Celebrating our Faith

BAPTISM OF INFANTS

Baptisms of children under 7 years old are offered every fourth Sunday of each month in Spanish and every second Sunday of the month in English. Please visit our website or contact our office for details and requirements.

CONFIRMATION

At confirmation we receive the gifts of the Holy Spirit and confirm and renew our baptismal promises committing to a life of maturity in the Christian faith. Unconfirmed Catholics wishing to receive the Sacrament should contact the Parish Office to make arrangements for suitable instruction. Unbaptized or non-Catholics can be confirmed at the Easter Vigil when they are baptized or received into the Church as a part of Order of Christian Initiation of Adult. To enroll in OCIA, please call Griselda Cisneros at 992-0901.

EUCHARIST

Parishioners who wish to bring communion to their spouses should contact the parish office to pick up a pyx with the St. Leo's inscription on it. Please use this pyx when approaching to receive a host for your spouse or a family member in the Communion procession during Mass. If you need to receive a gluten free host due to a medical condition please arrive 15 minutes before Mass begins and inform the Sacristan.

RECONCILIATION

Individual confession with a priest is the principal means of absolution and reconciliation of grave sins within the Church. The Sacrament of Reconciliation frees us from sinful patterns of behavior and calls us to complete conversion to Christ. Confessions are heard at 2pm on Saturday in English and 2pm on Sunday in Spanish in the Church. You may also approach any of our parish priests to hear your confession at another suitable time.

THE RITE OF ANOINTING

A person does not need to wait until the point of death to receive this sacrament. A careful judgment about the serious nature of the illness is sufficient. The Sacrament may be repeated if the sick person recovers after the anointing but becomes ill once again, or if, during the same illness, the person's condition becomes more serious. For those who are about to depart from this life, the Church offers the person Penance, Anointing of the Sick, and the Eucharist as Viaticum (food for the journey) given at the end of life. Contact the Parish Office at 992-0901 to be connected with the priest on duty.

SACRAMENT OF MARRIAGE

If you are a registered parishioner of St. Leo and plan to marry in our parish please contact our office at least six months prior to the tentative wedding date. Weddings cannot be scheduled until the marriage preparation process is complete and it is determined that the parties are free to marry.

ANNULMENT - Reestablishing the freedom to marry.

An annulment is more accurately described as a declaration of matrimonial invalidity. It is an official determination made by an ecclesiastical court that at the time of the marital consent exchanged by the parties a specific component of the marriage was lacking or defective. Hence, the marriage failed to be a marriage as defined by the Catholic Church. If you wish to reestablish your freedom to marry in the Church, please contact a parish priest to be your advocate in presenting your case to the Tribunal.

VOCATION

If you think that you have a vocation to the priesthood or religious life please speak with one of our priests, or contact the Diocesan Director of Vocations at 941-484-9548, visit www.dioceseofvenice.org/vocations

All Souls Day

Held in the Hand of God

"The souls of the just are in the hand of God, and no torment shall touch them." (Wisdom 3:1)

We look at death and see silence. God looks at death and sees a homecoming. The world may say someone is gone, but Scripture insists they are safe and shining like gold pulled from the fire. They seemed lost to us, yet they are now closer to God than they ever were to trouble or fear. What we call the end is really the beginning of life that does not fray or fade.

Psalm 23 reminds us that when our loved ones walked into the valley that made our hearts tremble, they did not walk alone. The Shepherd who guided them by peaceful waters guided them into joy. Paul says hope does not disappoint because God loved us even when we were far from perfect. If Christ embraced us while we were stumbling, imagine the joy with which he embraces those now fully in his light.

Jesus promises that he will not lose a single one of those entrusted to him. Not one name slips through his fingers. Not one story ends in darkness. Today we remember. We grieve with love. And we dare to believe the ones we miss are already singing, waiting for the day when we join them at the table where no one ever has to say goodbye again.

Prayer: Lord, comfort us with the promise that those we love are alive in you. Give us peace for today and hope for the day when we will see them again. Amen.

Wisdom 3:1–9; Psalm 23; Romans 5:5–11 or Romans 6:3–9; John 6:37–40

The Guest List Jesus Loves

"When you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind." (Luke 14:13)

Jesus turns social expectations upside down with a single invitation. We usually choose our guest list based on comfort or convenience. He chooses based on need. He suggests that the truest hospitality is not a trade or a transaction but a gift that looks like grace. The kind of party heaven applauds is the one where no one can pay you back.

Paul reminds us that the gifts and the call of God are irrevocable. God invites us to his table, not because we are impressive but because we are loved. The psalmist says the Lord hears the poor and revives the lowly. Christ wants a feast where those who felt invisible suddenly discover a seat with their name on it.

Heaven throws better parties than we do. And the only real price of admission is hunger. Maybe today the most sacred thing we can do is make sure someone who feels unworthy knows they are wanted.

Prayer: Lord, widen my heart and my table. Give me eyes to welcome the ones you love. Help me give without expecting anything in return. Amen. Romans 11:29–36; Psalm 69:30–31, 33–34, 36; Luke 14:12–14

The Invitation We Keep Ignoring

"Come, everything is now ready." (Luke 14:17)

God prepares a banquet and we answer with excuses. One has business to check. Another has plans to finalize. Someone just got married and is too busy being happy. The table is set, the candles are lit, and heaven waits while we scroll, hurry, and postpone joy. We keep meaning to show up, but the to do list keeps winning.

Paul tells us that we are one Body in Christ and that every gift has a place at the table. Love becomes real when it becomes practical. Honor someone. Rejoice with someone. Weep with someone. The psalmist sits quietly in God's lap like a child who no longer needs to figure everything out. Peace is not found on the other side of accomplishment. Peace is found in the One who calls us to come and rest. God does not cancel the feast when we are late. He simply expands the invitation. There is always more room. But it would be a shame to miss the best meal of our life because we were checking on oxen or emails.

Prayer: Lord, free me from the excuses that keep me from joy. Teach me to respond quickly when you call. Let me never be too busy to come to you. Amen.

Romans 12:5–16; Psalm 131; Luke 14:15–24 Memorial of Saint Charles Borromeo

The Cost of Following Love

"Whoever does not carry his own cross and come after me cannot be my disciple." (Luke 14:27)

Jesus does not hide the fine print. Following him asks something from us. The crowds love a miracle worker. Few want a Savior who expects commitment. Jesus uses real world math. You would not build a tower without calculating the cost. You would not start a battle without counting the troops. Love is free, but discipleship asks for your life.

Paul writes that love is the fulfillment of the law. The commandments are not hoops to jump through but training wheels for mercy. The psalm praises the person who is gracious, just, and unafraid to give. Heaven measures wealth by generosity, not possessions.

Carrying the cross is not about loving pain. It is about loving God and others enough to keep going when love is difficult. Some days discipleship feels like building with empty pockets. Those are the days Christ whispers, Trust me, I finish what I start.

Prayer: Lord, give me a courageous heart willing to choose love when it costs something. Help me carry the cross with you and never alone. Amen. Romans 13:8–10; Psalm 112; Luke 14:25–33

Thursday, November 6

The Joy of Being Found

"There will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents." (Luke 15:7)

Jesus looks at a crowd of sinners and smiles. The Pharisees look at the same crowd and mutter. One group sees a problem. One sees a party about to happen. Our God is the kind of shepherd who leaves the ninety nine to chase the one who wandered off again. And when he finds that stubborn sheep, he carries it home with joy rather than a lecture.

Paul reminds us that we live and die in the Lord. We belong to him from the first breath to the last heartbeat. The psalmist believes that goodness will be seen in the land of the living and encourages us to wait with courage. We are never abandoned in the meantime. God does not forget anyone in the couch cushions of eternity. Heaven does not cheer for perfect people. Heaven cheers when someone turns around. One step back toward God is enough to make the angels dance. If you feel lost today, do not hide. You are already missed.

Prayer: Lord, thank you for chasing me down when I wander. Lift me onto your shoulders and carry me home into joy. Amen. Romans 14:7–12; Psalm 27; Luke 15:1–10

Friday, November 7

Little Choices, Big Trust

"The person who is trustworthy in very small matters is also trustworthy in great ones." (Luke 16:10)

Jesus tells a story about a dishonest manager who gets praised for being clever. It feels odd until we realize the point. The Children of Light should be at least as determined in serving God as the world is in pursuing profit. Great sainthood usually starts where no one is looking, in choices small enough to ignore and important enough to matter. Paul celebrates the Church as God's work. He does not boast in accomplishments but in what Christ has done through him. The psalm calls the world to sing a new song because salvation is too big to whisper. God reveals his love through people who simply show up and do the right thing again tomorrow.

Trustworthiness grows in teaspoons. Tell the truth. Honor a commitment. Help someone quietly. One small yes prepares the soul for a greater one. God trains giants by asking for tiny steps.

Prayer: Lord, make me faithful in the small moments of today. Shape my heart with quiet obedience so I am ready for whatever you ask next. Amen. Romans 15:14–21; Psalm 98; Luke 16:1–8

Saturday, November 8

Friends in Christ

"Greet one another with a holy kiss." (Romans 16:16)

Paul ends his great theological letter with an address book. Names hard to pronounce. People we never met. He thanks those who risked their necks, worked hard, served quietly, and opened their homes. It is a reminder that the Church is not an idea. It is a family made of real friends and real sacrifices.

The psalm invites every generation to praise God together because faith grows when we share it. Christ warns us that we cannot serve God and money. One of those masters uses people and values things. The other uses things and values people. Our hearts always reveal who we trust most.

Salvation is personal, but it is never private. The Kingdom grows through greetings, meals, phone calls, encouragement, forgiveness, and friendship that smells like Christ. Heaven's family reunion has already begun.

Prayer: Lord, thank you for the people who make faith easier and joy brighter. Help me love the Church as a family and serve it with a grateful heart. Amen. Romans 16:3–9, 16, 22–27; Psalm 145; Luke 16:9–15

The Longing That Love Leaves Behind

All Souls' Day Reflection by Father Jarek

Wisdom 3:1–9; Psalm 23; Romans 5:5–11 or Romans 6:3–9; John 6:37–40

There is an ache that enters the room when someone we love dies. It is a quiet visitor that does not rush to leave. It sits at the dinner table where another place once belonged. It lingers in the pause before a name we still expect to hear. Grief is not a symptom of something broken in us. It is a sign that something beautiful was real. It is love longing for what feels lost.

God does not ask us to pretend that death is simple. Scripture does not dismiss our sorrow or turn away from our tears. Instead, the readings for All Souls' Day gently lead us into a truth deeper than sadness. They whisper: There is more to the story than what our eyes can see.

Wisdom begins with a promise that fits like a warm coat on a cold day: "The souls of the just are in the hand of God." Not near his hand. Not watched from a distance. Held. Secure. Enfolded. We may feel the emptiness of a chair left open. God feels the weight of their life resting safely in his palm.

To many people death looks like the end of joy. Wisdom challenges that conclusion. "They seemed, in the view of the foolish, to be dead," we hear. But God sees something very different. He sees the beginning of glory. He sees his children "in peace," shining like gold that has passed through fire. The world measures by what is lost. God measures by what is loved.

Psalm 23 brings us into the valley we would all rather avoid. "Even though I walk in the dark valley, I fear no evil." Why? Because no one walks that valley alone. We imagine death as a lonely crossing. The Shepherd thinks otherwise. He goes with us into every shadow. He guides. He comforts. He carries. Death is not an abandonment. It is a handoff from our embrace into his.

Then Paul speaks with the bold confidence of someone who has seen love win: "Hope does not disappoint." He dares to write this not because life is painless, but because God has already shown how far his love will go. "While we were still sinners Christ died for us." If Christ held us when we were lost, how much more will he raise those who now belong entirely to him. If Jesus embraces us while we stumble, imagine the joy with which he receives those who have stepped fully into his light.

In the Gospel Jesus reveals the very desire of the Father: that he "should not lose anything of what he gave me." Jesus does not shrug before the grave. He does not surrender even one whom the Father loves. The God who searched for the lost sheep will not misplace those we miss so dearly. He will "raise them on the last day." This is not a comforting metaphor. It is a promise, spoken by the One who keeps promises.

All Souls' Day stands where love and hope meet. We can feel the sting of loss and refuse to let loss have the last word. We can grieve with tears because grief means we loved well. We can hope with trust because God loves even better. Grief and hope are not enemies. They walk together through the valley. Grief reminds us how deep our love goes. Hope reminds us that love is stronger than death.

So today we speak the names we refuse to forget. We allow the longing in our hearts to rise without shame. We place our loved ones once again into the hand of God. And we dare to believe this truth: our story with them is not finished. If we listen closely in prayer we may hear a voice that sounds like someone we still love saying: Do not think I am far away. I am held. I am home. And I am waiting for you with joy.

Prayer

Lord Jesus,
you are the Shepherd who walks
with us through every valley.
Today we remember the ones we love
who have gone before us.
Hold them close in your peace.
Let your light surround whatever feels dark in us.
Give our hearts the quiet strength to trust that love is never lost.

Gather our tears and turn them into hope.
Gather our memories and turn them into gratitude.
Gather our longing and turn it into faith that your promise is true and that life is not finished at the grave.

Keep us steadfast until we meet again in the joy that has no end.
May eternal rest shine upon them, O Lord,
and may we all rise with you on the last day.

All Saints & All Souls

REMEMBERING OUR DEAD

The Church has always respected the early witnesses, or martyrs, who died for their Christian faith. The history of the Church has many stories about the faith of these martyrs. They were rather like heroes and their stories have been good examples for all Christians throughout history. The Church later canonized many of the holy people whose names and stories were known. This meant that the Church formally recognised that their lives were holy by naming them as saints and enrolling them in the official list of saints.

However, there were thousands more early Christian martyrs and holy persons who were not canonized by the Church. In order to honor the memory of these unnamed saints the Church dedicated a special feast day. This feast that we now know as All Saints Day started out as the feast of All Martyrs in the 4th century. Sometime between 731 and 741, Pope Gregory III fixed November 1 as the day dedicated to the honor of all saints.

All Souls' Day, on November 2nd, is a day of remembrance for friends and loved ones who have passed away and purposely follows All Saints' Day in order to move the focus from the saints to ordinary people. Because not all the dead were being honored on All Saints Day, this day was set aside on which the dead awaiting entry to heaven in purgatory could benefit from the prayers of the living. The feast day itself is rooted in the second century. In the 10th century, St. Odilo of Cluny established a memorial of all the faithful departed. Rome added the feast to the Church's liturgical calendar in the 13th century.

The feast of All Souls reminds us of our mortality. We are all finite, mortal creatures. We are all loved by God, who has endowed us with an immortal soul. Our ultimate destiny lies in God's hands, and even death does not separate us from God's love.

Veteran Prayer

HEAVENLY FATHER,

We come before You today with gratitude in our hearts for the brave men and women who have served our country in the military. We thank You for their selfless sacrifice, for their courage, and for their dedication to protecting our freedoms.

Lord, we ask that You bless each veteran with Your peace and comfort. For those who carry the physical, emotional, or spiritual wounds of war, we pray for healing. Ease their pain and give them strength for the days ahead.

We lift up their families, who have also sacrificed much in support of their loved ones. Grant them patience, understanding, and the assurance of Your presence in their lives.

Guide our nation to honor its veterans with the respect and care they deserve. Help us to remember their service, not just on special days, but every day. May we be a source of support and encouragement to them in all that they do.

We ask these things in the name of Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord. AMEN.

St. Leo's Respect Life Ministry

We Pray for the Recently Deceased of Our Parish

Jose Medina

A Catholic Mass on Veterans Day, Tuesday, November 11, will be held outdoors in the Amphitheater at Sarasota National Cemetery at 3pm. This annual Mass, now in its 16th year in the Diocese of Venice, has become a sacred tradition. Gathering as one people under God, we honor and remember our United States veterans, both living and deceased. All are welcome to attend and join in prayer for the souls of our faithfully departed veterans as well as for those currently in the military, and all who labor to protect the freedom we enjoy. If you are a member of the military, come, and wear your uniform! Opening ceremonies begin at 2:45 p.m.
