Cremation lends itself to an entirely new way to memorialize someone in your life. There has been an increasing request for jewellery for cremated remains, from families over time and we had put forth a fair amount of research prior to committing to a line of items that reflected our values. We have found the following line of products to be of impeccable quality and detail. The vast majority of the items we offer have the capacity to act as a vessel to hold cremated remains or a bit of hair and some even allow for a photograph, either traditional photo or engraved, as well. The items that do not hold cremated remains are indicated accordingly in the details.

The pieces that we offer are from Loved Remembered. The pendants & chains are .925 Sterling Silver and are rhodium plated and some are made of Murano Glass hand painted from Italy therefore making them extremely durable and unique. We also offer a few pieces in stainless steel that are denoted with a SS in the item identification code. All .925 Sterling Silver and Stainless Steel items include a chain, if there's a need for a longer chain, simply advise us and we can ensure that detail is noted at no additional charge. There are also many pieces available in Gold and Diamond as well; if that is of interest to you please let us know and we will provide those details to you.
