

The Club Council Announces:

Club Manager & Legacy Ambassador | Latrobe Country Club

Latrobe, Pennsylvania

The Club

Founded in 1920, Latrobe Country Club (LCC) is a privately owned, historic club nestled in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains in Western Pennsylvania. Widely recognized as the place where golf legend Arnold Palmer first learned the game from his father, Deacon “Deke” Palmer, the Club played a pivotal role in shaping his early development and stands as a cornerstone of the enduring Palmer legacy.

Today, the Arnold & Winnie Palmer Foundation serves as the proprietor of Latrobe Country Club, with a closely integrated partnership that honors Arnold Palmer’s contributions to the game of golf while advancing the couple’s meaningful philanthropic mission.

The Club serves approximately 330 members across all categories and generates $3.5 million in annual revenue, including approximately $1 million in Food & Beverage.

LCC features an 18-hole championship golf course that has evolved over time and continues to provide a compelling test of strategy and shot-making. Additional amenities include a clubhouse with multiple dining venues, a halfway house, pool café, tennis courts, overnight accommodations, and a robust calendar of social events.

This represents a unique opportunity to elevate the hospitality experience at a club rich in tradition, while also serving as an ambassador for a foundation that continues to grow and thrive—carrying forward the legacy of the Palmer family. The Foundation is in the process of building additional facilities on the property of Latrobe Country Club to further preserve and promote the legacy of Arnold and Winnie Palmer. The Club Manager will look forward to being a part of this exciting and meaningful evolution.
