Celebrating our Faith

BAPTISM OF INFANTS

Baptisms of children under 7 years old are offered every fourth Sunday of each month in Spanish and every second Sunday of the month in English. Please visit our website or contact our office for details and requirements.

CONFIRMATION

At confirmation we receive the gifts of the Holy Spirit and confirm and renew our baptismal promises committing to a life of maturity in the Christian faith. Unconfirmed Catholics wishing to receive the Sacrament should contact the Parish Office to make arrangements for suitable instruction. Unbaptized or non-Catholics can be confirmed at the Easter Vigil when they are baptized or received into the Church as a part of Order of Christian Initiation of Adult. To enroll in OCIA, please call Griselda Cisneros at 992-0901.

EUCHARIST

Parishioners who wish to bring communion to their spouses should contact the parish office to pick up a pyx with the St. Leo's inscription on it. Please use this pyx when approaching to receive a host for your spouse or a family member in the Communion procession during Mass. If you need to receive a gluten free host due to a medical condition please arrive 15 minutes before Mass begins and inform the Sacristan.

RECONCILIATION

Individual confession with a priest is the principal means of absolution and reconciliation of grave sins within the Church. The Sacrament of Reconciliation frees us from sinful patterns of behavior and calls us to complete conversion to Christ. Confessions are heard from 2:00pm-3:00pm on Saturdays in English and 2pm on Sundays in Spanish in the Church. You may also approach any of our parish priests to hear your confession at another suitable time.

THE RITE OF ANOINTING

A person does not need to wait until the point of death to receive this sacrament. A careful judgment about the serious nature of the illness is sufficient. The Sacrament may be repeated if the sick person recovers after the anointing but becomes ill once again, or if, during the same illness, the person's condition becomes more serious. For those who are about to depart from this life, the Church offers the person Penance, Anointing of the Sick, and the Eucharist as Viaticum (food for the journey) given at the end of life. Contact the Parish Office at 992-0901 to be connected with the priest on duty.

SACRAMENT OF MARRIAGE

If you are a registered parishioner of St. Leo and plan to marry in our parish please contact our office at least six months prior to the tentative wedding date. Weddings cannot be scheduled until the marriage preparation process is complete and it is determined that the parties are free to marry.

ANNULMENT - Reestablishing the freedom to marry.

An annulment is more accurately described as a declaration of matrimonial invalidity. It is an official determination made by an ecclesiastical court that at the time of the marital consent exchanged by the parties a specific component of the marriage was lacking or defective. Hence, the marriage failed to be a marriage as defined by the Catholic Church. If you wish to reestablish your freedom to marry in the Church, please contact a parish priest to be your advocate in presenting your case to the Tribunal.

VOCATION

If you think that you have a vocation to the priesthood or religious life please speak with one of our priests, or contact the Diocesan Director of Vocations at 941-484-9548, visit www.dioceseofvenice.org/vocations

Daily Reflections

SUNDAY, AUGUST 2 - WHAT REALLY SATISFIES

"All you who are thirsty, come to the water." (Isaiah 55:1)

Every human heart is searching for something. Some look for happiness in success, others in relationships, possessions, accomplishments, or endless busyness. Yet sooner or later, we discover that even the things we prayed for can leave us strangely empty. We finally buy what we wanted, reach the goal we worked so hard to achieve, or cross another item off the bucket list, only to find ourselves staring at the horizon and asking, "Now what?" The soul carries a deep and stubborn hunger that no shopping cart, promotion, vacation, or achievement can ever satisfy.

Isaiah offers one of God's most beautiful invitations: "Come, without paying and without cost." Jesus fulfills that promise on a grassy hillside, feeding thousands with only five loaves and two fish. The miracle is not merely about multiplying bread. It reveals a God whose heart is moved by human need. Paul then reminds us that nothing, not suffering, failure, fear, nor even death itself, can separate us from Christ's love. The deepest longing of the human heart is not simply to become successful or comfortable, but to know that we are loved with a love that never runs out.

Most refrigerators contain a quiet collection of leftovers purchased with high hopes and now sitting silently in the back, growing more mysterious by the day. We laugh because it is familiar, but we often fill our souls in much the same way, accumulating temporary things that cannot truly nourish us. God gently reminds us today that only His love satisfies. Everything else eventually spoils. His grace never does.

Prayer: Lord, deliver me from chasing what can never satisfy. Quiet my restless heart and teach me to receive the life and love You freely offer each day. Amen.

Readings: Isaiah 55:1 to 3; Psalm 145:8 to 9, 15 to 18; Romans 8:35, 37 to 39; Matthew 14:13 to 21

MONDAY, AUGUST 3 - KEEP YOUR EYES ON JESUS

"Lord, save me!" (Matthew 14:30)

Peter actually walked on water. We usually remember only the moment he began to sink, but before that happened, he did something no one else had ever dared to do. He stepped out of the safety of the boat because his eyes were fixed on Jesus. Only when his attention shifted from Christ to the churning sea did fear begin pulling him beneath the waves.

Jeremiah faces a storm of a different kind. A false prophet offers comforting promises that everyone wants to hear, but Jeremiah speaks the difficult truth instead. He reminds us that true faith is not about believing whatever makes us feel better in the moment. It is about trusting the One who remains faithful when reality is uncomfortable. Both readings reveal a simple truth: fear grows whenever we focus more on the height of the waves than on the presence of the Lord.

Life gives us plenty of waves: a sudden medical report, family tensions, financial strain, a difficult conversation, or the quiet anxiety of an uncertain future. Sometimes even opening the morning news feels like preparing for a minor emotional endurance event. Yet storms have never prevented Jesus from reaching His disciples. He comes precisely when they feel most alone. Strong faith is not pretending the wind has stopped blowing. It is reaching for the hand that has never stopped reaching for us.

Prayer: Lord, when the wind rises, quiet my mind. When the waves swell, fix my eyes on You. Reach for me before I even realize I am sinking. Amen. Readings: Jeremiah 28:1 to 17; Psalm 119:29, 43, 79 to 80, 95, 102; Matthew 14:22 to 36

TUESDAY, AUGUST 4 - GOD HEALS WHAT SEEMS BEYOND REPAIR

Memorial of Saint John Vianney - "I will restore." (Jeremiah 30:18)

Some wounds seem impossible to heal. They may be physical, emotional, or spiritual. A broken relationship, years of accumulated regret, the lingering ache of grief, or habits we have fought for decades can convince us that certain parts of our lives are simply beyond repair. We quietly adapt to the pain and eventually begin calling it normal.

God speaks differently through Jeremiah. He does not minimize the wound or pretend the pain is insignificant. He acknowledges its seriousness and then promises restoration. The Great Physician never denies the diagnosis, but neither does He surrender to it. Saint John Vianney understood this deeply. For countless hours each day, he sat in the confessional and watched God rebuild hearts that people themselves believed were permanently broken.

Grace specializes in restoring what sin, suffering, and discouragement have torn apart. Anyone who has ever tried assembling furniture entirely on confidence alone knows the exact moment pride gives way to frustration, usually when there are six mysterious screws left over and the bookshelf is leaning slightly toward France. Pride can delay healing far longer than the wound itself. God asks us to stop pretending we can repair everything alone and place the broken pieces into His hands. The One who created the heart knows exactly how to restore it.

Prayer: Lord, bring Your healing grace into every wounded place within me. Strip away my pride and give me the courage to trust that nothing in my life is beyond Your power to restore. Amen. Readings: Jeremiah 30:1 to 2, 12 to 22; Psalm 102:16 to 23, 29; Matthew 14:22 to 36 or Matthew 15:1 to 14

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5 - PERSISTENT FAITH

"Lord, help me." (Matthew 15:25)

The Canaanite woman refuses to be turned away. She encounters silence, misunderstanding, and what appears to be rejection, yet she continues reaching toward Jesus. She does not receive an immediate explanation, but she keeps trusting that His mercy is greater than her present disappointment. In doing so, her persistence becomes one of the most radiant examples of faith in the entire Gospel. Jeremiah speaks of God's ancient love, a faithful and pursuing love that never abandoned His people even when they wandered far from Him. The woman in today's Gospel somehow recognizes that same love before she fully understands it. She teaches us that mature faith is not measured by how quickly our prayers are answered, but by our willingness to keep knocking on God's door even when it feels firmly closed.

Most parents know that young children possess an astonishing level of persistence. They can ask the same question thirty six times with complete confidence that request number thirty seven may finally produce a different answer. There is something beautiful about that unyielding trust. Jesus invites us to bring that same persistence to prayer, not because God is reluctant to help us, but because faithful prayer gradually reshapes our hearts to receive what He longs to give.

Prayer: Lord, give me a faith that refuses to give up. When answers are delayed and darkness lingers, anchor my heart in Your unfailing love and perfect timing. Amen. Readings: Jeremiah 31:1 to 7; Jeremiah 31:10 to 13; Matthew 15:21 to 28

THURSDAY, AUGUST 6 - REMEMBER THE MOUNTAIN—Feast of the Transfiguration of the Lord—"This is my beloved Son, listen to him." (Matthew 17:5)

Before the disciples are asked to walk the difficult road to Jerusalem, they are given a breathtaking glimpse of Christ's divine glory. God knows they will soon witness betrayal, humiliation, suffering, and the agony of the Cross. Before asking them to endure the darkness, He places within them an unforgettable memory: the certainty that Jesus is His beloved Son.

We all experience moments when God's presence feels especially near. A retreat, a quiet morning in prayer, the wonder of holding a newborn child, a profound conversation, or an unexpected sense of peace in the middle of chaos can become a spiritual mountaintop. These moments are not meant to become permanent addresses. They are gifts meant to strengthen us when we return to the valleys of ordinary life.

Peter immediately wants to build three tents and remain there. We smile because we recognize ourselves in him. Most of us would gladly vote against Mondays if mountaintop experiences came with permanent residency.

But Jesus always leads His disciples back down the mountain because that is where hurting people are waiting to be healed, loved, and served. The purpose of encountering God's glory is never to escape the world, but to return to it with a transformed heart.

Prayer: Lord Jesus, plant the light of the mountain deep within my memory, so that when I walk through the valleys of life, I never forget who You are. Amen.

Readings: Daniel 7:9 to 14; Psalm 97:1 to 9; 2 Peter 1:16 to 19; Matthew 17:1 to 9

FRIDAY, AUGUST 7 - WHAT IS REALLY WORTH KEEPING?

"What profit would there be for one to gain the whole world and forfeit his life?" (Matthew 16:26)

Jesus asks one of the most searching questions ever spoken. It reaches beneath our titles, bank accounts, accomplishments, home improvements, and carefully maintained reputations. If we gained everything the world applauds but slowly lost our capacity for compassion, integrity, peace, faith, and communion with God, what would we truly have gained?

Nahum announces the collapse of Nineveh, a city that once appeared powerful, prosperous, and permanent. History repeatedly teaches the same lesson: every empire, fortune, and earthly achievement eventually passes away. What endures is the soul we have formed and the love we have given. Jesus calls us to carry our cross not because suffering is valuable in itself, but because love often requires sacrifice, and sacrifice shapes the human heart. We buy strong cases for our phones, protect our accounts with complicated passwords, lock our doors, insure our cars, and carefully back up anything we are afraid to lose. All of that is sensible. Yet we can leave the most precious part of ourselves, our soul, almost completely unguarded against bitterness, vanity, resentment, and endless distraction. Today's Gospel invites us to examine what we are protecting and what we may be neglecting. Nothing we own is more valuable than the person God is forming within us.

Prayer: Lord, grant me the wisdom to value what lasts forever. Give me the courage to choose You over temporary success and to guard my soul above every earthly treasure. Amen.

Readings: Nahum 2:1, 3; 3:1 to 7; Deuteronomy 32:35 to 41; Matthew 16:24 to 28

SATURDAY, AUGUST 8 - SMALL FAITH, GREAT GOD—

Memorial of Saint Dominic "If you have faith the size of a mustard seed, nothing will be impossible for you." (Matthew 17:20)

Many sincere people quietly carry the fear that their faith is simply too weak for God to use. They look at the saints, admire people of extraordinary spiritual courage, and conclude that their own hesitant belief does not measure up. Yet Jesus never demands monumental faith. He asks only for living faith, even if it begins as small as a mustard seed.

Habakkuk stands at his watch post, waiting for answers that seem painfully delayed. God tells him to write down the vision and wait with patience, promising that it will arrive at the appointed time. Faith often does its quietest growing in the waiting rooms of life. It is less about having certainty over every detail and more about placing our confidence in the God who already holds tomorrow. Tiny seeds become towering trees because God supplies the life within them.

Mustard seeds are so small that if one fell onto the kitchen floor, most of us would spend ten minutes looking for it before deciding it had disappeared into another dimension. Yet Jesus deliberately chooses that tiny seed to describe faith. He delights in doing extraordinary things through humble beginnings. God is never limited by the smallness of our faith. He simply asks us to place whatever faith we have into His hands.

Prayer: Lord, strengthen the fragile faith I carry today. Receive my smallest acts of trust and multiply them by Your grace, turning tiny seeds into something beautiful for Your Kingdom. Amen. Readings:

Habakkuk 1:12 to 2:4; Psalm 9:8 to 13; Matthew 17:14 to 20

FEAR COUNTS LOAVES. LOVE FEEDS PEOPLE.

By Fr. Jarek

Imagine being one of the disciples that evening. Five thousand hungry men, not counting the women and children. The sun is dipping below the horizon, and the nearest villages are miles away. The inventory consists of five loaves of bread and two fish. Someone does the math, and the story is over before it begins. Five plus two does not equal thousands.

The disciples are not lacking faith because they are bad people. They are simply thinking the way most of us do. They see a problem, count their resources, and conclude there is not enough. In many ways, that is how we have learned to survive. Fear always begins by counting. It counts dollars in the bank account. It counts years we think we have left. It counts doctor's appointments, prescriptions, aches, disappointments, and unfinished plans. It counts the friends who have moved away, the voices that have gone silent, and the family who no longer visits as often as they once did. Fear keeps careful records because it is always trying to figure out whether there will be enough.

Isaiah speaks directly into that anxious way of thinking with an astonishing invitation: "All you who are thirsty, come to the water." Then he adds something almost unbelievable: "Come without paying and without cost." God begins where fear never can. He begins with generosity. The psalm echoes the same truth: "You open your hand and satisfy the desire of every living thing." Notice the image. God does not approach us with a clenched fist. He opens His hand. The God of Scripture is never stingy with mercy, hope, forgiveness, or love.

Saint Paul carries this truth even further. After listing every hardship imaginable, anguish, distress, persecution, danger, and even death itself, he asks one magnificent question: "What will separate us from the love of Christ?" His answer is wonderfully simple. Nothing. Not our failures. Not our regrets. Not our fears about tomorrow. Nothing. The God who opens His hand never closes His heart.

Then comes the Gospel. The disciples see five loaves. Jesus sees five thousand people He loves. The disciples ask, "What do we have?" Jesus asks, "Who is hungry?" That difference changes everything. Fear counts loaves. Love feeds people. Most of us spend far more time counting what we do not have than thanking God for what we do.

The most important moments in life simply refuse to fit into a calculator. A grandparent reading a bedtime story will probably never know how deeply those quiet minutes shape a young heart. A handwritten note. A midday phone call. A warm meal carried across the driveway. A patient conversation with a struggling spouse. These seem like such ordinary things, yet they often become the moments people remember for the rest of their lives. We underestimate what God can do with simple acts of love because they seem as small as five loaves and two fish.

As we grow older, another temptation quietly appears. We begin thinking more about what we can no longer do than about what we still can. We cannot walk as fast. We cannot lift as much. We cannot stay awake as late. We cannot remember every name or every reason we walked into the next room. Sometimes we joke that we need a map just to find our reading glasses, only to discover they have been sitting on our heads the entire time. It is good to laugh because growing older certainly provides plenty of material. Yet perhaps our greatest gifts were never our strength or our speed. Perhaps they were always our patience, our wisdom, our prayers, and the quiet love that only the passing of years can teach.

The Kingdom of God has never depended on how much strength we possess. It has always depended on whether we are willing to place whatever we have into the hands of Jesus. Five loaves were enough. Two fish were enough. A widow's two small coins were enough. A mustard seed was enough. God has always delighted in accomplishing extraordinary things through what the world considers insufficient. Perhaps the greatest miracle on that hillside was not simply that bread multiplied. It was that fear gave way to trust. Once the bread was placed into the hands of Jesus, scarcity no longer had the final word.

That may be the lesson we need most. The future will always contain unknowns. There will always be reasons to worry. Fear will always ask, "Will there be enough?" Faith asks a different question: "What can God do with what I have?" We can spend our days counting what seems to be missing, or we can begin placing what we have into the hands of the One who has never stopped opening His own.

Fear still counts loaves. Love still feeds people. And God still has more than enough.

Prayer

Lord, I confess that I often think like the disciples.

I count my worries more carefully than I count Your blessings.

I notice what I lack long before I notice all that You have already placed into my life.

When fear whispers that there is not enough, remind me that Your love has never been exhausted and Your generosity has never failed.

Take whatever I have, however small it may seem, my time, my kindness, my prayers, my experience, my scars, and my hope, and use them to bless someone who needs Your love today.

Teach me to trust that in Your hands, even the smallest gift offered with love can become more than enough. Amen.

Adults desiring to partake in the journey into full communion with the Roman Catholic Church are invited to take the all-important next step: Order of Christian Initiation for Adults (OCIA). In addition to learning about Catholic beliefs and prayers, the OCIA focuses on faith development, maturing one's relationship with God, and building and nourishing relationships among the participants and the parish community. It was developed in the first and second centuries of the Church for those seeking Jesus Christ. For more information or to register please contact the Parish Office at 992-0901. Prayer For Safety In Hurricane Season

O God, Master of this passing world, hear the humble voices of your children. The Sea of Galilee obeyed Your order and returned to its former quietude. You are still the Master of land and sea. We live in the shadow of a danger over which we have no control: the Gulf, like a provoked and angry giant, can awake from its seeming lethargy, overstep its conventional boundaries, invade our land, and spread chaos and disaster.

During this hurricane season we turn to You, O loving Father. Spare us from tragedies like those whose memories are still vivid.

O Virgin, Star of the Sea, Our beloved Mother, we ask you to plead with your Son on our behalf, so that spared from the calamities common to this area and animated with a true spirit of gratitude, we may walk in the footsteps of your Divine Son to reach the heavenly Jerusalem, where a stormless eternity awaits us. Amen.
