Celebrating our Faith

BAPTISM OF INFANTS

Baptisms of children under 7 years old are offered every fourth Sunday of each month in Spanish and every second Sunday of the month in English. Please visit our website or contact our office for details and requirements.

CONFIRMATION

At confirmation we receive the gifts of the Holy Spirit and confirm and renew our baptismal promises committing to a life of maturity in the Christian faith. Unconfirmed Catholics wishing to receive the Sacrament should contact the Parish Office to make arrangements for suitable instruction. Unbaptized or non-Catholics can be confirmed at the Easter Vigil when they are baptized or received into the Church as a part of Order of Christian Initiation of Adult. To enroll in OCIA, please call Griselda Cisneros at 992-0901.

EUCHARIST

Parishioners who wish to bring communion to their spouses should contact the parish office to pick up a pyx with the St. Leo's inscription on it. Please use this pyx when approaching to receive a host for your spouse or a family member in the Communion procession during Mass. If you need to receive a gluten free host due to a medical condition please arrive 15 minutes before Mass begins and inform the Sacristan.

RECONCILIATION

Individual confession with a priest is the principal means of absolution and reconciliation of grave sins within the Church. The Sacrament of Reconciliation frees us from sinful patterns of behavior and calls us to complete conversion to Christ. Confessions are heard at 2pm on Saturday in English and 2pm on Sunday in Spanish in the Church. You may also approach any of our parish priests to hear your confession at another suitable time.

THE RITE OF ANOINTING

A person does not need to wait until the point of death to receive this sacrament. A careful judgment about the serious nature of the illness is sufficient. The Sacrament may be repeated if the sick person recovers after the anointing but becomes ill once again, or if, during the same illness, the person's condition becomes more serious. For those who are about to depart from this life, the Church offers the person Penance, Anointing of the Sick, and the Eucharist as Viaticum (food for the journey) given at the end of life. Contact the Parish Office at 992-0901 to be connected with the priest on duty.

SACRAMENT OF MARRIAGE

If you are a registered parishioner of St. Leo and plan to marry in our parish please contact our office at least six months prior to the tentative wedding date. Weddings cannot be scheduled until the marriage preparation process is complete and it is determined that the parties are free to marry.

ANNULMENT - Reestablishing the freedom to marry.

An annulment is more accurately described as a declaration of matrimonial invalidity. It is an official determination made by an ecclesiastical court that at the time of the marital consent exchanged by the parties a specific component of the marriage was lacking or defective. Hence, the marriage failed to be a marriage as defined by the Catholic Church. If you wish to reestablish your freedom to marry in the Church, please contact a parish priest to be your advocate in presenting your case to the Tribunal.

VOCATION

If you think that you have a vocation to the priesthood or religious life please speak with one of our priests, or contact the Diocesan Director of Vocations at 941-484-9548, visit www.dioceseofvenice.org/vocations

Daily Reflections

by Father Jarek

Sunday, October 19
Hands Held High

"As long as Moses kept his hands raised up, Israel had the better of the fight."* (Exodus 17:11)
Moses climbs a hill with a stick and a promise. The battle is down in the valley, yet the real work happens where three friends stand close enough to notice when an arm starts to shake. They do the most practical thing in Scripture. They find a rock for a chair and hold up his hands. The miracle is not glamorous. It is teamwork.

The psalm looks up to the mountains and asks where help will come from. Sometimes the answer is God sending Aaron and Hur to your side with a quiet, holy stubbornness. Sometimes the answer is you, sliding a chair under a tired friend and saying, I have the left arm, you take the right.

Jesus tells a story about a widow who refuses to quit. She does not yell at the heavens. She shows up again tomorrow. Faith is often less like fireworks and more like a calendar reminder. Pray, return, repeat. If your prayer feels small, keep going. Heaven has a long attention span, and God is far kinder than a cranky judge.

Prayer: Lord, when I am tired, send me helpers. When others are tired, send me. Teach me the grace of not giving up. Amen. Exodus 17:8-13; Psalm 121; 2 Timothy 3:14-4:2; Hebrews 4:12; Luke 18:1-8

Monday, October 20
Bigger Barns or Bigger Hearts

"Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions."* (Luke 12:15)

Abraham trusted a promise that was larger than any blueprint. He did not calculate the odds. He counted on God. That trust was credited as righteousness, which is a beautiful way of saying that faith deposits something real in the soul.

A man with full barns starts a conversation with himself and wins the debate. He forgets to invite God into the meeting, also forgets to invite his neighbor. By sunset his barns are perfect and his priorities are not. The parable is uncomfortable because it is familiar. We keep thinking more storage will make more life.

Here is a simple shift. Before you save, give. Before you expand, ask God who needs to be included. Bigger barns are fine. Bigger hearts are better. And if you have been waiting to be generous until life finally feels secure, note that security is often what arrives after generosity.

Prayer: Father, teach me to number my days and to spend them on what matters to You. Make my plans kind. Amen.  Romans 4:20-25; Luke 1:68-75; Matthew 5:3; Luke 12:13-21

Tuesday, October 21
Lamps at the Ready

"Blessed are those servants whom the master finds vigilant on his arrival."* (Luke 12:37)

Through one man came the long winter of sin. Through one man comes spring. Paul piles gift upon grace until it overflows the page, as if words can barely carry what God has done. Where sin spread fast, grace runs faster.

Jesus pictures servants who keep the porch light on and the door unlatched. The master returns late, sees the lamps, and does the most surprising thing. He ties on an apron and serves the people who were serving Him. Heaven loves to reverse the expected.

Vigilance is not anxiety. It is love that remembers. Keep a little oil in your lamp. Say a short prayer before you open your inbox. Leave a corner of your day unscheduled so that God has room to knock. When He does, joy will feel like the sound of a latch lifting.

Prayer: Jesus, keep my heart awake and my love warm. Let me be found ready and glad when You arrive. Amen. Romans 5:12, 15b, 17-19, 20b-21; Psalm 40; Luke 21:36; Luke 12:35-38

Wednesday, October 22
Trusted While No One Is Watching

"Much will be required of the person entrusted with much."* (Luke 12:48)

Paul asks us to stop handing our members over to habits that shrink our lives. Present yourself to God instead, not as a perfect person but as someone raised and learning to walk. Grace is not a permission slip. It is a new strength for a new way.

Jesus speaks about stewards who manage the pantry while the master is away. The wise ones keep passing out bread at the right time. The foolish ones think delay means freedom to drift toward cruelty. We live between two arrivals. Character is who we are in the meantime.

You have been trusted with much. A family, a parish, a friendship, a skill, a wound that can become compassion. If you want a simple rule for stewardship, try this. When unsure, feed someone. Food for the body. Food for the mind. Food for a tired spirit. Blessed is the servant who is still ladling soup when the door opens.

Prayer: Lord, make me steady in secret and kind in public. Help me serve well with what You have placed in my hands. Amen. Romans 6:12-18; Psalm 124; Matthew 24:42, 44; Luke 12:39-48

Thursday, October 23
Set on Fire to Love

"I have come to set the earth on fire, and how I wish it were already blazing!"* (Luke 12:49)

Paul contrasts two kinds of slavery and one real freedom. We all serve something. When we gave ourselves to sin, the returns were small and the bill was steep. When we give ourselves to God, the fruit is holiness and the end is life. The wages of sin are exact. The gift of God is extravagant.

Jesus says He came to set the earth on fire. That sounds disruptive until you remember what His fire does. It burns away the lies that keep us pleasant but distant. It clears the thorns that choke our love. It warms the cold corners of a family that has lived too long with polite silence.

If following Christ has never created a hard choice for you, ask for courage. Not to search for division, but to love with a truth that sometimes costs. Let the Spirit light one brave act today, small but sincere. Think of it as opening a window so fresh air can move through the house.

Prayer: Holy Spirit, kindle in me a clear and gentle fire. Let zeal and tenderness live in the same heart. Amen. Romans 6:19-23; Psalm 1; Philippians 3:8-9; Luke 12:49-53

Friday, October 24
Reading the Weather of the Heart

"Why do you not judge for yourselves what is right?"* (Luke 12:57)

Paul describes the most human tug of war. I want to do good, then I do not. He names the misery with honesty and does not stop there. Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ. This is not a shrug. It is a rescue. Confession is the moment we hand God the rope and step out of the mud.

Jesus teases a crowd that can read clouds but not their conscience. We carry a pocket meteorologist for the sky and none for the soul. The Lord suggests a practical forecast. If you are on the way to court, settle now. In other words, do not wait for a bigger storm. Make peace while you can still walk together.

Try a small act of wisdom today. Send the text that softens a misunderstanding. Pay the debt you keep moving to next week. Apologize without a defense. It is amazing how much weather clears when the front of pride moves on.

Prayer: Lord, teach me to read the signs within, and give me the courage to choose the next right thing. Amen. Romans 7:18-25a; Psalm 119:66, 68, 76-77, 93-94; Matthew 11:25; Luke 12:54-59

Saturday, October 25
Second Chances and Slow Growing Figs

"Sir, leave it for this year also, and I shall cultivate the ground around it and fertilize it."* (Luke 13:8)

There is no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. Paul says it and we keep checking if it is really true. The Spirit who raised Jesus lives in us and keeps whispering life where the world has labeled us done. That whisper is stronger than the loud voice of shame.

A tower fell and people died. The crowd wants a theory. Jesus gives a warning and then a gardener. A fig tree has been all leaves and no fruit for three years. The owner reaches for the axe. The gardener reaches for a shovel. Give me one more year. I will dig and feed and tend. Mercy is patient, but not passive.

If you feel fruitless, do not cut yourself down. Let Christ loosen the compacted soil around your heart. Let Him pour grace into places that have gone hard from disappointment. Keep showing up to the light. Figs ripen slow, and that is fine.

Prayer: Gardener of my soul, dig where I am stubborn, nourish what is weak, and bring fruit in Your time. Amen. Romans 8:1-11; Psalm 24; Ezekiel 33:11; Luke 13:1-9

Words That Cut and Heal

Hebrews 4:12; 2 Timothy 3:14–4:2; Exodus 17:8–13; Luke 18:1–8

By Father Jarek

Most of us would rather not think of God's Word as a sword. A warm blanket? Yes. A comforting cup of coffee? Absolutely. But a sword? Not so much. Yet the Letter to the Hebrews insists, "The word of God is living and effective, sharper than any two edged sword."

That line unnerves us because we know what sharp things do. They pierce. They separate truth from excuse, pride from humility, appearance from authenticity. And no one enjoys being cut open like that.

But here is the paradox: the same Word that wounds also heals. Like a skilled surgeon, God never slices to harm; He cuts to remove what keeps the heart from beating freely. Every time we listen to Scripture with honesty, we invite that gentle surgery of grace.

Think of the moments when God's Word has found its mark: a Gospel verse that unsettled your conscience, a psalm that pierced your grief, a reading at Mass that felt written just for you. At first, the truth stings, but beneath the sting is relief. The infection of sin, pride, or bitterness begins to drain, and what felt like pain becomes peace.

Saint Paul understood this when he urged Timothy to "proclaim the word; be persistent whether it is convenient or inconvenient." The inconvenient moments are usually the ones that change us. The Word confronts us when we are comfortable and comforts us when we are broken. It refuses to flatter; it insists on freeing.

In Exodus, Moses prays with weary arms as battle rages below. The Word at work there is not spoken but embodied, steadfast, demanding endurance. It cuts through illusion and shows that victory belongs not to strength but to faith sustained in weakness.

And in Luke's Gospel, the persistent widow keeps pleading before an unjust judge. Her insistence mirrors what Scripture does within us: it keeps knocking until the hardened door of the heart opens. God's Word never gives up; it keeps visiting the same wound until mercy finally has room to enter.

If we let it, the Word can transform how we hear everything. Instead of scrolling past headlines, we begin to ask, "What truth is God revealing here?" Instead of reacting in anger, we pause long enough for the sword of the Spirit to trim our pride before we speak.

The psalmist says, "The Lord will guard your coming and your going, both now and forever." That protection often happens through the very words that challenge us most. The Word of God guards by guiding, and guides by sometimes cutting away our false defenses.

So when a reading unsettles you, do not turn the page too quickly. Sit with it. Let it probe, question, and heal. The Word that cuts is the same Word that restores.

And perhaps, in time, we will come to see that being pierced by truth is not an injury. It is the first step of being made whole.
