Helpful Tips

Sun Protection: Encourage your camper to wear hats, loose-fitting light-colored clothing, and apply sunscreen regularly. Talk with them before camp about the importance of sun safety.

Bug Protection: Mosquitoes and black flies are part of outdoor life. Pack enough labeled bug repellent for the entire stay. Light-colored clothing and non-perfumed toiletries help keep bugs away.

Bed Bug Prevention: Before packing, run all items (including luggage, bedding, sleeping bags) through the dryer on high heat for 30 minutes. Camp Muskoka uses Heat Assault technology for regular chemical-free treatment of all accommodations.

Helping with Homesickness: Homesickness is common regardless of age or experience. You can help by:

- Speaking positively about camp before arrival
- Focusing on fun activities and new friendships
- Avoiding questions like "Will you miss me?" or "What if you get homesick?"
- Not telling your camper they can "come home if it's hard"
- Writing a cheerful letter to arrive in the first few days

At camp, our trained staff provide support, normalize feelings, and keep campers active and engaged with extra attention to ensure they're eating, maintaining hygiene, and connecting socially.

Camper Code of Conduct

At Camp Muskoka, we're building a community where everyone feels welcome, safe, and respected. As members of this community, all campers agree to:

- Respect themselves, fellow campers, staff, the environment, facilities, and camp property

Everyone at Camp Muskoka has the right to:

- Feel safe and included regardless of race, religion, gender identity, sexual orientation, or ability

Our Approach to Behavior:

We recognize that campers are children who are still learning to navigate social situations. Minor conflicts and mistakes are normal parts of growing up, and we work with campers to help them learn, apologize, and improve. We believe in teaching moments, accountability, and second chances.

Behavior Policy:

Camp Muskoka takes physical violence and bullying very seriously. We thoroughly investigate each situation involving harmful behaviour. Campers who engage in physical violence or bullying, or demonstrate intent to harm others and or themselves, may face consequences up to and including immediate dismissal from camp without refund.

Additionally, campers may face serious consequences, including dismissal, for:

- Threats of violence
- Racism, homophobia, transphobia, or discrimination based on gender, religion, ability, or background
- Harassment or intentional exclusion designed to harm others
- Hate speech or slurs targeting any individual or group

When we all follow these guidelines and stand up for one another, Camp Muskoka remains the greatest, most fun, and welcoming place to spend summer!
