation from England and, within a generation, melded with the general populace. In fact, many reconciled their contrasting partisan views by the federal census of 1790 and promptly joined in the ascendant westward expansion that produced hundreds of new regulatory counties along the unfolding frontier (pp. 421-432).

EARLY YEARS ALONG LOWER CREEK IN THE TUCKER'S BARN COMMUNITY

– THE BLAIR AND DAY FAMILIES SETTLE ALONG THE CATAWBA-YADKIN FRONTIER OF NORTH CAROLINA –

An only child, James Blair (later of Russell Co., KY) was born about 1781 in Burke Co., NC, likely a few short months after his father died in the Revolutionary War Battle of Kings Mountain. Little is known of James' father, even his first name remains elusive, but he was a Virginia native who migrated with his parents to North Carolina by the early 1770s and probably was little more than twenty years old when he mustered in the Revolutionary War, presumably in Loyalist service. James' mother, Margaret, was the daughter of William Sudderth who moved from Albermarle County, VA about 1778-79 and settled by James Blair II on Blair's Fork of Lower Creek. Before marriage to Nancy Day,† the younger James Blair lived on the headwaters of Mulberry Creek with his mother and stepfather, William Edmisten, but likely spent time along Lower Creek with his grandfather, Colbert Blair I, who owned land on Choate's Creek and who also acquired property from Nicholas Day — the son of John Day I who was the patriarch of the Days of Lower Creek and descendant of Nicholas Day I of Baltimore Co., MD (see also pp. 23-28).

As immigrants to the eastern foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains in the 1770s, the Blair and Day households joined other pioneering families in the Cherokee Indian Lands of western North Carolina. Although self-sufficient in many ways, most of the early settlers and farmers depended on their neighbors for major tasks such as building homes and barns, planting and harvesting crops, and for protection from hostile warriors of the neighboring Cherokee Nation. Many such communal gatherings involved hard work and dedication to purpose, but other public functions provided ample opportunity for much needed social interaction, such as weddings and wakes that often lasted several days. The local campgrounds, brush arbors, and meeting houses provided collective shelter for churches and schools, and for the monthly musters of the local militias. By the early 1800s in Cedar Valley, the Blair School and Church (see p. 5) served the citizens of eastern Burke County, but a site previously established along Lower Creek became the dominant place for public gatherings after the Tucker family settled there around 1765. In due course, Tucker's Barn offered a voting precinct, a muster ground, a store, and a place for "frolics" and celebration.

The Tucker's Barn community embodied the Ninth Company Militia of Burke County and was part of the Morgan Judicial District. Established in Morganton in 1782, the Morgan District Superior Court served the area west of and including Burke, Lincoln, Rutherford and Wilkes Counties. Buncombe County was included in 1791 and Ashe County in 1800. Although dissolved in 1808, the Morgan District Court was the † Although no extant records confirm a Blair-Day marriage or a daughter of Nancy's age among the Days of Lower Creek, she is identified as a "Day" both by tradition and by an 1887 biography of her grandson, William Blair (p. 245). See also "The Days of Buffalo Creek" (p. 27).

regulatory and administrative center for settlers of the North Carolina frontier after the Revolutionary War. Moreover, the geographic Morgan District served as a marker for militia companies in the federal census of 1790. In Burke County there were thirteen militia companies, and the Ninth Company encompassed the residents around the Tucker's Barn community of Lower Creek. When canvassed in the first federal census of North Carolina in 1790, the Morgan District (Burke, Lincoln, Rutherford, and Wilkes Counties) contained almost 33,400 inhabitants.† Of the 8,110 who lived in Burke County, 677 were enumerated in the 114 households comprising the Ninth Company Militia. The families of Colbert Blair, John Blair, John Day, Nicholas Day, and James Day were among the households listed in the Tucker's Barn community, and were among the legion of settlers along the Atlantic Seaboard who sought purpose and prosperity as the western frontier expanded beyond the Appalachian Mountains in the post-war era (see also page 20).

EARLY YEARS ALONG LOWER CREEK IN THE TUCKER'S BARN COMMUNITY

Shortly after the Revolutionary War, the Ninth Company Militia of the Tucker's Barn community, having recently mustered with other patriots throughout the Atlantic Seaboard to attain our national sovereignty, were rewarded with generous access to western land grants — fostering migration to a burgeoning frontier which no longer was constrained by the political and military restrictions previously imposed by the British Crown. Other settlers had supported the British endeavor in the colonies, but eventually acceded to severance of political ties with England and joined their patriot neighbors as they hastened to territory west of the original thirteen colonies. Accordingly, after the Revolution, members of the Blair and Day families lingered briefly in North Carolina but were soon separated in the post-war era (see pp. 3-5, 8 and 24-27).

After James Blair II died in 1783 along Lower Creek in Burke Co., NC, his issue (George, James III and Ann) made their way to Pendleton, SC by the federal census of 1790. Colbert I (brother of James II) and John (Colbert's son) resisted the beckoning call from the West and chose to remain along Lower Creek in Burke County. Colbert's oldest son (Enos I) stayed in nearby Randolph County, but his other children summarily joined the legion of southern settlers who moved to South Carolina and Georgia, or migrated westward to Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, and Illinois. At least one child of Colbert I (Mary Guest) was lured to South Carolina and Georgia, whereas Colbert II moved west, first to Adair Co., KY then to Montgomery Co., IL. Isabel, likely a daughter of Colbert I, married John Grider and moved to Adair Co., KY, before eventually settling in Henderson Co., TN. The son of Colbert I (first name ?James) who died at the Battle of Kings Mountain during the Revolutionary War did not live to see the birth of his only son, James, who would marry Nancy Day and live for several more years in Burke County, before moving west to Kentucky. Subsequently, after serving the Lower Creek populace as a community center and entertainment wellspring for more than fifty years, the Tucker's Barn locale gained an advantage by the early 1840s as the favored location for the capital of a new county created from Burke and Wilkes Counties. The following narrative from the Annals of Caldwell County, pp. 57-60, was published in 1930 and recounts those early formative years along Lower Creek in the Tucker's Barn Community:

> "In 1841, after Caldwell county had been organized, the commission appointed to lay off the county town, which was named Lenoir in honor of General William Lenoir, one of the King's Mountain heroes, met to decide upon a location. There was a division of sentiment as to the proper site for the proposed seat of justice. One party was in favor of selecting the high tableland across Lower creek, on the south side of the creek, over Whitnel-way, including the David Stokes old place, afterward the Uriah Cloyd old place, and Sharp-Top church (the Episcopal Chapel of Peace). At that time there was probably no settlement in the vicinity except the Stokes farmhouse and the Swanson home. Otherwise it was an ideal location for a town, taking into consideration the general level and sweeping undulation of the 'terrain.' And from the whole town, if this site were selected, there would have been obtained a scene of surpassing beauty and loveliness of the sweep of the Blue Ridge from Mount Mitchell to Pilot Mountain, such as could have been obtained from only one spot in the present Lenoir — Davenport College. A similar beautiful view, but much less extensive, is obtained from the northern part of the town at Freedman and at the top of the declivity leading to Valmead. But the present site was selected for reasons that appeared then and now seem to render the Tucker's Barn side of the creek more practical and convenient as a location than the southern side, notwithstanding its beauty.
> At that time the great bulk of the citizens of the county lived on the north side of Lower creek and could reach Tucker's Barn without crossing it or by coming around the head of it when in time of freshets it overflowed and spread from hill to hill and was unfordable for days and days at a time. And Tucker's Barn had ... for half a century and over an established reputation and was famous for a long distance around about as a celebrated meeting place. It was a voting precinct, all the musters were held here, there was a store here, and the 'frolics' and celebrations that were held in the barn itself (which was on the old Norwood place) always drew a crowd, and its popularity was so great that a piece of music suitable for violins, that is one of the most popular tunes in these times, was composed by a musician who knew his business and entitled 'Tucker's Barn.' ...
> So the commission, considering that Tucker's Barn was more convenient at all seasons, of flood and field, of access; that it was located upon the most direct route from Morganton to Wilkesboro; that it had for fifty years been the favorite rendezvous for a wide range of population; that it had two landmarks that were entitled to be called public buildings — Fort Grider and Tucker's Barn; that, in addition to these, there were other buildings, dwellings, stores, blacksmith shops — in fact, a considerable village — decided to establish the town at Tucker's Barn."

The commission charged with the responsibility of selecting a 25-acre site for a courthouse and jail in the new county of Caldwell embodied several local leaders — including John Blair, who had grown up with his parents, Colbert and Sarah Morgan Blair, in the Tucker's Barn community. In neighboring Cedar Valley, John had purchased 300 acres of land from Squire Lowery in 1799, and Colbert had acquired 218 acres from John Lowery in 1800. Though Colbert died c.1805, John Blair quickly adapted to his new home in Cedar Valley, where he was instrumental in the organization of Blair's "School and Church" which, until shortly after the Civil War, fostered education and spiritual enlightenment for those who lived along the headwaters of the Upper Little River.† Undoubtedly, he had been a welcome mentor and valuable authority figure to his nephew, James Blair (S/O Margaret Sudderth), who grew up without personal knowledge of his own father who died at Kings Mountain. On the first Monday of March 1841, John's son, Henry Blair, met with other Justices of the Peace at the first Caldwell County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, to administrate the affairs of the new local government. The county seat, Lenoir, continues to this day as a monument to William Lenoir and other patriots who served without compromise in the Revolutionary War.

† After Samuel Lowery died in 1797, his sons (Squire & John) settled his estate and sold 518 acres to Colbert and John Blair, reserving one acre for a cemetery and arbor. In 1803 Colbert deeded land to James Blair (S/O John and Frances Blair), reserving one acre for a school and church.

C. JOHN DAY I (Nicholas II, Nicholas I)
Born - 6 Sep 1716 Baltimore Co., MD
Died - Abt 1790 Burke Co., NC
Married by early 1740s; some have posited his wife's surname was Blair, but verifiable evidence is lacking. By 1778, John migrated with his family to Lower Creek in Burke County, NC.†

Having 7 small children and "incapable of laboring for a living," on 22 Apr 1788 Nicholas petitioned for an exemption from the Burke County, NC poll tax (Burke County, North Carolina Land Records & More Important Miscellaneous Records 1751-1809 Vol. III by Edith W. Huggins). Some genealogists have premised the surname of his first wife was Blair, but evidence is lacking. After his first wife died, Nicholas married second Mrs. Grace Angely. The will of Nicholas Day, written 2 Jul 1815 and probated Oct 1815 in Burke Co., NC, named his wife Grace Day, youngest son Colbert Day, stepson John Angely and four daughters: Elizabeth Powell, Sarah Carter, Mary Powell, and Isabell Bailey.

e. ?NANCY DAY (1781-1866) – m. James Blair. The inclusion of Nancy as a D/O Nicholas VI is improbable since only four daughters were numerated in the 1790 Burke Co., NC census, and the only daughters specifically named in his will were Elizabeth, Sarah, Mary, & Isabell.

† The Day family registered several early claims to land along Lower Creek — 500 acres to Nicholas Day on 9 Feb 1778 and 350 acres each to John Day, Sr. and John Day, Jr. on 23 Oct 1778 (Burke County, North Carolina Land Records 1778 Vol. I by Edith Warren Huggins).

NICHOLAS DAY VI married 2nd Mrs. Grace Angelly (Angely)

Children: Colbert

a. COLBERT DAY (1810-1894)

2. JOHN DAY II (John I, Nicholas II, Nicholas I)
Born - By 1755 (age 45+ in 1800 census)
m. Mary Stallings 27 Mar 1779 Wilkes Co., NC
Bondsmen: Abraham Stallin(g)s, Moses Guest

Identifying Nancy Day (wife of James Blair, p. 31) as a daughter of John Day & Mary Stallings seems reasonable at first glance – in the 1790 census of Burke Co., NC, this Day family included John, three males under age 16, and three females (likely Mary and two daughters). However, in the 1790 census, the two daughters listed in the John Day household likely were the same two enumerated in the 10-16 and 16-26 age categories in the 1800 Burke County census. Consequently, it seems unlikely that Nancy was one of the daughters since she married c.1799 and lived in the James Blair household by the 1800 census. Little is know of the family of John & Mary Stallings Day, but some have surmised a partial list of their issue would include the following:

a. CELIA DAY

b. ASAEL DAY

c. AMOS DAY
m. Nancy Swanson 26 Sep 1824 in Burke Co., NC; Bondsmen were John Day and "Asel" Day.

d. JOHN DAY

e. WILEY DAY
m. Lucy Day
D/O James Day & Lucy Semig

On 6 Sep 1845 in Caldwell Co., NC, Wiley Day & "Asel" Day signed a bond to pay $325 to Aquilla Day for property Aquilla had received from the estate of his father, James Day, who died in 1826. Then, on 8 Sep 1845, Wiley Day filed a petition to receive the apportionment due from the estate of his mother-in-law, Lucy Day, who was recently deceased. (Caldwell County Deeds, Register of Deeds, Record of Deeds, Vol. I, 1841-1849, pp. 452 and 514; original record book from LDS microfilm #0590311).

3. JAMES DAY (John I, Nicholas II, Nicholas I)
Born - Abt 1758 (date inferred by some genealogists)
Died - 14 Jul 1826 Burke Co., NC
m. Lucy Semig, presumably in Burke Co., NC
Died - By 1845 Caldwell Co., NC

Extant records suggest James did not follow in the footsteps of his father and brothers in 1778 as they registered their initial claims on Lower Creek (p. 24), but apparently he did so shortly thereafter. Twelve years later, in the 1790 Burke County census, the James Day household included two males 16 & up, one male under 16, and two females. By the 1800 Burke County census his household included three males (one 45+, one 16-45, & one under 10) and three females (one 26-45 and two under 10). This would suggest a male child born to James prior to 1790 – if so, his identity remains unknown and his possible survival to the 1800 census seems unlikely. Also, the identity of the additional female in 1790 is unclear. Possibly, she was an early daughter who did not survive the 1790s, or perhaps she was an older female who died before the 1800 census and who possibly was the wife of the older male listed in this household in the censuses of 1790 & 1800. Nonetheless, by the Burke County census of 1820, the James Day household embraced one male 45+, one male 10-16, three males 0-10, one female 45+, two females 16-26, and two females 0-10.

Likely, James Day died in late 1826. His will was proved in January 1827 in Burke Co., NC, naming his wife Lucy and the following nine issue: Lewis, Nancy, Elizabeth, Samuel, James, Lucy, Bescey, Aquilla, and John. The will was executed by John Blair and witnessed by John Day, Nicholas Day, & Lydda Day. (Burke County North Carolina, Surviving Will & Probate Abstracts 1777-1910, by Miles S. Philbeck, Jr., Entry 139).

Children: Lewis, Nancy, Elizabeth, Samuel, James, Lucy, Elizabeth, Bescey, Aquilla, John

a. LEWIS DAY† (James, John I, Nicholas II)
Born - Abt 1794/1795 Burke Co., NC
m. Elizabeth (Betsy) Grayson 2 Dec 1815 Wilkes Co., NC; D/O William Grayson & Emily Crouch

Children: daughter, Mary, Dicey, Calvin S., son, Samuel, James

In the 1820 census of Burke Co., NC, the Lewis Day household included Lewis (age 18-25), three females under age 10, and one female age 16-18 (presumably his wife Betsy, but inclusion in this age group may be a census error since it would suggest marriage prior to age 15 – the Caldwell 1850 census suggests Betsy was born c.1798; see 1850 census entry for Elizabeth Day below).

In the 1830 census Lewis Day was not listed in Burke Co., NC, but in adjacent Wilkes County his household embraced seven children (four males and three females). After the death of his father in 1826, Lewis received property in Burke County as part of the estate settlement. Then, on 11 Oct 1839 and 1 Feb 1842, Lewis deeded his estate apportionment to his younger brother Aquilla. The 1839 deed was witnessed by his sister Bescey Day and by his son Calvin S. Day,✞ and the 1842 document cites his son Samuel. Both records indicate Lucy Day (the mother of Lewis and Aquilla) continued to reside on this property which was part of the original James Day estate on Lower Creek. (Caldwell County Deeds, Register of Deeds, Record of Deeds, Vol. I, 1841-1849, pp. 88 and 95).

Census records confirm Lewis Day resided in Burke Co., NC in 1840 – and in Caldwell Co., NC by the census of 1850, at which time he was a 56 year-old blacksmith who, ostensibly, lived with the family of Alexander West in the Little River District (some genealogists believe Lewis Day married 2nd Mary McRary). In the 1850 census the following Day families were enumerated in Caldwell Co., North Carolina:

1- Family #463 (Lower Creek – 30 Aug 1850)

Samuel Day	2?	M	born NC
Nancy Day	26	F	born NC
Sarah Day	5	F	born NC
Barbara Day	2	F	born NC
Pinkney Day	½	M	born NC

2- Family #470 (Lower Creek – 30 Aug 1850)

Aquilla Day	35	M	born NC
Rina Day	29	F	born NC
Granville Day	5	M	born NC
Julia Day	4	F	born NC
Finley Day	2	M	born NC

† In neighboring Lincoln Co., NC another Lewis Day was enumerated in the censuses of 1810 & 1820, but his identity remains open to debate.

THE DAYS OF BUFFALO CREEK, WILKES CO., NC
(No known relationship to Nicholas I and Sarah Day)

Although John Day I and his sons (Nicholas, John, James, Laban and Edward) are considered the Day forebears in Burke Co., NC, at least one other Day family lived there during the Revolutionary War era. At that time, Thomas Day, Sr. was named in extant land registers as early as 1779 (Burke County North Carolina, Land Records 1779-1790 and Important Miscellaneous Records 1777-1800, Vol. II, p. 20; and Vol. III, p. 18). Subsequently, when enumerated in the Burke County census of 1790, Thomas Day did not live with the "Days" of the 9th Company Militia of Lower Creek. Rather, he was part of the 7th Company Militia of Quaker Meadows (see map, p. 18). His household included three males '16 & up' and one male under 16 (likely, Thomas & three sons), and six females (likely, his second wife & five daughters). In extant tax records of Burke County, NC, Thomas Day, Sr. was assessed in 1795 for land in the vicinity of Quaker Meadows, where soon he was joined on the tax rolls by his son William Day in 1796 and then by Thomas Day, Jr. in 1798 (Burke County North Carolina, Records 1755-1821, Vol. IV, pp. 112, 117, 118, 121, and 122). By the 1800 census of Burke County, NC, Thomas Day, Sr. was listed in succession with his oldest sons Thomas, Jr. and William, and his remaining household included two males (one under 10 & one 16-26) and seven females (likely, his second wife and six daughters, including two 0-10, two 10-16, and two 16-26).

At first glance, it would be intriguing to premise our Nancy Day (W/O James Blair of Russell Co., KY) as possibly the daughter of Thomas Day, Sr., thereby reconciling the long-standing debate regarding her indefinite heritage. We do know Thomas Day, Sr. of Burke County, NC acquired land by 1802 on Buffalo Creek of the Yadkin River in Wilkes County, NC, just east of James Blair's childhood home on the "head of Mulberry Creek" in Burke County (map, p. 18). † The land of Thomas Day, Sr. (in present-day Buffalo Cove) was located in the area of Wilkes County that became northern Caldwell County in 1841. Although the Blair, Day and Edmisten households were sited in close proximity, our Nancy Day Blair has not been connected to Thomas Day, Sr. of Buffalo Creek, nor have extant records confirmed a daughter of her age among the Days of neighboring Lower Creek. Even so, Nancy was identified as a "Day" in the 1887 biography of her grandson, William Blair (p. 245).

Westward To Kentucky

TRANSMIGRATION TO REYNOLDS CREEK IN THE CUMBERLAND FOOTHILLS

– JAMES AND NANCY DAY BLAIR MOVE TO KENTUCKY AND JOIN RELATIVES WHO PRECEDED THEM –

After their marriage c. 1799 James and Nancy Blair lived in Burke Co., NC for more than a decade (presumably near the Mulberry or Tucker's Barn communities) and became parents of five of their thirteen "known" issue (p. 44), then joined with other settlers in the ascendant western migration beyond the Appalachian Mountains. Preceded to Kentucky by his uncle Colbert Blair II in 1810 and by his aunt Isabel Blair Grider in 1811, James Blair gathered his family and meager belongings in 1813-14 and withdrew from his native North Carolina, migrating first to Cumberland County† in south-central Kentucky before moving some three years later to the vicinity of his relatives in adjacent Adair County† (pp. 4 & 5). In January of 1820 James and Nancy Blair purchased land from the early pioneers John and Mahala Lane Wolford and settled along the Reynolds Creek tributary of Russell Creek, a meandering southern watercourse of the Green River, on a 120¼-acre plat that once was part of a 1000-acre land grant surveyed along the headwaters of Russell Creek and patented in the name of James Moody (map, p. 34)

† Cumberland County, named for the dominant river in south-central Kentucky, was created from Green County in 1798 and organized in 1799. Adair County, named for General (later Governor) John Adair, was legislated from Green County in 1801 and subsequently organized in 1802.

TRANSMIGRATION TO REYNOLDS CREEK IN THE CUMBERLAND FOOTHILLS

Soon after the Blair family settled along Reynolds Creek, their home in Adair County became part of a new county created by the Kentucky General Assembly on December 14 1825.† Russell County was officially organized in early 1826 when local leaders initially met on April 10 to appoint officers who would administrate the affairs of the new government. Lacking a quorum of principals at this first session, the commissioners appointed by the General Assembly convened again during the first week of May and selected a 110-acre site to accommodate the new center of government. On June 19 the county seat was named Jacksonville then promptly renamed Jamestown only two days later, possibly in honor of James Wooldridge who resided on the tract of land on which the "Seat of Justice" would be established.

CREATION AND EARLY ORGANIZATION OF RUSSELL COUNTY, KENTUCKY — CONDENSED FROM ORDER BOOK I

June 19, 1826: "In pursuance of an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky approved the 14th day of Dec in the year 1825. All of which is hereby certified under our hands and seals as commissioners aforesaid to the County Court for the said County of Russell on the 3rd day of May in the year 1826. Nathan Moore, J.P.R.C.

† Russell County, named for Col. William Russell, originated from Adair, Cumberland and Wayne Counties in 1825, then annexed a small triangular tract from Pulaski County in 1840 and appended a small parcel from Cumberland County near Rock House in 1876 (map, p. 34).

TRANSMIGRATION TO REYNOLDS CREEK IN THE CUMBERLAND FOOTHILLS

On 10 Jan 1826, three months before their home in Adair County became part of newly organized Russell County, James and Nancy became parents of Emily, the last of their thirteen known children. Undoubtedly, as a matter of course in the ante-bellum era, their agrarian lifestyle along the headwaters of Russell Creek was clearly demanding, but grew unmistakably arduous when two known issue (Mary and Larkin) died as adolescents. Consecrated to a higher purpose, both were buried at the old homestead north of Reynolds Creek, at what later became the family cemetery in the Blair Schoolhouse community.†

Even so, for some fifty years, James and Nancy found sustaining peace on their farm in western Russell County and lived well into their eighties. By the 1850s a health resort was established nearby at the mineral springs in northern Russell County, providing a locale for public gatherings as partisans from miles around traveled to the "Big Boiling Springs" to enjoy the health-giving benefits of the local tonic waters (map, p. 34). In time, this area would become the site of present-day Russell Springs, an evolving community that would compete with the county seat of Jamestown for the local commercial interests.

In the fullness of time, while still in his late-seventies and several years before his death, having lived productively and sensing the infirmities of advancing age, James penned his last will and testament in 1857 and named his wife and children as heirs to his residual estate along the banks of Reynolds Creek.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF JAMES BLAIR, SR.

State of Kentucky
County of Russell SCT:

RUSSELL COUNTY
DEED BOOK 3, p. 16

I, James Blair, of the county and state aforesaid, being in fear of God and of a sound mind and a disposing mind but aged and infirm taking into consideration the certainty of death and the uncertainty of life do hereby make my last will and testament in matter and form that is to say: FIRST, I desire that immediately after my death that my executors herein after named shall proceed to make sale of such property as they in their wisdom think they can best spare as sufficiency to pay all my just debts and funeral expenses. SECOND, I will and bequeath all the remaining part of my estate both real and personal of whatsoever nature and kind they may be to my beloved wife, Nancy Blair and my daughter, Elizabeth Blair for their use and benefit to live on for during the time of their natural lives. THIRDLY, after their deaths I desire that all my then remaining estate be divided equally amongst all my children as follows: James Blair, Delila Blair now wife of Jesse Womac(k), John R. Blair, Margaret now wife of Shepherd Hudson, Morgan Blair, Burton Blair, Nancy now wife of William Smith, Elizabeth Blair, William Blair, Thomas L. Blair, Emily now wife of Henry Antle. FOURTH and LASTLY I do hereby constitute and appoint my two sons, namely Burton and Morgan Blair Executors of this my last will and testament.
Amen. Amen.

Given under my hand and seal this the 17th day of March in the year of our Lord 1857. Signed and sealed in our presence.

Nancy Day Blair lived to see the protracted Civil War between the States draw to a bitter conclusion, and died about 1866-70. Not long thereafter, James, near his ninetieth birthday and increasingly wearied by his continuing journey without his beloved wife and children who had recently passed, died in 1870. Buried at their homestead north of Reynolds Creek, James and Nancy now rest quietly near almost one hundred of their descendants and kindred (p. 35), and with seven of their children — Mary (died c.1830), Larkin (1834), Morgan (1868), Burton (1875), Delilah (after 1880), Emily (1907) and William (1907). The gravesites of James Blair, Jr. (1870) and Elizabeth (1875) are not known with certainty. John Richardson (1884) was buried at the Conover Cemetery in the White Oak district of Adair County. Nancy (c.1885) likely was buried at the Smith Cemetery in Russell County, and Thomas Leftridge (1905) at the Loy Cemetery in Adair County. Margaret, the only issue of James and Nancy Day Blair to leave the familiar of environs of south-central Kentucky, married Shepherd Hudson and moved c.1831 to Sangamon County, Illinois, where possibly she visited with her great-uncle Colbert Blair II who had moved to Illinois in 1817 and settled in neighboring Montgomery County by 1821. Margaret died in 1872 and was buried in Sangamon County at the Oak Hill Cemetery. Though extant records of these children are few, and details of their lives are now transcended by time, this compilation entrusts our memories of them to posterity, and respectfully acknowledges six generations of the descendants of James and Nancy Blair.

† On March 9, 1860 Morgan Blair conveyed "a certain boundary of land lying in Russell County, KY on the waters of Big Clifty Creek ... for the purpose of erecting a Schoolhouse (in District #25) which is also for neighborhood preaching ..." (Russell County Deed Bk. G, pp. 428-29).

THE BLAIR FAMILY CEMETERY

LOCATED ON BLAIR CEMETERY ROAD OFF MT. PLEASANT ROAD, BLAIR SCHOOLHOUSE COMMUNITY, RUSSELL COUNTY, KY

By Jim Garner

The only extant record of a Kentucky land purchase by James and Nancy Blair shows they bought in January 1820 (recorded in 1827, Russell County Deed Book A, pp. 66-68) from John and Mahala (Lane) Wolford a 120¼-acre portion of the James Moody land grant. James and Nancy spent the remainder of their lives on this land near Reynolds Creek (Runnells Creek, if you're a native of the area), farming and rearing their large family. My mother (Ella Wheat Helm Garner, 29 Oct 1910 – 25 Jun 1998), a great-great-granddaughter of James and Nancy's who grew up "just across the fields," remembered where the old Blair house (or cabin, as she called it) stood, and she recalled seeing as a child the packing crates James and Nancy had used to ship their possessions to Kentucky over 100 years earlier.

Just up the hill from where the home place stood, the Blair family cemetery now pays silent homage to James, Nancy, and approximately one hundred of their descendants. According to family tradition (as related by my mother), James and Nancy's daughter Mary enjoyed playing around a particular white oak tree. When Mary Blair died "as a child" (I estimate in the early-to-mid 1820s), she was then buried (in a now unmarked grave) near her favorite playground. Mary's older brother Larkin Blair died in 1834 and was buried nearby (p. 300); his is the oldest inscribed grave marker in the cemetery, and now is completely broken across the base. These two burials, over 170 years ago, were the beginning of our Blair family cemetery. As of March 2007, the names of about 85 people appear on extant gravestones. There are at least another dozen grave sites indicated only by unmarked fieldstones, and a now unknown number of completely unmarked graves.

This is an updated and corrected version of a transcription originally done in 1985. Beginning with the westernmost row, the grave markers shown below are listed from south to north in each row. Any 'Notes' refer to the marker above the corresponding note, with additional commentary provided in the right column.

WILLIAMS, unnamed infant son of MF & NJ (S/O Millard F. Williams & Nancy Jane Antle)
"born & died 10 Sept 1888"

Notes: Other records indicate Millard and Nancy's son Marshall was born 1 Jan 1889 & their daughter Tinie/ Tinnie was born May, 1885. Possibly, the year of birth/death should be 1887 instead of 1888.

WHEAT, Earline 9 June 1916 – 3 May 1931 (D/O Lennie O. Wheat & Tinnie E. Williams)

WHEAT, Lillie M. 2 June 1890 – 7 Nov. 1981 (W/O 1st Ransom Ardello Miller, 2nd Lennie O. Wheat — and D/O Millard F. Williams & Nancy Jane Antle)

(footmarker: "TEC 5 US Army / WW II" with same birth and death dates as headmarker)
MILLER, Helen 28 Oct. 1927 – ndd (D/O Loyd Smith & Ollie Holt)

Second Row: — Begins approximately at same point as Peggy A. Miller's grave, first row.

MILLER, Mary Elizabeth (June c. 1851 – ca. Jan 1925) (W/O Ransom R. Millier — and D/O Henry M. Antle & Emily E. Blair)
Ransom R. Miller was the S/O Richard Miller & Susan Whittle.

Notes: Grave indicated only by unmarked fieldstone (now down) until 6/00, at which time a temporary marker was put up with plans to have a permanent marker installed. Mary Elizabeth's birth month from census records; birth year estimated from census records; and death month from a memory of Margie Antle Stevens, a niece, who remembered that Mary Elizabeth died in January, sometime in the 1920s.

Permanent marker erected 7/01 and the inscription is as follows:
Mary E. "Liz" Miller
June c. 1851 – Jan. ca. 1925
Daughter of H.M. and E.E. Antle

ANTLE, Emily E. 10 Jan. 1826 – 19 Aug. 1907 (W/O Henry M. Antle — and D/O James Blair & Nancy 'Day')
"wife of H.M. Antle, age 81 yr. 7 mo. 9 days"

ANTLE, Henry M. 21 June 1823 – 8 Dec. 1903 (S/O Henry Antle II & Letitia Moore)
"age 80 yr. 5 mo. 17 ds"

_____, _____ (three unmarked fieldstones)

Notes: Possibly, two of these unmarked graves are those of Henry and Emily's daughter Martha Ellen (born ca. 1853, died 19 May 1875) and of Henry and Emily's son (stillborn in Adair County KY on 20 Sept. 1860) — but this is pure conjecture. There is enough space between the first & second and the second & third of these markers for another grave. The marker nearest Henry M. Antle's marker is now (2007) split.

BLAIR, Larkin [died] 1834 (marked fieldstone) — (S/O James Blair & Nancy 'Day') Marker is now (2007) broken at the base.

BLAIR, Nancy (marked fieldstone, name only) — (Born c. 1781, died 1866-70) – W/O James Blair; see also pp. 23-28 for 'Day' ancestry.

BLAIR, James (marked fieldstone, name only; see 'misc. notes' at end of transcription) — (Born c. 1781, died by 1870) – S/O (James) Blair & Margaret Sudderth; see p. 18 and also Blair family ancestral charts, pp. 3-5.

Notes: The inscription is 'James Blair Sr.' The distance between James and Nancy's markers is considerable.

Third Row:

(double marker) "wed Sept. 9, 1967"
MILLER, Donald A. nbd – ndd — (S/O Buel Miller & Flora Gladys Antle)
MILLER, Barbara J. nbd – ndd — (D/O Granville Ballenger & Rosie Pierce)

WILKERSON, Donnie R. 26 July 1959 – 1 Aug. 1987 — (S/O Barbara Ballenger Miller)

Notes: There is one headmarker for the following Richards footmarkers. The footmarkers constitute two short rows, very close together, which extend far enough to shorten the fourth row.

first row of Richards footmarkers:

Notes: Richards, Milburn, died Adair Co., KY, 09-11-1945, cert # 18132, deathvol 1945.

W_____, O. May 1, 1844"

(marked fieldstone, initials & the single date)

Notes: The letters 'th' or 'ih' follow the 1 in 'May 1.' Also, there is at least one additional letter following the initial 'O.', possibly a 'D' — possibly an abbreviation for 'died.'

B_____, J. 1866

(marked fieldstone, initials only & the single date)

Notes: Inscription is on side facing headmarker of James Blair in 2nd row (see 'misc. notes' at end of transcription).

Fourth Row: — Follows 'Richards' footmarkers in Third Row.

GRIDER, Mary B. 31 July 1898 – 18 August 1976 (Mary Edith Blair Grider, W/O Thomas Grider — and D/O Thomas Shelton Blair & Tisha Arabelle Robertson)

Notes: Blair, Thomas S., died Russell Co., KY, 05-30-1932, cert # 20192, deathvol 1932.

The marker for Tisha Arabelle 'Aunt Toady' & Thomas Shelton is now (2007) down and broken into four pieces.

BLAIR, infant son of Mr. & Mrs. T.S. Blair, born & died 10 June 1906

Notes: Marker not in line with others in this row.

MOORE, — lly (manufactured marker)

Notes: In a partial cemetery transcription completed in the 1960s by Richard Blair, this grave is identified as that of Sally Moore, 6 Jan 1815 – 16 March 1891. Weather-worn, broken and frankly illegible for many years, the original headstone was replaced with a new marker in October of 2004.

Probably, Sally (Sarah) was the D/O William Slone (below) who married William Moore in Russell Co., KY 12 Dec 1863, and who later appeared in the 1880 Adair County census with the George and Luvenia (Blair) Wolford household as a widowed aunt.

_____, _____ (unmarked fieldstone)

SLONE, William 26 Jan. 1771 – 6 Feb. 1859 (field marker)

(Probably, the father of Serena Slone/Sloan who married William Blair, fifth row below)

Notes: Upper front corner of marker is now (2007) chipped, one corner missing, part of name and birthdate missing.

BLAIR, Elizabeth "DI JU 5 [or 6] / 1853"

(Elizabeth Grider Blair, 1st W/O Morgan Blair — and D/O Fredrick Grider, Jr. and Sarah Perryman)

(marked fieldstone; badly worn)

Notes: This marker is slightly closer to row three than to adjoining markers in row four.

Fifth Row:

BLAIR, Florence 3 Oct. 1883 – 6 Aug. 1960

(Florence Holt, 2nd W/O Willie Morgan Blair) Her sister Alice was the mother of Willie's 1st wife, Julie Willen. Alice & Florence Holt were daughters of Thomas Holt & Charlotte Holt).

Notes: Blair, Florence, resided/died Russell Co., KY, 08-06-1960, cert # 18422, deathvol 1960.

(double marker)
BLAIR, Willie 27 June 1885 – 11 June 1963
BLAIR, Julie 10 Dec. 1894 – 30 Dec. 1918

(S/O Thomas S. Blair & Tisha A. Robertson) (1st W/O Willie Morgan Blair — and D/O William Willen & Alice Holt)

BLAIR, Samuel
"son of W.M. & Julie Blair born & died 28 June 1918"

BLAIR, Helen
"dau. of W.M. & Jula Blair, born & died 26 Dec. 1916"

BLAIR, Martha J. 6 Jan. 1860 – 21 Oct. 1939

(D/O William Blair & Serena Sloan)

Notes: My mother recalled that one of Martha's favorite sayings was 'I'm a Baptist, doubled and twisted!' (Blair, Martha J., died Russell Co., KY, 10-22-1939, cert # 26119, deathvol 1939).

BLAIR, Wm.
5 March 1822 – 20 Dec. 1907 "85 yr. 9 mo. 15 ds."

(S/O James Blair & Nancy 'Day')

BLAIR, Serena
15 Oct. 1819 – 3 (or 8) March 1884

(W/O William Blair above — and probably D/O William & Ester Sloan)

Notes: Serena's marker is now (2007) very rough.

_____, _____ (fieldstone)

Notes: Poss. marked at one time; if so, now illegible.

WOLFORD, Luvenia 10 Dec. 1847 – 17 Dec. 1898 (W/O George M. Wolford — and D/O William Blair & Serena Sloan)

Notes: Luvenia's marker has been broken across the bottom of the death date. The marker has been repaired, but part of the death date is missing.

_____, _____ (unmarked fieldstone)

BLAIR, Morgan 25 Dec. 1814 – 21 Dec. 1868 (H/O 1st Elizabeth Grider, 2nd Martha Jane Baldock — and S/O James & Nancy Blair)

Masonic emblem and "His last text – 2 Tim. 3, 5"; referenced text follows, now partially illegible. The full text of 2 Timothy 3:5 is as follows: 'Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away.'

(double marker)
BLAIR, John L. 10 April 1852 – 6 March 1923 (S/O Morgan Blair & Martha Jane Baldock)
BLAIR, Mattie L. 15 Oct. 1853 – __ April 1934 (day not given) (D/O William L. Carpenter & Nancy Calhoon)

Notes: John L. and Mattie's marker was replaced in the 1990s; the original marker had no death date for Mattie. (Blair Mattie L, died Adair Co., KY, 04-04-1935, cert # 18655, deathvol 1935).

Sixth Row:

CONOVER, Alva Retta Blair 1859 – 1918 (W/O Eldon Conover — and D/O Thomas S. Blair & Tisha A. Robertson)
"from the grandchildren with love" (marker erected 1989) The 1900 census places Alva's birth in Sept of 1892, and her marriage record in May of 1911 attests she was then 18 years old.

BLAIR, Julie 10 Dec. 1894 – 30 Dec. 1918 (1st W/O Willie Morgan Blair); Also, Julie's name is on the double marker with Willie Blair in the fifth row above.
"wife of W.M. Blair"

BLAIR, Burton 5 March 1813 – 9 July 1875 (S/O James Blair & Nancy 'Day')

BLAIR, Elizabeth 11 April 1818 – 13 June 1897 (D/O William Rippetoe, Jr. & Elizabeth Vincent)
"wife of Burton Blair"

_____, _____ (unmarked fieldstone)

_____, _____ (unmarked or illegible fieldstone)

Notes: Both of the above fieldstones are small markers. Possibly, they are for children's graves or are footmarkers for Serena Blair's grave and the grave next to hers.

LEACH, Lenorah 18 Sept. 1865 – 23 May 1866 (Possibly, D/O Samuel Leach & Katherine Powell) — If so, the death date is incorrect since Samuel and Katherine's daughter Lenorah was living at the 1870 census.

Notes: Marker is now (2007) loose from the base.

Seventh Row:

End of cemetery transcription

Miscellaneous Notes:

1 – As mentioned previously, Mary Blair, daughter of James and Nancy Blair, is believed to have been the first burial in the Blair Family cemetery. There is no evidence of this, or even of Mary's existence, beyond family tradition.

2 – In a previous transcription of this cemetery compiled on July 24, 1968, Mr. Richard Blair included a marker with the following information (verbatim):

Name	Born	Died
Blair, L.L. (Double stone)	[not given]	1-18-1953
Blair, B.H. (Double stone)	[not given]	1-18-1953

This double-marker is not in the cemetery as of 2007, nor has it been located there in recent years. A thorough search of Kentucky birth and death certificate abstracts, and a review of obituaries in 'The Russell County News' (newspaper published in Jamestown, Russell Co., KY) have yielded no additional information. Since Mr. Blair's transcription was alphabetized, no conclusions can be drawn about where in the cemetery the marker may have been located.

3 – The last marker in row three (J.B./1866) is a puzzler. It faces the 'wrong' way; i.e., the inscription faces directly toward the headmarker of James Blair Sr. Most of the markers in row three are 9 feet or more from the markers in row two, but this one is almost exactly 7 feet from James' headmarker. One, of many, possible explanations is that this is actually the footmarker for James Blair Sr.

† At the turn of the nineteenth century, early census records for the family of James and Nancy Day Blair suggest the possibility of additional children who died young. Accordingly, this could explain the apparent discontinuity in birth dates for their thirteen known children (see p. 45).

THE FAMILY OF JAMES BLAIR[1] AND NANCY DAY

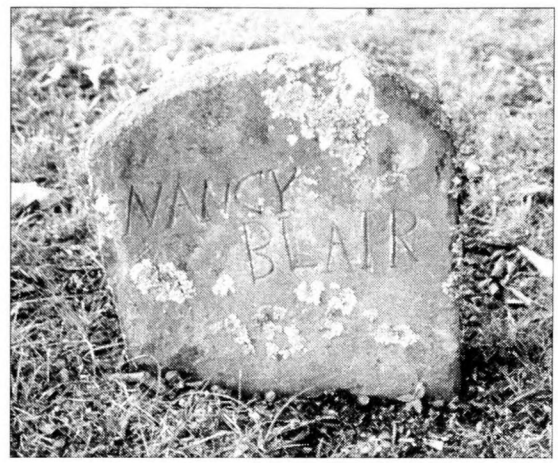

ANALYSIS OF EARLY CENSUS RECORDS

By Jim Garner[†]

James Blair, Sr. and Nancy Day married c.1799 in Burke County, North Carolina and moved first by 1814 to Cumberland County, Kentucky, then by 1817 to neighboring Adair County (Russell County by 1826) where they raised thirteen known children. In Burke Co., NC the 1800 census shows the Blair family with one male child <10, and the 1810 census numerates three males and two females <10. By the 1820 census of Adair Co., KY there were three males and three females <10, one male and one female 10 -16, as well as one male and one female 16-26. Three more children were born by early 1826.

Although there were thirteen known issue of James and Nancy Day Blair, a thorough review of census records (p. 44) suggests the possibility of one or two additional children who died young. Plausible scenarios for other issue born early in the marriage include: (1) the male child, under age 10 in the 1800 and 1810 censuses of Burke Co., NC, was the firstborn child who died prior to the 1820 census; (2) James, Jr. was the firstborn male child under age 10 in the 1800 census, and the additional male child age under 10 in the 1810 census was born c.1809; or (3) there were two additional male children, one born c.1800 who died before 1810, and another born c.1809 who died before 1820. The last two propositions suggest the birth c.1809 of a male child who died young, and could explain the 6-year interval between the births of Margaret in 1807 and Burton in 1813. The known issue of James and Nancy Blair follow below with a corresponding page index.

On March 9, 1860 (shortly before the outset of the American Civil War), Morgan Blair (S/O James and Nancy Day Blair) donated a parcel of land on Big Clifty Creek for the purpose of erecting a Schoolhouse which also was for neighborhood preaching (Russell County, Kentucky Deed Book G, pp. 428-429).

Ephraim Alvin Lawless (1869-1959), the grandson of Burton and Elizabeth Rippetoe Blair (see p. 267), attended the Blair School during the 1870s and, in later life, often reflected on those early years as he shared memories with daughter Elsie Lawless Culbreath. According to Ephraim† and Mrs. Culbreath, the original Blair Schoolhouse was of log construction and "the desks were slanting boards attached to the walls supported by posts. The seats had no backs and were made of split logs. There was no desk for the teacher. There were very few lamps, mostly candles. Several smoothed boards made the blackboard (which was) smeared with lamp black, and (was) very dirty to use. When church (Baptist and Methodist) or literary were held in the school house, candles and the fireplace were used for light." Later, this original log structure of the Blair Schoolhouse was replaced by the clapboard building in the photograph above.

By the twentieth century, the one-room schoolhouse was a mainstay of rural America, affording public education in a central locale and serving as a modest community center for religious and administrative activities. The typical external framework was of clapboard construction, and the enclosed single room contained only the basic amenities — a water pail and dipper for refreshment and a pot-bellied stove for comfort during the long winter months. The teacher's desk up front was flanked by a recitation bench and the children of all grades sat attentively on primitive benches or double-seats nailed securely to the floor.

When school was not in session the building did not sit vacant until students returned another day, but also was employed by the general public as a religious and civic center where ministers implored their congregation, politicians roused their constituency, and neighbors gathered to exchange ideas on recent events of national and local concern. Accordingly, the one-room schoolhouse was used for the education of America's rural youth — and for the cultural, political and spiritual enlightenment of the local populace.

† Ephraim Lawless, the son of Reuben and Nancy Blair Lawless, migrated with his parents from Russell Co., KY to Sumner Co., KS in 1882. In 1893 he joined others settlers in the historic Oklahoma Cherokee Strip Run (Race) and secured 160 acres for his family in Deer Creek, OK.

James Blair, Jr. and Sarah 'Sallie' Mayberry married in Russell County, Kentucky where they were consistently enumerated in census records until their death in the late 1800s. They lived in the vicinity of Reynolds Creek and raised a family of five children. The ancestry of Sarah Mayberry is unknown and the Mayberry surname does not appear in the 1820 census records of Adair Co., KY or in censuses of Adair and Russell County in 1830, 1840 and 1850. Moreover, one may only speculate where James and Sarah were interred since there are no identified cemetery markers or corroborating family records.

Hector Owen and Sarena Josephine Bryant Grider (c.1930)

By 1800, Josephine's paternal great grandparents, John Sr. and Elizabeth Bryant, settled along Russell Creek in the part of Green County that became Adair Co., KY in 1802. Her paternal grandparents, William & Rhoda Hardin Bryant also settled on Russell Creek, and their oldest son Milton (father of Josie) married Phoebe Foley in 1854. After Milton died in 1867 and Phoebe in 1875, Josie lived in Russell County by the 1880 census with her brother Cary T. Bryant. In 1881 she married Hector Owen Grider in Russell County and they settled near Big Clifty Creek.

George 'Wash' Grider (c.1930)

Evaline Womack Grider (c.1930)

Evaline's parents were William Womack and Elizabeth Shores. Though Elizabeth's heritage is uncertain, the marriage records of her children attest she grew up in adjoining Clinton County, perhaps in the area that derived from Wayne County in 1836. William Womack was the son of Jesse Womack and Delilah Blair (D/O James & Nancy Day Blair). Jesse Womack, born in Bedford Co., Virginia in the late 1790s, migrated to Adair Co., KY in the early 1800s with his parents William Womack and Rachel Gilpin. William, the son of Jesse Womack Sr. & Sarah Daniel, was a Virginia native who served in the Virginia Line during the Revolutionary War.

TORNADOES OF MAY 9, 1933 DEVASTATE RESIDENTS OF SOUTHERN KENTUCKY AND NORTHERN TENNESSEE

During the turbulent Tuesday evening of May 9, 1933 George Washington and Evaline Womack Grider died when a family of destructive tornadoes killed more than sixty unsuspecting residents in south-central Kentucky (Adair, Monroe and Russell Counties) and in northern Tennessee (33 of 35 deaths in TN were in Beatty Swamps of Overton County). According to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), the dominant storm in Kentucky was an F4-class tornado which carved a catastrophic path (800 yards wide and 60 miles long) through several southern counties, extending "northeast from southwest of Tompkinsville (Monroe County), passing through that town, destroying 60 homes and killing 18 people. In northwest Russell County the funnel was reported to be a mile wide, killing 14 people (near) Russell Springs." A newspaper narrative in the May 17, 1933 edition of the Adair County News further illustrates the widespread devastation:

"Sections of Northern Tennessee and Southern Kentucky were laid in ruins on Tuesday night of last week (May 9, 1933) when swept by one of the most terrific tornadoes ever recorded in this part of the United States. The storm came out of the southwest at about 8:30 (PM), according to witnesses, swept eastward and returned along the same path a little past 11:00 o'clock that night. It (F4 tornado) passed (in Adair County) within five miles (south) of Columbia and in Russell County within about one-half mile (north) of Russell Springs. (A smaller F2-class tornado also passed near Sparksville en route to Columbia).

Five persons were killed or died as a result of injuries in Adair County. They were: Mr. and Mrs. George (Wash) Grider, of near Gentry's Mill; Bess Jones, colored, of Gadberry; Al (Alfred) Duvall and Ernestine Duvall, colored, of the Zion neighborhood. Rev. and Mrs. Roy Rediford and their 3-year-old child, all natives of this county, were killed in Tompkinsville (Monroe County).

After wrecking towns and leaving a death toll of approximately (thirty-five) persons in Northern Tennessee, with particularly heavy losses at (Byrdstown) and Livingston, the storm swept through Monroe County (KY), demolished 100 homes in and near Tompkinsville and killed eighteen persons. [In 1933, a newspaper report in the Wayne County Outlook enumerated sixteen killed in Monroe County: Reverend (Roy) and Mrs. (Rose Compton) Rediford, and their two children (James William and Jessie Rediford); Mrs. Travis (Elsie Reecer) Tyree and children (Travis Jr. and Nelda Tyree); Mrs. James (Sallie Conkin) Coulter; W.F. (Westerfield) Anderson; Marnie Maxey; William Bailey; Miami Frain; Clara Hamilton; Anna Craig; and two unidentified girls].

The furious wind entered Adair southwest of Columbia and the first damage recorded was near Sparksville, where the home of Austin Gilpin and all outbuildings, with the exception of one old shack, (were) completely swept away. The Gilpin family (who lived on the Gradyville-Sparksville Road) had retired for the night when their house was blown over. A small boy who was sleeping on the second floor, managed to crawl uninjured from the ruins and ran several miles through the wind and rain to his grandparents for aid. Mr. (Austin) and Mrs. (Clara Rowe) Gilpin were both rescued but were ill from injuries and shock. The house owned by Ed Wheeler and family of Sparksville was also damaged by the wind.

The tornado cut a wide swath through Flat Woods (northeast of Sparksville), sweeping timber and small buildings in its path and passed (east) into the Gadberry neighborhood, where very serious damage was recorded. The home of Amanda Jones (W/O Bram Jones), of color, was destroyed, her daughter, Bess Jones, 35 years old, was killed and four others were injured. Aunt Mary Jones, also colored, lost her house and a nine-year-old girl living there suffered a broken arm and other injuries.

The storm passed into the Zion neighborhood, wiping out a tenant house on the farm of Mr. Ernest Flowers, occupied by Al Duvall, of color, and family. A 7-year-old girl, Ernestine Duvall, was killed and six others in the family were badly injured. They were rushed to the Lebanon Hospital, where (Al) Duvall died on Thursday. His wife (Pearl Allen Duvall) is not expected to live.

Thousands of dollars worth of the finest timber in Adair County was destroyed on the farm of Miss Fannie (Sarah Frances) Holladay and Mr. W.A. (William Anthony) Garnett (of Zion). A barn belonging to Mr. Charlie Tupman was blown away.

The storm, moving eastward in its fury, swept away the new house of Irene Taylor, of color, in the White Oak section (Adair County). Rainfall schoolhouse was destroyed. The house and outbuildings of Mr. Sam Conover were blown away but Mr. Conover, his wife (Bessie L. Grider) and two children, who were sleeping in the house, were uninjured. White Oak church was damaged by a falling tree. Much other damage is reported in that section and in the Bailey neighborhood where Luther Bailey's place was wrecked and blown away.

The heaviest loss of life occurred near Gentry's Mill just before the tornado swept into Russell County. Mr. and Mrs. George (Washington) Grider were killed outright when their home and outbuildings were blown to pieces. Mrs. Nathan Blankenship, who lives just over the county line in Russell, was also killed. Theo Bryant, also of Russell County, was instantly killed, his wife injured and their home demolished. Fourteen persons are known to have died in Russell County and sixty-nine are reported injured." [In 1933, a narrative in the Wayne County Outlook enumerated the following twelve residents of Russell County who lost their lives that fateful night: Mrs. Ambrose (Julia Emerson) Smith and daughter Odine; Mrs. Nathan (Prudy Loy) Blankenship; H. Hoffley; Willord (Wolfred) Meece; Herman Brown; Miss Brown; Annalean Rexroat – the baby daughter of Alex and Mrs. (Zelma Irvin) Rexroat; Charles McElroy; J.M. Luttrell; Malcom Wilson – S/O Hettie E. Richardson Wilson; Mrs. Robert (Ruth) Halsell].

George and Sarah Jane Grider Holt (c.1934)

Enos P. Rumbo was the grandson of Enos Rambo, Sr. (b. circa 1765 in Botetourt Co., VA). Enos Sr. migrated to Green Co., TN by 1805, Wayne Co., KY by 1808, and Adair Co., KY by 1815 where he married Elizabeth Emmitt (4th wife). Their first son Jehu, born circa 1827, married Susan Holt and one of their sons, Enos P., later married Sarah Jane Grider. After Enos P. Rumbo died prematurely in 1887, family tradition suggests Sarah was overwhelmed by her loss and later entrusted her children to the Southern Methodist Home in Louisville, KY. In 1895 she married George R. Holt and settled in Taylor Co., KY, where she became mother to six additional children.

The Pantagraph, Thursday, January 21, 1999: "Vena 'Rosie' Blair, 89, of 509 N. Adelaide St., Normal, died at 7:05 p.m. Tuesday (Jan. 19, 1999) at Heritage Manor Nursing Home, Normal. There will be no service or visitation. She donated her body to medical science. Interment will be at a later date at Funks Grove Cemetery, rural McLean. Miss Blair was born Sept. 27, 1909, in Glensfork, Ky., a daughter of Willis and Bonnie Lee Hadley Blair. Surviving is one sister, Ila Blair, Normal. She was preceded in death by her parents and three brothers. Miss Blair was a well-known cook in the Bloomington-Normal area. During the early 1950s she and her sister actively supported the March of Dimes by producing and serving dinners to the public, the proceeds from which amounted to almost $1,000 each year, which they contributed to the Polio Auction. Miss Blair had owned and operated Rosie's Cafe on South Main Street in Bloomington from 1944 to 1948. She later operated the employees' cafeteria at Funks Seed Co. and the Peoples Bank of Bloomington, retiring from the bank in 1981."

Birth - 1838 Russell Co., KY; Death - 1923 Adair Co., KY (two separate death certificates below)
Burial - White Cem., Sulphur Creek Rd., Adair Co., KY

Emily Blair did not marry. In the 1850 and 1860 censuses of Russell Co., KY, she resided in the household of her parents James Jr. and Sarah Mayberry Blair, and in the household of her widowed mother in 1870. By the Russell County census of 1880, Emily (along with her mother) lived in the household of Warner Blair. In late 1880, she was officially declared a pauper and spent time with several families through the turn of the twentieth century. By the census of 1900 in Adair Co., KY, she resided in the Little Cake Precinct with the family of Doctor B. White. At her death in 1923, Emily was buried at White Cemetery, on Sulphur Creek Rd. in Adair Co., KY. Two Kentucky death certificates were then filed for Emily, both denoting her caretaker as D.B. White. On the first certificate (#12535) her birth and death dates were recorded as April 1838 and May 23 1923 respectively, but the second certificate (#22607) specifies her birth as April 1835 and death as May 15 1923. Equally perplexing is the inscription"Died April 23 1927," engraved on her cemetery marker. All things considered, the death year of 1927 likely is incorrect since the two Kentucky death certificates filed for Emily were recorded in May of 1923.

S/O William Womack & Rachel Gilpin

In 1780 William Womack (born 1762, S/O Jesse Sr. & Sarah Daniel Womack) was about eighteen years old when in he enlisted and served in the Virginia Line during the Revolutionary War (Pension #S37505). After marriage to Rachel Gilpin in Bedford Co., VA on 28 Oct 1797, William migrated with his family to Kentucky and was on the tax rolls of Adair County by 1807. Here, the Womack family joined the legions of early ambitious settlers drawn to the affordable, but rock-laden hills nestled among the rambling tributaries of the Cumberland and Green Rivers of south-central Kentucky (p. 34).

Years later, when he applied for his military pension on 7 Oct 1822 (Adair County, KY Order Book D-321), William indicated he was sixty years old, married to Rachel who was about forty-four year old, and was the father of eleven children, two of whom were married and nine of whom (eight daughters and one son) were living with him. Of those in his home, four were nearly grown, one was "deranged," two were nearly deaf, and none were healthy. He further testified he was "crippled" and unable to work, and his wife was in declining health with a cough and possibly with "consumption." When his wife died after her extended illness, William Womack was about sixty-eight years old when he married Mary "Polly" Judd in Adair Co., KY. After William died on 20 Apr 1847, Polly's ensuing Revolutionary War Pension application of 15 Nov 1850 stated she and William had married on 14 Feb 1830 (Adair County, KY Order Book G, pp. 342, 350, 366, & 410 and Order Book H, pp. 79 & 105; also Genealogical Abstracts of Revolutionary War Pension Files, abstracted by Virgil D. White, 1992).

Jesse, born in the Blue Ridge foothills of Bedford Co., VA, was the first child of William and Rachel Gilpin Womack and was not yet a teenager when his family migrated after the turn of the nineteenth century to the expanding frontier west of the Appalachian Mountains. Jesse Womack and Delilah Blair (D/O James & Nancy Day Blair) were approximately twenty-three and eighteen years old respectively when they married on 7 May 1821. They remained in Adair County through the difficult years of the ante-bellum era and became parents of seven children who were named in Jesse's will of 12 February 1859 (p. 105), and who were further recognized in census and marriage records of Adair County, KY.

Although Jesse Womack died by the spring of 1863, Delilah probably remained at the old homestead until early 1867, at which time the estate was sold (Adair County, KY Will Bk I, p. 202). She was enumerated in the household of her son Harrison at the 1880 census. Soon thereafter, possibly after her death and after the lamentable hanging of her son-in-law Rudolph Fitzpatrick in 1884 (p. 137), two of Delilah's children (Harrison and Milton) relinquished their homes in Kentucky and made their way further west to Missouri where Harrison settled in Carroll County and Milton in Greene County.

A. JOHN W. WOMACK[3] (Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr.[1])
Birth - Abt 1823 Adair Co., KY; Death - 25 Apr 1886 Adair Co., KY; Burial - Adair Co., KY

John's death date is from The Descendants of William and Mary Jane Womack, 6th edition, 1990, by Carlos Womack. Likely, his source was the family of Ida Womack Workman Ogg of Decatur, IN.

m. ELVIRA 'JULIA' LEACH 25 Dec 1844 Adair Co., KY
Birth - Abt 1825 KY; Death - 1880 Adair Co., KY; Burial - Adair Co., KY; site unknown

Elvira was living when the household of John Womack was canvassed on the 1st day of June for the 1880 census of Adair Co., KY, but was deceased when the Adair County Court of Claims, a division of the Quarterly Court, met in October of 1880 and issued a legal directive to confer payment to N.M. Tutt for the construction of a coffin and to W.C. Willis for burial clothes provided for the interment of Mrs. John Womack, recently deceased (Death Records of Adair Co., KY prior to 1900 by M. Watson).

The compilation by Carlos Womack suggests John W. Womack married twice, and further argues his children from this additional union included Ellen and George Womack (see pp. 111 & 112). However, in extant civil registers of south-central Kentucky, there are no records which corroborate this second marriage — and John's wife was specifically identified as Elvira in the Adair Co., KY census records of 1860, 1870, and 1880. If John remarried, presumably, he did so in the six-year interval between Elvira's death in 1880 and his death in 1886. Nonetheless, available records indicate Elvira was not the only mother of John's many children — see Julia Womack, p. 114.

1. JOHN DUDLEY WOMACK[4] (John W. Womack[3], Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr.[1])
Birth - 10 Nov 1843 Adair Co., KY (possibly, birth year was after 1843 — see below)
Death - 4 Feb 1923 Decatur, Adams Co., IN; Burial - George Ogg Cem., Green Co., KY

Birth and death dates are from John Dudley's obituary which contained information provided by his then-surviving family. However, his parent's date of marriage (25 Dec 1844) suggests John's birth year possibly was after 1843. Additionally, his age was stated as 78 rather than 79 in in the 1923 obituary from the Decatur Democrat, Adams Co., IN (see obituary, p. 108).

During the Civil War, John "Womac" enlisted on 17 Oct 1863 with Company L of the 13th (Union) Calvary Regiment of KY. He mustered out of service on 10 January 1865 at Camp Nelson, KY (Report of the Adjutant General of the State of Kentucky, pub. 1866 by Harney).

John Dudley m. 1st Mary Ann Stinson, 2nd Sarah M. Polson (p. 108), 3rd Nancy Ann Mears.

m. 1st MARY ANN STINSON 9 Aug 1871 Green Co., KY
Birth - 1848 Wayne Co., KY; Death - 28 Oct 1896 Green Co., KY. The death date is from The Descendants of William and Mary Jane Womack by Carlos Womack; likely, the source was Ida Womack Workman Ogg, who also provided the obituary of John Dudley Womack.
D/O John C. Stinson & Dillie Culvert (the Stinson family moved by 1860 from Wayne Co., KY to Adair Co., KY).

The marriage record of John Dudley and Mary Stinson indicates both lived in Green County, KY in 1871. By the 1880 census, they were enumerated with Ida, Burgonoy, and Claude in the Cane Valley Precinct of northern Adair Co., KY, near the Adair-Green County border. By the census of 1900, the family of John Dudley and 2nd wife Sarah Polson resided in Bluff Boom, Green Co., KY — a short distance east of Greensburg (see map, p. 34).

Only three years after his third marriage, John Dudley died 4 Feb 1923 at his daughter's Indiana residence. The following obituary is from the Decatur Democrat, Adams Co., IN.

"JOHN DUDLEY WOMACK DIED SUNDAY

February 4, 1923 a native of Kentucky, ... John Dudley Womack, age 78 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ida Ogg in this city, at 9:15 o'clock Sunday morning, following an illness with a growth in the stomach. Mr. Womack was a retired farmer and has resided in this city about two years.

Funeral services will be held from the residence at 7:30 o'clock this evening with the Rev. Gibson officiating. The relatives will leave with the body at 12:03 o'clock tonight for Bluff Boone (sic, Boom), *Kentucky where interment will take place. m. DANIEL MARTIN DUKE 11 Jun 1863 Adair Co., KY
Birth - 7 Apr 1836 Jackson Co., AL (possibly Jackson Co., TN)
Death - 23 Dec 1922 Van Buren Co., TN; S/O Stephen Duke & Nancy McBride. The 1836 birth year is courtesy of Lucretia Morales (historian for the Burge families of Texas, p. 110). Even so, census records of 1850, 1870 and 1880 suggest Daniel's birth was ca. 1843-46, which would explain his legal rationale for requesting a guardian prior to marriage in 1863.

On Wednesday, 10 Jun 1863 "Daniel M. Duke(s), being above the age of fourteen years, did appear this day in court and made motion to nominate Arthur McFarland his guardian" (Adair Co., KY Order Book K, p. 194). The following day he married Mary Womack. Later that year, on 23 Dec 1863 Daniel enlisted with Company L of the 13th (Union) Calvary Regiment of KY. He mustered out of service on 10 January 1865 at Camp Nelson, KY (Report of the Adjutant General of the State of Kentucky, published 1866 by Harney).

After the death of Mary Womack Duke in 1878, Daniel Martin Duke married second Mary Lou Finn on 29 Dec 1881 in Adair Co., KY, and subsequent census records of Van Buren Co., TN indicate this marriage engendered two children – Martha (Aug 1883) and William (Aug 1886), both of whom were born in Adair Co., KY. In due course, after the birth of William in August of 1886, Daniel withdrew from Adair County, KY and on 1 Sep 1886 the Adair County Court entrusted the care of his daughter Cordelia to William R. Grissom. Also, on 17 Oct 1887, the Adair County, KY marriage bond of his daughter Mary/Maggie identified her guardian as L.M. Wilmore. Daniel moved to Van Buren Co., TN and married 3rd Malinda Wilson c.1893, 4th Sarah E. Pittman c.1909, & 5th Drucilla Pittman c.1915.

6. NANCY JANE WOMACK[4] (John W. Womack[3], Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr.[1])

m. LEWIS FINN 31 Dec 1878 Adair Co., KY
Birth - Abt 1825 Adair/Green Co., KY; Death - 29 Aug 1914 Jefferson Co., KY
Burial - Jeffersontown, Jefferson Co., KY

By 1887 Lewis lived in Jefferson Co., KY where he and brother-in-law George Womack were witnesses to the marriage of Ellen Womack Finn to George Arnold (see below). By the census of 1900, with no known children from his marriage to Nancy Jane Womack, Lewis was listed as a widower and lodger in the household of George and Ellen Arnold in Magisterial District 4, Jefferson Co., KY. By the census of 1910, he was enumerated in the "Jefferson County Poorhouse," where he remained until his death in 1914 (KY death records, Vol. 43, cert. #21473, death vol. 1914).

7. AMANDA ELLEN WOMACK[4] (John W. Womack[3], Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr.[1])
Birth - 14 Nov 1856 Russell Co., KY; date is from Russell Co., KY Vital Statistics.
Death - Aft 1923; lived in Louisville, KY in the 1923 obituary of brother John Dudley Womack.

m. 1st JOSEPH M. MARSHALL 16 Apr 1876 Adair Co., KY; Birth - Abt 1854 Adair Co., KY

In Adair Co., KY Marriage Book 8, pp. 252-253, Joseph's bride was identified as Amanda E. Womack (age 17, born in Adair Co., KY; daughter of John Womack).

m. 2nd WILLIAM J. FINN 5 Dec 1878 Adair Co., KY
Birth - Abt 1856 Adair Co., KY
Death - Presumably, before 11 Feb 1887 when Ellen married George Arnold
S/O Lewis & Jane Finn

In Adair Co., KY Marriage Book 9, pp. 362-363, William's bride was identified as Elizabeth Womack, age 22, b. in Adair Co., KY. However, in the household of William J. Finn in the 1880 census of Green Co., KY (Grove Precinct), she was identified as Ellen Finn, age 24.

Children of William & Ellen Womack Finn: JOHN FINN (1882) and GEORGE FINN (1885)

m. 3rd GEORGE ARNOLD 11 Feb 1887 Jefferson Co., KY
Birth - Abt 1847 in KY
Children: NANCY ARNOLD (1892) and ALBERT ARNOLD (1894) — both born Jeff. Co., KY

Jefferson County, Kentucky Marriage Book 14, p. 195 identified the bride as Ellen Finn; witnesses for this union were her brother George Womack and brother-in-law Lewis Finn.

Available records indicate Ellen Womack Finn Arnold, born on 14 Nov 1856, was the D/O John W. Womack of Adair County, KY. Although she was identified (or misidentified) as Elizabeth Womack in the Adair Co., KY record of her marriage to William Finn, the 1860 and 1870 census records of the John Womack household included no daughters named Elizabeth or Ellen. However, there was a daughter, born in 1856, who was enumerated as Amanda E. in 1860 and Amanda in 1870. If we assume the middle initial "E" was the contraction for Ellen, we could further infer Amanda Ellen was the daughter who married first Joseph Marshall, second William J. Finn, and third George Arnold. If so, in the Adair Co., KY record of her marriage to William J. Finn, it remains uncertain why her surname was recorded as Womack rather than Marshall.

8. LOUISA D. WOMACK[4] (John W. Womack[3], Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr.[1])
Birth - Abt 1858/59 Adair Co., KY

Louisa was enumerated in the household of John and Elvira Womack in the censuses of 1860 (age 1), 1870 (age 12) and 1880 (age 22). In the 1880 census, Samuel Womack (age 2) was also enumerated in the household of John Womack, while Nancy Womack (age 8) was listed next door in the household of Lucy A. Butler. Nancy's lineage is not clear, but on 6 March 1882 Samuel was recognized as the son of Louisa Womack in Adair Co., KY Order Book N, p. 228, wherein the Adair County Court ordered "Louisa Womack and Sam A. Womack, her child, be and they are hereby declared paupers and are ordered to the charge of the Keeper of the poor for this county and to be kept there until 1 Jun 1882." Subsequently (3 Oct 1882), the court ordered revocation of the above declaration (Adair Co., KY Order Book N, p. 395).

Before long, another child of unspecified Womack heritage was named in court documents of Adair Co., KY when, on 30 Oct 1886, the Adair County Court issued the following directive: "It appearing in proof before the court that ... Mattie Pearl Womack is a poor child and that her parents and relatives will not bring her up in a moral course, and on a motion of M.J. Earls and Martha A. Earls that she be bound unto them, she being in their possession since about 3 weeks old, they having made the apprenticeship, ... (the) court orders same to be recorded" (Adair Co., KY Order Bk. O, p. 138). Also, on 17 Jan 1898, the Adair County Court ordered "Martha Womack be and is declared a pauper" (Adair Co., KY Order Book Q, p. 582).

11. JULIA WOMACK[4] (John W. Womack[3], Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr.[1])
Birth - Abt 1867 Adair Co., KY (birth year is uncertain, see below)
Death - 8 Dec 1932 Jefferson Co., KY
Burial - Risinger Cem., Jefferson Co., KY

In the Adair Co., KY household of John and Elvira Womack, Julia was not enumerated in the census of 1 Jun 1860, but was listed as three years old in the census of 15 Aug 1870. When she wed William Tarter on 28 Nov 1878, her age was entered as twenty-one on the marriage record, likely in error. If we assume the census entries were correct (or nearly so), this would suggest Julia was little more than three years old at the 1870 census and was conspicuously young when she married William Tarter in 1878. When she married second husband Sidney Arnold on 15 Jul 1906 in Louisville, KY, Julia had resumed her maiden surname, Womack. Julia and Sidney (b. 2 Jun 1864, d. 22 Nov 1921, buried Arnoldtown Cem., Jeff. Co., KY) were without issue, but her first marriage to William Tarter engendered Dallas and Elenora. At her death, Julia lived in Louisville with her brother George who, as death certificate (#29198) informant, stated Julia was born about 1870, the daughter of John Womack and Lyeria Finn.

D. HARRISON WOMACK[3] (Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr[1])
Birth - 11 Dec 1829 Adair Co., KY; date is from the family of Mary Elizabeth Womack Nelson, p . 140, but 25 Nov 1825 was entered on Harrison's death cert. #26306, informant dau. Mary Womack Cagle.
Death - 14 Aug 1912 Kansas City, Jackson Co., MO
Burial - Mt. Washington Cem., Jackson Co., MO

Harrison's birth date of 11 Dec 1829 is from Deborah Van Sant Legrand, a great-great granddaughter of Harrison Womack through Sylvester Womack (p. 140). This date correlates closely with Nov 1829 recorded in the 1900 census of Carroll Co., MO. On the other hand, 1825 is the birth year implied by his obituary published in the Republican Record (newspaper of Carroll County, Missouri, 1904-1981). Moreover, the birth year of 1825 correlates with the date recorded on his Missouri death certificate.

During the Civil War, Harrison enlisted as a Private with the Union Army on 4 October 1861 at Camp Hobson near Greensburg, KY. Then, on 31 Dec 1861, he enlisted in Company B of the 13th Infantry Regiment of Kentucky, and eventually mustered out of service on 12 January 1865 in Louisville, KY (data from Report of the Adjutant General of the State of Kentucky, published 1866 by Harney).

Burial will be in Mount Washington Cemetery (Kansas City, MO). Mr Womack was for many years a resident of Wakenda and is well known here. He was a Veteran of the Civil War, was a member of the 13th Kentucky Infantry. In the winter of 1863 & 64, he was wounded at Strawberry Plains Tenn, which rendered him a cripple for life."

THE KILLING OF MILLER BREWSTER AND HANGING OF THE FITZPATRICK BROTHERS

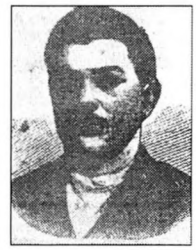

To this day, more than 120 years after the fact, the descendants of the Fitzpatrick and Womack families sadly remember when Rudolph and Champ Fitzpatrick were convicted of murder and sentenced to death on the gallows of Adair County, Kentucky, as lawful penance for a crime that stunned the local populace on election day in August of 1883. The events surrounding the murder of Miller Brewster, and the subsequent hanging of the Fitzpatrick brothers, were reviewed in 2001 by Michael Watson in An Adair County, Kentucky History, Vol. I, pp. 441-447. That noteworthy review of court records and contemporaneous newspaper articles further validates our long-standing lore of the Fitzpartick-Brewster tragedy. In the abridged narrative below, the original sources are integrated for continuity and parenthetically edited for clarity:

Traditional Gallows of the Late-Nineteenth Century

Rude Fitzpatrick

Champ Fitzpatrick

"Rude [Rudolph] and Champ [Champriese] Fitzpatrick were hanged at Columbia yesterday, March [21], 1884, for the brutal murder of Miller Brewster. The scaffold was erected near the center of the town on the back part of the lot where the clerk's office stands, about 100 yards from the jail. About the scaffold was a rope barrier, within which none were allowed; except officers, guards, clergymen, reporters, and the condemned men. The scaffold was 12 feet square with the floor being eight feet from the ground. In the center was a trap door upon which the two brothers stood side-by-side.

The murder, which these men have just expiated with their lives, was committed at Neatsville, a voting place of Adair County, on August 6, 1883. This was the day of the election for state officers. Miller Brewster, the victim, and Rude and Champ Fitzpatrick had been in the employ of Mr. James Pelly, a farmer of the Neatsville section, who rather gave the preference to Brewster in matters connected with work on the farm. This gave rise to jealously and hatred on the part of the Fitzpatricks against Brewster and paved the way for the tragedy, which followed.

[Rude Fitzpatrick was 31 years old and portrayed as tall, slender, and light-haired, with a nervous and excitable temperament. His younger brother Champ, who lived at home with his widowed mother, was 23 years old and described as short and stoutly built, with dark hair and a dull countenance. Rude could read but not write, whereas Champ could neither read nor write. When all was said and done, both men were known for their contentious demeanor that spurred the final deadly confrontation with Brewster.]

[Miller Brewster, a man in his forties, had married Didama Hatfield in Casey Co., KY in 1870. He was the father of several young children, one of whom, a son, accompanied him to Neatsville on election day in early August of 1883 and witnessed the deadly confrontation with the Fitzpatrick brothers. Purportedly, Champ accused Brewster of telling lies and spreading unwarranted rumors about him, but Brewster denied the allegations and declared he would retract any comments that may have unwittingly offended Champ, for he wanted no trouble. At this point, according to witnesses, Champ struck him and knocked his hat to the ground. As Brewster picked it up and turned to leave, Champ seized him by the hair and repeatedly slashed him with a knife, inflicting deep wounds that bled profusely. Rudolph, who now had defiantly joined the scuffle to aid his brother, placed a pistol close to Brewster and shot him through the body. In this final moment, Champ impulsively drew his own pistol, circled the now helpless victim, and shot him through the head at close range — killing him instantly.]

[Rude and Champ Fitzpatrick fled the scene of the crime but were quickly captured. They were tried and found guilty of murder by a local jury which included J.H. Wilson, Creed Hood, Matterson Brockman, William Wilson, J.R. White, Matthew Sparks, J.P. Sinclair, James Brockman, William Holladay, G.R. Bennett, J.M. Johnson, and foreman George Nell. The brothers were sentenced to hang on December 7, 1883, but appeals to Kentucky governor James Knott deferred the execution date to February 20, 1884, then later to March 21, 1884. As the day of atonement drew near, a final petition to the governor on March 14, 1884 requested the sentence be commuted from death to life imprisonment, but the appeal was rejected and the hanging proceeded as planned.]

After they were prepared for the gallows, [on the day of execution, Friday, March 21, 1884], Champ got upon his knees and offered a prayer for his brother, Rudolph, who was going to die for defending his [Champ's] life, and while he was praying, Rude knelt in front of him and groaned and sobbed pitifully. After this scene Rev. D.S. Campbell of the Methodist Church delivered a touching prayer on their behalf.

The brothers walked to the scaffold with firm steps, stopping once or twice to speak to friends along the route. The scaffold was reached at 1:20 p.m. Going up the 11 steps to be hanged, the prisoners sang 'I Will Arise To Go To Jesus.' On reaching the top of the scaffold they sang 'Come Thou Font Of Every Blessing.'

Champ then advanced to the front of the scaffold and addressed the crowd saying: 'Kind friends, I am here to die and it is not just, but my Heavenly Father has blessed me and will take me home to glory. I want you all to take fair warning by me. Oh mercy, try to meet me in the other world.'

Rude then stepped forward and said: 'My friends I am here to die and it is not just, but God is with me. I am glad to see so great a congregation here today. The way I got into this trouble was in defending my brother. I trust you will all take fair warning from this. I see lots of my friends here. Take fair warning. Young men, now take your start on the right way. This is my last day on earth, but it will soon be the bright day of glory. I have a good, kind father who has been in the grave for years. I am going to him. You young men who pack them pistols, for God's sake, lay them down and pick up a Testament. I have been treated kindly by the jailer and guards. The preachers have been good to me. Not less than 75 have been to see me, and I thank them for it. Boys take fair warning. I leave all persons with kindness, forgive all, and hope to be forgiven. I hope you will never see such a sight as this in Columbia no more. It is God's will, I reckon, and of course I ought to put up with it. Boys, you have to pass away sometime, and you know not the day or hour. There is a neighbor who I dearly love. Think of my old gray-headed mother [Parthenia], now nearly ready for the grave. What a trial this is for her. I ask God for mercy for this world. I have not much more to say, I might as well give up and go.'

Both brothers were much affected while speaking. A number of persons on the scaffold shook hands with the prisoners. Rude and Champ then stepped upon the drop [where they knelt as a final prayer was offered in their behalf by Reverend Sandidge]. At the close of the prayer, Rude sent a message to a friend to go with his remains and see them put away, and added, 'God be with me, I return home to Heaven.'

Sheriff George M. Wolford then tied the rope around Rude's neck, while Deputy Sheriff Thomas Turner performed the same melancholy chore for Champ. [By custom, black hoods were made available to shroud their faces, but were respectfully declined.] Both men were evidently much agitated, but neither broke down. They stood side by side upon the drop. One of the ministers exhorted them to put their trust in Jesus.

At a sign from the sheriff, Deputy Sheriff James T. Yates cut the rope. At 1:37 p.m. the trap door fell. The fall was a little less than four feet. Champ's neck was not broken. Whether Rude's was or not, the attending physicians [B.F. Wood and Melvin Rhorer] were not agreed upon. Champ was dead in eight minutes and Rude in 11½.

After hanging 15 minutes, the bodies were cut down, placed in poplar coffins, and removed to the courthouse. They will be claimed tomorrow by relatives and taken [by Lorenzo A.D. Neat and Rudolph Logan Neat] to the Tabernacle Church, near Neatsville, where their graves are already dug. Interment will take place Sunday. [Later that year, in the October session of 1884, the Adair County Court of Claims, a division of the Quarterly Court, issued a directive to confer payment to J.T. Eubank for the scaffold and coffins, and to to the Columbia firm of Wheat and Russell for the burial clothes used by the Fitzpatrick Brothers.]

The crowd that witnessed the execution was doubtless the largest ever seen in Columbia, being estimated by good judges at 7,000 — It was a very orderly crowd."

Epilogue: Rudolph Fitzpatrick (19 May 1852 – 21 Mar 1884), Champriese Fitzpatrick (4 Apr 1860 – 21 Mar 1884).

Birth - 2 Jan 1909 Jonesboro, Craighead Co., AR
Possibly, Hazel was adopted by George and Maude McCann of Kansas City, Wyandotte County, KS. Tradition suggests she later married and gave birth to at least one daughter.

Birth - 25 Sep 1877 Adair Co., KY; Death - 5 Nov 1880 Adair Co., KY
Burial - Montgomery Cem., Adair Co., KY (gravestone inscription — Breaney, son of H. and A.)

When Harrison's family was canvassed for the 1900 census of Carroll Co., MO, Anna Womack indicated she was the mother of eight children, of whom five were then living. Presumably, her three deceased children were Bryant (d. 1859), Brean (d. 1880), and Nancy (d. before 1900).

E. WILLIAM WOMACK[3] (Delilah Blair Womack[2], James Blair Sr[1])
Birth - 11 May 1835 Adair Co., KY; Death - 14 Jan 1906 Adair Co., KY
Burial - Womack Cem., Hwy 80, Adair Co., KY

During the Civil War, William Womack enlisted as a Private with the Union Army on 2 October 1861 at Camp Hobson near Greensburg, KY. Then, on 31 Dec 1861, he enlisted in Company B of the 13th Infantry Regiment of Kentucky, but later received a disability discharge on 8 Sep 1862 (data from Report of the Adjutant General of the State of Kentucky, published 1866 by Harney).

Adair County News, 24 Jan 1906: "At a late meeting of Hood Lodge No. 602, F. and A.M., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted: Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Grand Master of the Universe, to call from our midst to the Grand Lodge on High, our lamented and esteemed friend and brother, Wm. Wormack, who departed this life on January 14, 1906. He was 71 years of age, had been a Mason for 21 years, and was a Baptist minister..."

m. SUSANAH 'SUSAN' ELIZABETH SHORES 1 Dec 1856 Adair Co., KY
Birth - 4 Apr 1830 KY; Death - 8 May 1908 ACo., KY; Burial - Womack Cem., Adair Co., KY

In their marriage records, four children of Susanah Elizabeth Shores (Martha, Mary, Octavia, and William) identified their mother's birth site as Clinton Co., KY, and one (James) placed her birth in Wayne Co., KY. The death certificate of one daughter (Sarah Womack Allison) suggests Susanah was born in Cumberland Co., KY. Since Clinton County was not created from Cumberland and Wayne Counties until 1836, the birth of Susanah Elizabeth in 1830 places her origin in either Cumberland or Wayne Counties. Marriage records confirm several members of the Shores family (William, William Jr., Elizabeth and Nancy) lived in Wayne Co., KY as early as 1803, and the census records of Wayne County name Martin Shores in 1830, Julia Shores (age 18) in 1850, and David Shores (age 34) in 1870. In Cumberland Co., KY, Frederick Shores was enumerated in censuses of 1810 and 1820, but in neighboring Clinton Co., KY the Shores surname does not appear in the censuses of 1840, 1850, 1860 or 1870.

Birth - 13 Dec 1858 TN
Death - 2 Jan 1951 Spokane Co., WA; resided with his daughter Hattie S. Simpson Dodge.

Elias Harrison Simpson and new bride Mary Tuesy Womack (1880s tintype)

The 1883 marriage bond for Elias Harrison Simpson and Mary Tuesy Womack indicates a previous marriage for Harrison. In the 1880 census of Hardyville in Hart Co., KY, Elias H. Simpson (age 21, born TN) was enumerated with his wife Nancy B. McKinney (age 21) and son Harrison E. (age 2, born KY). Nancy McKinney was of Cherokee heritage and oral family tradition suggests she soon abandoned the marriage in the early 1880s and returned to the family of her maiden ancestry. In due course, after 2nd wife Mary Tuesy Simpson died in 1925, the elderly Harrison lived with son Harry Elmo in the 1930 census of Russell County, KY. Harry, also a widower, married Francis Cook on 30 Aug 1935 but died soon thereafter on 23 Oct 1935. His father then moved to Spokane, WA to live with daughter Hattie S. who married Warren Gordon Dodge.

During the Civl War, Daniel (S/O Peter Bryant and Ann McAllister) enlisted on 31 March 1862 and served in Company D, 5th Cavalry Regiment of Kentucky. On 20 Dec 1862 he died in Nashville, Tennessee from illness contracted during his fleeting military service (from Report of the Adjutant General of the State of KY, pub. 1866 by Harney). Daniel and Lockey Grider Bryant were parents of two children, John M. (1857) and Timolean (1860), both of whom were briefly assigned to guardian Charles Bryant 7 Dec 1874 (Adair County, KY Guardian's Bonds). "MRS. WOMACK RITES HELD THURSDAY

Mrs. Josie Womack died Nov. 25. She was the widow of the late Logan Womack who preceded her to the grave two years ago. She was the mother of eight children, four of whom survive. They are Otha Womack who is confined in a hospital in Outwood, Ky., Edd Womack of Liberty, Lucian Womack and Ella Foley who lived with their mother at the time of her demise. We wish to thank all those who were so kind to her during her sickness. She was a child of God as was evidenced by the life she lived. Mother cannot come back to us but we expect to meet her in heaven some sweet day. We will miss her much but we know our loss is heaven's gain.—The children"

NANNIE P. WOMACK

BORN
APR. 7, 1898

DIED
DEC. 8, 1908

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home
That never can be filled.

The year of 1908 was a time of great loss for the family of Logan and Josie Womack. Just three months before her brutal murder in December (page 174), Nannie lost her brother O.B. Womack who was only two years old when he died from complications of scarlatina. Most likely, O.B. is buried at the family cemetery in a now unmarked gravesite.

Nannie P. Womack was brutally murdered Tuesday, December 8, 1908 while on her way home from school in Mt. Olive, Russell County, Kentucky. The following week the alleged assailant, Elmer Hill, was abducted from his jail cell and summarily lynched by a mob of local citizens incensed by the harrowing events of the preceding week. The ancestral heritage of Elmer Hill is not known with certainty, but early newspaper reports uniformly identified him as a cousin of the victim. The following (corrected) account of the events surrounding Nannie's murder, and the hanging of Elmer Hill, is from the Times Journal, dated Thursday, July 4, 1974, p. 12, author unknown. The article's misappellation of Nannie as "Mamie" stems from the original newspaper stories published in December 1908.

"THE LYNCHING OF ELMER HILL

In December of 1908, perhaps the most bizarre crime ever to occur within Russell County took place, and because of the quick vindication sought and gained by Russell County citizens the crime has remained somewhat obscured in mystery. Most people even vaguely familiar with the incident, [and with] the entire chain of events that led to the hanging of Elmer Hill on the Jamestown-Greasy Creek Turnpike, insist that no more than two day elapsed between the murder of Mamie Womack and Hill's execution. All this is erroneous. Perhaps the most reliable source concerning this incident is an article published in the Adair County News in December of 1908. The article, entitled 'A Horrible Crime: Little Mamie Womack, A Russell County School Girl, Assaulted and Murdered, Elmer Hill Charged With Crime,' is vivid in detail. That report [published eight days after the assault] seems to fit well with a number of the more reliable [rumored] sources in Russell County.

According to this report, the crime occurred near the Mt. Olive School about three miles [north of] Russell Springs on Tuesday, December 8, 1908. [The article states] Mamie Womack, along with a group of young girls, was returning from school, which was only one mile from the Womack farm. The girls parted and Mamie set out alone up a short lane that led to her home. However, shortly after entering the lane, Elmer Hill abducted the girl and carried her back in to the woods where he had been hiding. Once there, he assaulted and murdered her.

The child was soon missed at home and searching parties ... located her early the evening of Tuesday [the day of abduction]. Reports claim that upon locating the girl's body and viewing the nature of the crime, the family immediately suspected that the culprit was Elmer Hill [who], it seems, was well known for having strange behavior and a bad reputation. Also, he was a cousin of the Womack family.

The entire county was quickly aroused and search[ing] parties were organized to locate Hill. Bloodhounds were brought in from Lincoln County and placed on the scent at the murder scene. The dogs took the trail immediately and a lengthy search was conducted. Over a period of three days the bloodhounds trailed Hill from the scene of the crime to about one mile from Columbia. Here, though, they became confused and finally lost tract of the trail. In the meantime, Hill had been officially placed under suspicion of the crime, and a reward, totaling $350, was offered for his arrest. This bounty was from the state and county. Reward posters were circulated and they described Hill as a young man of light complexion about 23 to 25 years old and weighing 150 to 160 pounds. It was also noted that he had a bad speech impediment and that he was known as having a bad reputation. The search, now rapidly gaining public aid and sentiment, continued until Sunday morning of the 13th when Hill was finally located.

Hill was captured by Wolford Wilson and a young Shepard man [John] at the Sano community while he slept in an outbuilding. Most people believe that Hill eluded the hounds by traveling to Columbia and that between Wednesday and Sunday morning had returned to Russell County, for his bloody clothes were found hidden at his grandfather's home [allegedly, the home of Allison Hill]. Hill was lodged in the jail at Jamestown before daylight on the [Sunday] morning of his arrest.

Even before Hill was located, there had been growing talk of a lynching, and by the time Hill was placed in jail, a good-sized mob had gathered and announced their intentions. Because of this, a preliminary trial was ordered for 9 am on the morning of the arrest by H.H. Dunbar, then [Russell] county judge. Hill, however, waived examination, and a new trial was set for the following morning at 8 am. That night, though, a group of about 75 men entered Jamestown with the intention of breaking Hill from jail. This group had agreed to take Hill back to the murder scene and to burn him at the stake. The child's mother had apparently informed the men that she would light the fire, for witnesses reported that the group made mention of this point repeatedly. Upon entering the jail in Jamestown, the mob learned that Hill was not to be found and they immediately began to search elsewhere for him.

In fact, Hill was in Monticello at the time [about 10 pm Sunday night] and had been there since about 7 pm that evening. Details about this trip are a bit obscure, but reports indicate that Hill was attired as a woman by local authorities, loaded into a wagon, and carried down the Jamestown-Greasy Creek Turnpike where he was ferried across the river to Monticello [in neighboring Wayne County].

Hill remained in the Monticello jail until [Wednesday night, the 16th of December] and during this time lynch mobs diligently searched for his whereabouts. Finally, they learned that he had been spirited away, and on [Wednesday] night a group of 30 or 40 Russell County men crossed the [Cumberland River] and made their way to the Monticello jail. When the mob reached their destination, the only resistance they encountered was a rather scared jailer, for Sheriff Wright was not present at the time. The jailer reported to Sheriff Wright that he offered no resistance [when the mob abducted Hill], and he further noted that the mob was composed of some of the county's most prominent citizens.

It was after daylight [Thursday, December 17] when the mob, with Hill, reached the Jamestown-Greasy Creek Turnpike [in Russell County] and they realized that attempting to return Hill to the scene of the crime for the purpose of burning him at a stake was far too risky. They then considered removing Hill to Jamestown and hanging him on the [City] square, but this too was abandoned because the cover of darkness was gone. Instead, they traveled up the turnpike to the lower end of the Ed Cook property. Here, they found a suitable black oak tree along the pike and proceeded to execute Hill. It is reported that Hill was loaded on a small gray mare and, upon being asked if he had any last words, he replied the only thing he regretted was [he wanted to live so he could treat three other girls in the neighborhood the same way]. The horse was then slapped from beneath Hill and he was left dangling at the roadside. Travelers found Hill later in the morning.

[With Hill's execution,] a week had expired since the crime was first publicized and the news of Hill's hanging appeared in the following week's edition of the Adair County News. Headlines were vivid: 'The Necktie Route, A Rope Placed Around Elmer Hill's Neck and He is Jerked Into Eternity, About 30 Men Did the Work.' In this edition it was reported that Hill had confessed on two occasions to his guilt concerning the murder. First, Hill is said to have confessed to a Wayne County man who was present while he was lodged in jail. Also, the mob is said to have permitted Hill to talk to a Jamestown man, Cyrus Dunbar, upon reaching Russell County and that he freely admitted to having committed the murder."

End of article

Elmer Hill's recurring flight from justice began early in life and was first illustrated in the Adair County News, Wednesday, September 5th, 1900: "Mr. J.S. Wright, an official of Taylor County, arrested Elmer Hill on Wilson's Creek last Friday, and delivered him to the jailer of Russell County. About six months ago Hill and a man named Geo. Dehart sawed out of the Jamestown jail and both men have been running at large since that time." Eight years later, after the brutal murder of Nannie Womack, additional insight into Elmer's unrestrained past appeared in the Courier-Journal (Louisville, Kentucky), Friday, December 18, 1908: "Hill was 27 years of age and of good parentage. Some years ago he was arrested on a charge of criminally assaulting a schoolgirl, but broke jail and remained a fugitive for two years. When he returned home the matter had died out and he was not tried."

The Courier-Journal article also addressed the lynching of Elmer Hill and stated the climactic hanging was briefly delayed when "The mob leader stopped proceedings and the determined men, at the request of the prisoner, sang 'Jesus, Lover of My Soul,' while one of the members offered fervent prayer for Hill. He then told them he was ready to die, and his dangling form was pulled high into the air, the rope securely fastened and the mob quietly dispersed. Parties residing in the vicinity where Hill was hanged heard the singing and praying, and the facts just as they occurred leaked out from members of the mob, which is said to have been backed in its action by practically the whole of Russell County."

Two weeks later, in the December 30, 1908 edition of the Adair County News, another commentary on the hanging was proffered by a writer from Russell Springs who said he witnessed the lynching and stated Hill, while confessing fully to the murder, "had nerve like a lion and never flinched from the time they started from the Monticello jail until he was put to death." Just before the hanging, the writer declared Hill was told his time had come and was asked if he wanted to pray, to which Elmer apparently replied "It is no use, hell is my doom." The local writer also stated Hill "was riding a mule and just before the animal was led from under him, the rope being around his neck and over a limb, he asked us not to shoot him."

John and Nannie Bricken Womack
ca. 1900

"JOHN HARLAN WOMACK DIES AT AGE OF 68

John Harlan Womack was born July 26, 1875 and departed this life July 16, 1944, making him 68 years, 11 months and 20 days old. He was the son of Morgan and Julia Womack and was born in Adair county and spent most of his life in Casey and Russell counties. He was first married to Nannie Bricken who departed this life in 1924 and later married Linnie Sandusky. To this union one son was born, J.H. Womack, Jr. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Fora [sic] Bricken of Webbs Cross Roads, Ky., and two brothers, Loren Womack also of Webbs Cross Roads, Montie Womack of Noblesville, Ind., and a step mother, Mrs. Martha J. Womack, Webbs Cross Roads and a host of friends to mourn his passing. He professed faith in Christ at an early age and joined the Methodist church at Mt. Olive. During his illness he often expressed his hope in Christ and was ready to meet Him in peace."

John H. Womack was the informant for death certificate #17889 which designates Nannie's birth date as 3 May 1871. Nonetheless, Russell Co., KY censuses show her as 4 years old in 1870, 14 in 1880, and 33 in 1900 — suggesting birth in 1866/67.

WOMACK CEMETERY†

LOCATED ON WOMACK ROAD, OFF HWY 127N, HUMBLE COMMUNITY, RUSSELL COUNTY, KENTUCKY

With the exception of the first, there are no real rows in the cemetery. Spacing between the marked graves is very irregular and the "row" designation simply gives the approximate positions of markers relative to the uppermost or eastward side of the cemetery. Looking westward toward Womack Road, the markers are listed from left to right, beginning with the uppermost part of the cemetery.

Burial Site Unknown

Conover Cemetery, White Oak, Adair Co., KY

Often characterized as one of many Conover burial sites in Adair County, and now in a state of disrepair, this cemetery once bordered the family homestead of John R. Blair. Many of the remaining grave markers are in pieces and a few are only partially legible. The marker for John Richardson Blair has fragmented at least twice, and one remnant which contained the partially legible inscription "_9 years" when surveyed in 1994 was inextricably missing in 2004. John's damaged grave marker is digitally restored in the 1994 photograph above and the number '7' is appended to the inscription (79 years) of the missing fragment. This correlates with census records which place his birth c.1804.

S/O Joseph Stapp & Harriet Black

William Stapp, Sr. was the oldest of eight known children of Joseph Stapp and Harriet Black. His siblings included Martha (born c.1833), Jeremiah (born c.1834), Sarah A. (born c.1836), Susan (b. 4 Aug 1837, d. 7 Mar 1897), John J. (born c.1841), Emily (born c.1843), and Pinkney (born c.1847). The distant heritage of William's parents is speculative, but they were among the early settlers who made their way to Kentucky from the Blue Ridge foothills of Virginia. His father Joseph (b. c.1807, d. Aft 1870) married Harriet Black on 17 Oct 1827 in Russell Co., KY, and the marriage bond names James Stapp as Joseph's father. Harriet (b. c.1807, d. Aft 1870) was the daughter of Benjamin Black, but her mother is unknown.

Prior to his marriage to Hannah Blair, William Stapp had married 1st Sarah Ellen Wolford on 26 Jun 1851 in Adair Co., KY. Born 15 Feb 1830, the daughter of John Milton Wolford and Emily Jane Grider, Sarah was only twenty-three years old when she died prematurely on 18 May 1853. The following year, William Stapp married 2nd Hannah Blair. Years later, after Hannah's death in 1886, he married 3rd Louesa L. Bryant on 29 Dec 1889 in Adair County. William, Hannah and Louesa are buried in the Conover Cemetery, White Oak, Adair Co., KY.

James Samuel Stapp (ca.1906)

Widely known as an extensive landowner and successful entrepreneur, James Samuel Stapp donated land to establish the current structure of the Providence Baptist Church in eastern Adair County, Kentucky. Originally organized in 1840, the Providence Church endures as a spiritual wellspring for the local neighborhood, and many past members now rest with a host of the Stapp family in the Church Cemetery. Furthermore, as a long-standing advocate for educational facilities in the Green River area, Samuel's benevolence and charitable spirit in Taylor County, KY culminated in a substantial endowment for the founding and organization of Campbellsville College in 1906. A school dormitory (Stapp Hall) now honors his name.

As members of the Protestant Reformed Church of France, the Rippetoe forebears accompanied other French Huguenots who came to the America colonies through the early 1700s. By 1770 our ancestor William Rippetoe, Sr., a native of Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, married Ruth Ann Antle (D/O Peter Antle) and settled near Piney Mountain in Albemarle Co., VA. William served with the patriot forces during the American Revolution, and family tradition suggests he was a bodyguard for General George Washington. In 1778 William and Ruth Rippetoe sold their parcel of land in Virginia and moved to Burke Co., NC, where they settled on land that became known as Rippetoe Mountain. A generation later, in 1804, the Rippetoe family moved to Adair Co., KY and settled on land nurtured by Rippetoe Springs, along the headwaters of Crocus Creek. William Rippetoe, Sr. (b. 15 Mar 1748 VA; d. 16 Apr 1839 Russell Co., KY) and his wife Ruth Antle Rippetoe (b. 5 Jan 1751 Frederick Co., VA; d. 5 Jan 1842 Russell Co., KY), were buried first at their homestead but symbolically reinterred in the 1960s at the Rippetoe Cemetery. Their ten children and approximate birth dates were: Elizabeth (1771), Nancy (1774), Anon (1775), Mary (1779), David (1780), William Jr. (1781), John (1784), Sarah (1786), James (1789) and Peter (1790).

In the 1960s, their grave sites at the old homestead were symbolically moved nearby to the current Rippetoe Cemetery. Their eleven children and approximate birth dates were: Ann (1805), Sarah (1808), Delilah (1810), Washington (1811), Lucinda (1812), William (1816), Elizabeth (1818), James (1819), Nancy (1822), John (1829) and Amasa (1833).

BIOGRAPHY OF DR. WILLIAM BLAIR, GRANDSON OF JAMES AND NANCY DAY BLAIR

From Kentucky: A History of the State, by Battle, Perrin & Kniffin, 4th ed., 1887; later reprinted in Kentucky Genealogy and Biography, Vol. V, 1975, ed. Thomas Westerfield.

"WILLIAM BLAIR, M.D., a native of Russell County, Ky., was born September 24, 1841. His father, Burton Blair, who was born in North Carolina in 1813, was brought to Russell in infancy where he remained during life. He was a man in moderate circumstances, owning and cultivating his own farm. He married Miss Elizabeth Rippetoe, a daughter of William Rippetoe, whose wife before marriage was a Miss Elizabeth Vincent. The names of the children born to Burton and Elizabeth Blair are Emeline (wife of Matthew Y. Leach), Albert, William, Samantha (deceased wife of Christopher C. Lawless), Elizabeth (deceased wife of John Lovelace), Martha (wife of Robert Anderson), Nancy (wife of Rubin Lawless), Harrison, Sarah Jane (wife of John Crider), Amanda C. (died in infancy) and James T. The death of Burton Blair occurred July 9, 1875; his widow is still living in the sixty-eighth year of her age. James Blair, grandfather of Dr. Blair, was a native of North Carolina, a farmer, and immigrated to Russell County, where he resided the remainder of his life. He married Miss Nancy Day, of North Carolina. James Blair's father was a veteran of the American Revolution. Dr. Blair in youth received a good common-school education, and is more than ordinarily well posted in literature. He also has an archaeological cabinet and some geological specimens. His early life until twenty years of age was spent on his father's farm, when, October 2, 1861, he enlisted in Company B, Thirteenth Kentucky Infantry (Federal volunteer service). He participated in the battles of Shiloh, Perryville, Hough's Ferry (Tenn.), Campbell's Station (Tenn.), the siege of Knoxville, Rocky Face Ridge and Resaca, where he was disabled from further service, though not discharged until January, 1865, when his company was dismissed from the service. As a result of the wound received at Resaca, the Doctor lost a part of the radius of his right fore-arm. When he returned home he commenced to attend school, and taught and attended alternately for four years. He then began to read medicine under Dr. J.M. Wolford of Russell County, and in the winter of 1874-75, attended a course of lectures at the University of Louisville, graduating in the spring of 1875. He then returned home and continued the practice of his profession which he had begun before he went to college. August 12, 1869, he married Miss Sarah A., daughter of Michael G. and Rachel (Grider) McKinley, both natives of Russell County. He has had born to him seven children: Laura A., Lawrence C., Melvin E., Viantha, Frosia E., Aletha M. and Belva E., all living. Dr. and Mrs. Blair are both members of the Separate Baptist Church. The Doctor settled at his present location, Glenville, Adair County, in 1869, and it at that time consisted of a house and seven acres; he has enlarged it to eighty-eight acres. Dr. Blair has a large and lucrative practice, besides which he cultivates his farm."

E. ELIZABETH BLAIR[3] (Burton Blair[2], James Blair Sr.[1])
Birth - 3 Aug 1843 Russell Co., KY; Death - 5 Mar 1873 Adair Co., KY (the preceding dates are from grave inscription, but the 1850 & 1860 Russell Co., KY censuses suggest birth abt 1846).

In the early 1800s, John Loveless and first wife Millie Tuggle resided in Pulaski Co., KY, where they were enumerated with four children in the 1850 census — Sabrina, Perry, Levi, and Stella. By the census of 1870, the families of John, Perry, and Levi Loveless were listed in the White Oak District of Adair County, KY. At that time, Millie's age was recorded as 62, which suggests a birth year of 1808 and correlates with the age of 42 shown in the 1850 census of Pulaski Co., KY. However, her cemetery marker at the Loy Cemetery in Adair County, KY suggests a birth date of 2 Oct 1813 and death date of 20 Jun 1867, likely in error on both dates. Nonetheless, on 4 Sep 1871, John Loveless married Elizabeth Blair, but this union would be short-lived since her cemetery marker indicates she died on 5 Mar 1873, possibly at or shortly after the birth of her daughter Samantha. In the 1880 census, John and daughter Samantha J. Loveless (age 6) lived in the White Oak District of Adair County, KY. At his death fifteen years later, John was buried near his 1st wife Millie and 2nd wife Elizabeth Blair Loveless at what is now the Loy Cemetery.

m. JOHN THOMAS 'TOM' LOVELESS 1916 Canton, Stark Co., OH
Birth - 6 Mar 1887 Pulaski Co., KY (likely 1867, see below); Death - 3 May 1937
Burial - Bethlehem Baptist Church Cem., Russell Co., KY
S/O Gilly Ann Loveless; Gilly Ann, daughter of Thomas Loveless & Jane Williams of Pulaski Co., KY, subsequently married Franklin Asbury Anderson 25 Feb 1869.

The birth year for John 'Tom' Loveless (1887, noted above) is from his gravestone at Bethlehem Baptist Church Cemetery in Russell Co., KY. However, a birth year of about 1867 is suggested by his KY census records: 1900 Russell County (age 32), 1910 Pulaski County (age 42), 1920 Taylor County (age 52), 1930 Taylor County (age 63). John married first on 15 Nov 1885 in Adair Co., KY to Cleopatra [Patra] A. Loveless (D/O Perry and Manda Loveless). Four of six children were living when their household in the Lucas Mill Precinct of Russell County was canvassed for the census of 1900: Lucian Conda (1886), Lena Florence (1889), Pearl (1892), Dewey Wilmoth (1897). John and Patra moved to Pulaski County by 1910 but were soon separated. Subsequently, John Tom Loveless married Loma Anderson in 1916 and lived in Canton, OH before moving to Taylor Co., KY, where they raised six children.

In the 1850 and 1860 censuses of Russell Co., KY, Reuben was enumerated in the household of his father Allen Lawless and second wife Eve Antle, who married on 24 Mar 1847. Allen and Eve Lawless lingered in Russell County through the federal census of 1870, but migrated west to Belle Plaine Twp., Sumner Co., KS by the Kansas state census of 1875. Allen died on 4 Jul 1886 and Eve on 15 Apr 1887 in Sumner County, Kansas, where both were buried at Belle Plaine Cemetery.

In the 1880 federal census, Reuben and Nancy Blair Lawless resided in Russell Co., KY but moved in the spring of 1882 to Sumner County, KS where they lived by 1900 in Harmon Township with their youngest children (Elbert, Frank and Maude). In 1904 they relocated to Deer Creek in Grant Co., Oklahoma Territory where they joined their eldest son Ephraim who had married Myrta Bottorff shortly after securing his 160-acre plat in Oklahoma Territory during the historic Cherokee Strip Run of September 1893. The censuses of 1900 in Sumner Co., KS and 1910 in Grant Co., OK indicate Reuben and Nancy Blair Lawless were parents of eight children, six of whom were living.

Published in 1887 (p. 245), the biography of Amanda's brother (Dr. William Blair) names her as a deceased child of Burton and Elizabeth Rippetoe Blair. Analysis of microfilm of the original Vital Statistics of Russell County, KY establishes Amanda was six months old when she died in April of 1858, confirming her birth in September or October of 1857. At the same time, Vital Statistics of Russell County specify Manurvey/Maraurvey Blair as a female child born to Burton and Elizabeth Blair in September (day not given) of 1858. There is no additional documentation for this child in civil records of Russell Co., KY, and she is not named in the biography of Dr. William Blair. If the Vital Records are accurate and Manurvey represents an additional unique child of Burton Blair, the recorded birth in September of 1858 places her arrival approximately one year after Amanda and about three years before the birth of James. However, if either the name or birth year were registered in error (not unusual with vital records), it would be plausible to speculate Amanda and Manurvey were one and the same, explaining Manurvey's absence in William's 1887 biography.

K. JAMES T. BLAIR[3] (Burton Blair[2], James Blair Sr.[1])
Birth - 1861 Russell Co., KY
Death - 26 Jan 1929 Cawood, Harlan Co., KY
Burial - Rockholds, Whitley Co., KY; possibly, interred at Davis Cemetery in an unmarked grave.

m. ELIZABETH MORSE Abt 1888 KY
Birth - Feb 1872 KY; date is from the 1900 census of Rockhold, Whitley Co., KY.
Death - Abt 1940
Burial - Rockholds, Whitley Co., KY; possibly, at Davis Cemetery in an unmarked grave.

According to family tradition, James T. Blair was only a teenager when he abruptly abandoned his home in Russell Co., KY after an ill-tempered confrontation with his father. Determined to never return home, James made his way eastward to the Cumberland Mountains where he would later marry and diligently toil in the coal mines of Kentucky and Tennessee until his death in 1929 in Cawood, Harlan Co., KY. He was buried in Rockholds, Whitley Co., KY (KY death cert. #05974). His wife Elizabeth remained in Cawood through the 1930 census, at which time she resided with daughter Ella Mae Logan. In due course, according to family lore, Elizabeth Blair died about 1940.

Morgan Blair
(1814 - 1868)

Russell County, Kentucky

Martha Jane Calhoon married first Reuben Baldock c.1844 in Casey County, KY. Their only child, Elijah Field Baldock (born 15 Oct 1845 Casey County, KY; died 3 Nov 1926 Haskell Co., TX) married Tennessee Hall on 30 Dec 1880 in Howard Co., AR. Elijah's daughter Willie Ethel married Bryant Blair, S/O John Lafayette and Mattie Carpenter Blair. After Reuben Baldock died abt 1847, Martha Jane lived by the 1850 census with the family of William and Sophia Calhoon in Casey Co., KY. William Calhoon was one of the administrators of Reuben's estate, and likely was Martha's father. After her second husband Morgan Blair died in 1868, Martha married W.W. Bernard on 22 Mar 1882 in Russell Co., KY but they divorced on 10 Sep 1885. Years later, she moved to Wise County, TX to care for the children of her son Elijah Field Baldock after his wife died in 1898. Martha Jane resided in Wise County until her death on 4 Jan 1918 and was buried locally at Slidell Cemetery, near her son Elijah Field and his wife Tennessee, grandchildren Wilford and Melvin Blair, and daughter-in-law Willie Ethel Baldock Blair. Morgan and 1st wife Elizabeth are buried at Blair Cem., Russell Co., KY. See p. 292 for Morgan and Martha Calhoon Baldock Blair.

Adair County, Kentucky

John Breeding married 1st Mary A. Thomas on 8 Sep 1853 in Russell Co., KY — one son, Thomas M. Breeding (b. 1854, d. by 1870). After his 2nd wife (Scythia) died in 1875, John married 3rd Millie Ann McElroy on 7 Mar 1877 in Russell Co., KY — known children: Amelia A. (b. 1880, d. by 1900), Martha S. (b. Jan 1884, d. 13 Sep 1960), and John R. (b. Jun 1886, d. 17 Jun 1936). Millie McElroy Breeding (b. 17 Dec 1847 Russell Co., KY; d. 15 Jul 1918 Russell Co., KY) was interred near her husband at the Haynes/Williams Cemetery in Adair Co., KY.

John's mother Milly Perryman (b. Abt 1797 Burke Co., NC) was the daughter of William Perryman & Ann Stokes. About 1803 Milly's sister (1st name uncertain) married Frederick Grider Jr. but died about 1804 with the birth of her only child Emily. Soon thereafter, the Grider and Perryman families migrated to Kentucky where Frederick Grider Jr. married yet another Perryman sister, Sarah, in 1806. Frederick and Sarah, and many others of the Grider ménage, rest in the Haynes/Williams cem. with John and Millie McElroy Breeding.

Russell County News, dated 23 May 1940:

"MR. JAMES A. BERNARD, AGE 87, PASSED AWAY MAY 20

James A. Bernard was born March 7, 1853, died May 9 (sic) , 1940, at 9:10 P.M., making him 87 years, 2 months, and 12 days old. He was united in marriage March 28, 1878 to Catherine Smith, making his married life 62 years, 1 month, and 21 days. To this union four children were born, two son and two daughters. The sons are L.E. and L.G. Bernard, the daughters, Mrs. Nora Myrtle Porter and Mrs. Sedalia Pearl Rexroat, all of whom are living and residing in Russell County. There is an unusual circumstance connected with this family. There has not been a death in this immediate family except two infant grandchildren, and the deceased and his wife have outlived all their brothers and sisters. He professed faith in Christ about 49 years ago at home, but during a revival at Clear Spring he joined the Clear Spring Baptist church and it can truthfully be said of him that his life has been in keeping with that of a true Christian. Besides his wife, who is 85 years of age, and his two sons and two daughters, he leaves 18 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren whose hearts are made sad by his passing. We feel that his life has been a blessing to the community and his passing is a distinct loss to those with whom he was associated.

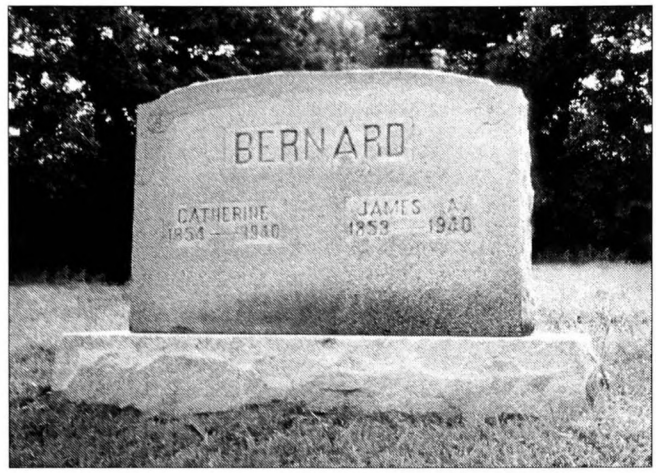

The above is the obituary of James A. Bernard. Funeral services were held at the residence on May 21, at 10 A.M., conducted by Rev. Howard O'Banion, Rev. H.B. Popplewell, and Rev. Norman Antle, amid a congregation of relatives and friends after which the body was taken to the new cemetery near the home of Welby Richards, and there deposited to await the resurrection. The pallbearers were mostly grandsons — Chester Porter, Clyde Porter, Carthal Porter, Ralph Rexroat, Bayard Bernard, & Vergil Gasaway. The flower girls were Rose Sullivan, Anna Kate Ham, Dorothy Foley, and Mary Elizabeth Popplewell. Rippetoe Funeral Home had charge of the remains. A clean, honest and upright life is the heritage left by the deceased, worthy to be patterned after by any young man."

Russell County News, dated 5 Dec 1940:

"MRS. CATHERINE BERNARD DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Catherine Bernard, widow of James A. Bernard, was born in Casey County, Kentucky, December 25th, 1854, and passed away at 12:45 A.M., November 29, 1940, at the age of 85 years, 11 months, and 4 days. When she was about ten years of age her father moved to this county and lived near Mount Olive church for a while. She professed faith in Christ at Mt. Olive when she was fifteen years of age, under the preaching of the late Rev. Lafayette Dunbar, was baptized and joined the Separate Baptist Church at that place and has lived a Christian life ever since. This makes her Christian life a little more than 70 years. She was married to James A. Bernard March 28th, 1878. To this union were born four children; two sons & two daughters. The sons are L.E. and L.G. Bernard; the daughters are Mrs. Nora Porter and Mrs. Sedalia Rexroat, all of whom survive. Her husband passed on a little more than six months ago. Besides the four children she is survived by 18 grandchildren, 8 great grand children and a host of other relatives and friends. She is the last one of a large family to go. She had been confined to her bed for about six weeks suffering much but bearing it with patience, expressing her desire many times to go and be with her husband. Her testimony at different times proved her faith in Christ that has followed her down through more than seventy years of a Christian life from the time she confessed Him as her Savior until the last minute Friday morning when her soul went out to meet her Maker. She realized that death was near but she met her fate bravely which is characteristic of every Christian.

Funeral services were held at 2 P.M. Saturday. On account of inclement weather the burial was put off until 10 A.M. Sunday, when the remains were laid to rest beside her husband in the New Cemetery on Highway No. 35, just north of Welfare. The funeral was preached by Rev. Howard O'Banion, assisted by Eld. H.B. Popplewell and Rev. Norman Antle. The children were all present as were the grandchildren with the exception of Miss Winnie Porter who is in Washington. Miss Wilmoth Porter came from Washington to see her grandmother and did not know of her death until she reached Somerset. The grand-sons were pallbearers; namely, Bryon Bernard, Bayard Bernard, Chester Porter, Carthal Porter, and Ralph Rexroat. The Rippetoe Funeral Home was in charge of the remains."

Russell County News, 25 Apr 1940

"Mr. T.F. Hurt who resided in the Esto community passed away at his home last Saturday afternoon after only a few days illness. He was about 87 years of age and had lived in the community where he died most of his life. He was a splendid citizen, held in high esteem by his neighbors and friends. But few people ever reach the age of Mr. Hurt. He was in good health until just a few days prior to his death. He was visiting the county seat just a short time ago.

Mr. Hurt was married three times, his last wife being Mrs. Nannie Riggins, widow of N.B. Riggins who passed on some years ago. He has four sons and four daughters, three sons and three daughters by his first wife and one son, Carl, by his second wife.

Another good citizen has gone on leaving the example of a well spent life. Funeral services were conducted by Elder H.B. Popplewell and by Reverend MacDonald at the Mt. Pleasant Church Monday." (Interment at Hurt Cemetery)

LOY CEMETERY †

LOCATED ON J. KERR ROAD, OFF FREE UNION CHURCH ROAD, SANO COMMUNITY, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY

Alley, Laura L. Sept 22 1876 – Mar 12 1904, "wife of James H. Alley"

Marker is broken across death date. From Adair Co. vital stats: Laura Z. Alley, 28, married, died Mar 22 1904, heart failure. D/O J.Z. & Cathrine Brockman.

Blair, Fannie Sept 2 1858 – Sept 3 1912, "wife of J.M. Blair"

Blair, Francis E. 1854 – 1929

Death certificate gives birth year as 1855 (month & day not indicated) and death date as June 15 1929.

Blair, H.T. May 7 1868 – Sept 3 1941

Blair, James Alvis Nov 4 1915 – Nov 26 1924

Blair, Laura Sept 13 1867 – Sept 18 1903

Blair, Mary Jul 7 1827 – Jan 19 1896, "wife of T.L. Blair"

Blair, Oren Oct 30 1890 – Mar 22 1919

Blair, T.L. Oct 31 1823 – Jun 7 1905

Brockman, Arthur Oct 17 1884 – Apr 26 1942

Brockman, Bernice born & died Nov 5 1918, "daut. of P. & S.B. Brockman"

Brockman, J.L. May 12 1839 – ___ 12 ___

For the death date, all but the numeral "12" is now imperceptible. The death certificate shows his birth on Sept 12 1839 and death on Sept 12 1912, but also specifies his age as 73 years and four months. Clearly, the birth inscription on the marker is "Born 1839 May 12," and what remains of the death date is "Died ___ 12 ___." If his birth date were May 12 1839 and his death date were Sept 12 1912, that would match the age cited on the death certificate.

Brockman, Lester O. born & died Sept 15 1906, "inf. son of M.T. & B.E. Brockman"

Brockman, Mary Apr 28 1846 – Nov 2 1916

Brockman, Mary born & died Aug 29 1904

Brockman, Mary Vertie May 14 1891 – Feb 13 1949

Death certificate gives death date as Feb 10 1949.

Brockman, Milton W. May 15 1847 – Oct 19 1914

Brockman, Nannie I. Aug 10 1848 – Sept 26 1906

Brockman, T.J. Apr 12 1845 – Mar 22 1927

Brockman, [unnamed] "Inf. son of W.J. & B.Z. Brockman, born & died Dec 5 1891"

Brockman, Wilmer Apr 5 1886 – Oct 20 1918

Brockman, Zella Jul 11 1882 – Oct 22 1918

Death certificate gives birth date as Aug 1 1882 and death date as Oct 19 1918.

Bryant, Austin Mar 1 1870 – Mar 25 1947

On same stone with (OSSW) Ruthie Bryant.

Bryant, Ruthie B. Aug 20 1871 – Oct 12 1963

OSSW Austin Bryant.

Bryant, Sirena Jan 29 1840 – Jul 19 1903

Bryant, Zilpah B. Jan 2 1897 – Jan 12 1897, "daut. of T.W. & M.D. Bryant"

Cravens, Melvinie Aug 3 1858 – Dec 1 1906

Cravens, M.V. Dec 8 1845 – Aug 3 1932

KY death record gives name as Van B. Cravens.

Harmon, Lizzie J. "and babies" 1862–1912

Marker appears to be fairly new.

Lovless, John Apr 10 1813 – Mar 15 1895

An additional small marker, apparently the foot marker, reads "here is the leg of J.L."

Lovless, Millie Oct 12 1813 – Jun 20 1867

Unquestionably, the death year inscribed on the marker is 1867, but Millie also was enumerated in the 1870 Adair County census.

Lovless, S.E. Aug 3 1843 – Mar 5 1873

D/O Burton Blair and 2nd W/O John Loveless.

Shaw, "Little Allice A." Mar 29 1907 – May 9 1907, "dau. of W.E. & N.J. Shaw"

[Shaw], Nora J. Rutherford May 15 1887 – May 5 1907, "married W.E. Shaw March 31, 1906"

Smiley, B.W. Co. B 13th Ky. Inf. (military marker)

In addition to the above named markers, the cemetery embraces an estimated 16 to 20 unmarked field stones.

† Compiled by James Garner in 2004, this cemetery transcription pays tribute to Thomas Leftridge Blair and family. Although located on land once part of the Myrtle Loy farm and commonly known as the Loy Cemetery, this graveyard primarily embodies Blair and Brockman burials.

In many instances, the individual names associated with vintage photographs have been long forgotten by succeeding generations, but in this case the above tintype portraits from the Civil War era (1860s) were faithfully handed down through many generations to Dolores Cravens Newman, the great-granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson and Mary Blair Brockman. Mrs. Newman has identified the individuals in these photographs as (L to R): Mary "Polly' Jennings Blair and Mary Blair (wife and daughter of Thomas Leftridge Blair), and Thomas Jefferson Brockman (husband of Mary Blair).

THE HERITAGE OF HENRY M. ANTLE OF RUSSELL CO., KY

1 - PETER ANTLE
Birth - Abt 1718, possibly in the German Palatinate of the European Rhineland
Death - Abt 1770 Frederick Co., VA (his homestead became part of Berkeley Co., VA in 1772)
m. Ann (surname possibly Henry), born Abt 1727, died 1787 Berkeley Co., VA

Possibly, Peter was a Germanic emigrant who joined other disgruntled Palatinates of central Europe as they hastened to the American colonies during the early 1700s in search of a lasting respite from the religious intolerance, onerous taxation, and regional warfare that plagued inhabitants of the Rhine River Basin at the turn of the eighteenth century. Accordingly, many believe the progenitor of this family was Peter Antle who sailed from Rotterdam, Holland on the passenger ship Phoenix and arrived at Philadelphia in the Pennsylvania Colony on November 22, 1752. At the same time, others have suggested Peter possibly was of English descent, but there are no extant corroborating records.

By December 2, 1766 Peter Antle joined the German Palatinates and Scots- Irish on the western frontier and secured 436 acres on the headwaters of Opequon Creek in the upper Shenandoah Valley of Frederick Co., VA, where his family settled near a small creek known as Bullskin Run (Frederick Co., VA Deed Bk. 11, pp. 352-53). Soon thereafter, when little more than fifty years old, Peter died by 1770 while still in Frederick Co., VA and did not have the opportunity to join with other settlers who would continue their pilgrimage through the Shenandoah Valley to the frontier of Carolina and Kentucky (Peter's will was written Nov 16, 1769 and probated Mar 6, 1771).

Five children:

- Ruth Ann b. 1751, d. 5 Jan 1842 Russell Co., KY; m. William Rippetoe, Sr. Abt 1770

"JOHN M. ANTLE DIES AT HOME NEAR MONTPELIER

Mr. John M. Antle, eighty-three, died at his home near Montpelier, Sunday, Jan. 19 (1941). Mr. Antle had been in declining health for a number of years, and while his death was not unexpected it was a source of much regret to a large number of relatives and friends.

He was a son of the late Henry and Emily Antle and was a farmer by occupation, a splendid citizen, and will be greatly missed in this neighborhood. He had been a faithful and consistent member of the Baptist Church for 66 years, having united with that church at the age of 17.

Mr. Antle was married to Miss Alice (Drury) Williams, who with four daus., Mrs. Tennie (Lucian) Moore, Hiawatha, Kan., Mrs. Sallie (Joe) Jones, Montpelier, Mrs. Lula (Wade) Helm, Montpelier, and Mrs. Margie (Clarence) Stevens, Bowling Green, survive him. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Charlotte (Asa D.) Wooldridge of Jamestown.

Funeral Services were conducted at Liberty Church, Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock by Rev. William R. Bradshaw. The music was by the Russell Sprgs. choir. Interment was in the family cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Messrs. Z.T. Jones, Talt Jones, Elzie D. Jones, Walia Cook, Rob Antle and Sam Stevenson. The following from a distance attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Stevens, Mrs. Guy Stevens, Mrs. Carl Stevens, and Mr. Chester Harrison all of Bowling Green, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Moore, Kansas City, MO., and Mrs. George Banner, Hiawatha, Kan."

At the age of 15, Mr. Antle professed faith in Christ, and placed his membership with the Liberty Baptist Church, but later moved his membership to the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church, where it remained until death. Death - 26 Sep 1945 Russell Co., KY
Burial - Wooldridge Family Cem., Russell Co., KY (a.k.a. Barnett/Miller Cemetery)

When the household of Henry M. Antle was canvassed for the June 1870 census of Russell County, KY, Charlotte's age was recorded as 9 months, designating 1869 as her birth year rather than 1870 as inscribed on her cemetery marker. Also, obituaries from early issues of the Russell County News sometimes identify the Wooldridge Family Cemetery as the Miller Cemetery (for Phillip S. Miller and family who owned this land in the 1940s) or the Barnett Cemetery (for the Barnett interments that now comprise a small portion of this cemetery).

The following obituary for Charlotta is from the Russell County News, 4 October 1945:

"MRS. WOOLDRIDGE RITES HELD FRIDAY

Mrs. Charlotte Ann Wooldridge, 75, widow of the late Aza Wooldridge, passed away at the family home south of Jamestown Wednesday, September 26. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. Funeral services were held at the home on last Friday by Rev. Carl Loy, pastor of the local Baptist church, with interment following in the family cemetery on the Huston Canada farm. Pruitt funeral home was in charge of all arrangements. Of the ten children born to Mr. and Mrs. Wooldridge, seven survive, as follows: Mrs. Ollie Pierce of Jamestown, Sam Wooldridge of Pontiac, Ill., Mrs. Mary Hitch of Columbia, Mrs. Bessie Guffey of Indiana, Shelby Wooldridge of Michigan, Fettie Marie Wooldridge of Chicago, and Mrs. Lola Snow of Jamestown. Mrs. Wooldridge lived a long, useful, Christian life, and had won and held the respect and esteem of all. Her life was an inspiration to many, and she will be greatly missed not only by the immediate family but by her many friends. The bereaved family has the heartfelt sympathy of all."

County Formation in The Colonies and Early States

With the Declaration of Independence in 1776, and by the ensuing Treaty of Paris in 1783, the original thirteen American colonies confidently embraced home rule and became charter members of the newly established United States. As expected, the original geopolitical boundaries were at times inexact and often disputed by neighboring civil jurisdictions. Consequently, the prevailing state and county borders were revised frequently. For example, In New England the inaugural counties established in Vermont were actually organized by New York, but in 1777 Vermont declared its autonomy and became an independent republic. Nevertheless, not until 1790 did New York relinquish all claims to Vermont, which then became a state in 1791. One year later, Pennsylvania purchased the Lake Erie Triangle from the federal government.

By the 1790 census, most of the states had openly ceded to the federal government all original claims to western territory, though Connecticut retained the Western Reserve until 1800 and Georgia did not cede its entitlement to all western lands until 1802. Even more protracted was the Massachusetts claim on the District of Maine, which did not attain statehood until 1820 and its mutual northern border with Canada was not established until the Treaty of Webster-Ashburton in 1842. Moreover, in response to the rush of settlers to western territory after the Revolutionary War, the federal annexation of western lands and revision of enacted state and county boundaries escalated rapidly after the turn of the nineteenth century.

Of all western territory claimed by the origi colonies, Virginia's entitlement (in gray) w more inclusive and far-reaching. In 1787 t "Northwest Territory" was created from weste lands that were claimed (1) by New York, throu obscure Indian concessions (ceded to the U.S. 1784); (2) by Virginia, through Charters of 16 & 1609, giving limits from "sea to sea, west a northwest," and through military conquest (ced to the Union in 1784); (3) by Massachuset through the Charter of 1629, giving limits fr sea to sea (ceded to the U.S. in 1785); & (4) Connecticut, through the Charter of 1662, givi limits from sea to sea (ceded to the U.S. in 178 with the exception of the Western Reserve whi was not relinquished to the Union until 1800).

When ceded to the U.S. government in 17 the western lands of North Carolina became p of the "Southwest Territory," which then ga issue to Tennessee in 1796. Kentucky was not cession, but was part and parcel of Virginia un admitted as a separate state in 1792. Finally, 1802, of the original six states with entitleme to western territory, Georgia was the last to ce all western claims, contributing to the creation Mississippi in 1817 and Alabama in 1819.

From Lower Creek In Burke County, NC, t issue of James Blair II and Colbert Blair I eage embraced the post-war western expansion. Aft James II died in 1783, his known children (Georg James III, and Ann) moved to the Indian fronti of South Carolina by 1790 and to Georgia by t early 1800s. Although Colbert I remained with h sons Enos and John in North Carolina, his oth issue migrated west – Mary to South Carolina 1790 and to Georgia by the early 1800s, Isabel Kentucky by 1811 and to Tennessee in 1836, a Colbert II to Kentucky by 1810 and to Illinois 1817. James Blair, grandson of Colbert I, marri Nancy Day c.1799 and transmigrated to Kentuc by 1814 (see pp. 3, 4, 5, 8, 18-20, and 31-34).
