Jonathan Butters

Innovation and Design Consultant

Does your business need to innovate?

Product innovation expertise

- To respond to changes in legislation or customer behaviour, or explore new technological opportunities
- To protect your product's existing market or extend into a new one
- To increase the value you offer your customers, or your profit
- To build a reliable and repeatable product innovation strategy and process

We deliver plug-and-play user centred innovation and product design

"Jonathan delivered great concept design and manufacture of prototypes within very short timescales, delivering a complex medical device within 6 weeks - class leading by any standards! I wouldn't hesitate to recommend him as a source of high value-add design."
John Fuller, CEO, LoadSwift International
