

DISCLAIMER & TERMS OF USE EPA

Version: 1.0

Last updated: 2-2-2026

1. General

The Easy Parenting App ("EPA") and the information provided therein, including responses generated by artificial intelligence ("AI"), are intended solely for informational and educational purposes. By using the app, you agree to this disclaimer.

2. No Medical or Psychological Advice

EPA is not a substitute for professional medical, psychological, or pedagogical advice, diagnosis, or treatment.

- In case of medical complaints, developmental disorders, or acute psychological distress, always contact a general practitioner, pediatrician, or specialist.
- Never use EPA in emergency situations. In case of danger, call emergency services (e.g., 112 or 911) immediately.

3. Nature of AI

Responses in EPA are generated by AI technology. Although we strive for the highest quality and safety:

- The AI may provide answers that are factually incorrect, incomplete, or inappropriate for your specific situation.
- EPA cannot be held liable for the content of the generated advice.

4. Own Responsibility

The use of the app and the application of advice is at all times at your own risk.

- You, as a parent/guardian, remain ultimately responsible for the upbringing, safety, and well-being of your child.
- Use your own judgment and intuition when interpreting the advice.

5. Limitation of Liability

LO22 (the publisher of EPA), its founders, employees, and partners are not liable for any direct or indirect damage, injury, or disadvantage resulting from the use of this app or following the advice given therein. No rights can be derived from the information in this app.

By clicking "I Agree" in the app, you confirm that you have read and understood this disclaimer.
