Our Digital Equity Solution

Compudopt's goal is to make sure all families have the access they need to thrive in today's digital world. That's why we are a non-profit dedicated to providing computers, internet access and tech education to those who do not have a computer, wifi or are in need of tech skills.

Device Access

Compudopt distributes reconditioned computers to families without access to devices at home through computer giveaways. Computers are free and include 2 years of free tech support.

Internet Connectivity

At Compudopt, our goal is finding nationwide internet solutions that help provide digital equity to all people regardless of income. We are also our own ISP, serving families in under-connected communities at no cost with 50mbps speeds. We can build in your community, too.

Digital Literacy

The Compudopt Digital Skills Builder Program is a digital literacy program to help students of all ages navigate their way around both computers and the internet. The program is available as a series of educational videos that participants can watch at their own pace or as trainer-led group lessons that participants can attend virtually or in-person.

Technology Education

Through our free signature programs, Compudopt offers workforce relevant, project-based tech education for students grades 1-12 to incite curiosity around learning that leads to brighter futures!

Support Center

Compudopt employs Digital Navigators to offer free technology support for those who have received refurbished computers, need help getting connected the internet, or need other support accessing high-quality, vetted technology resources.

Community Portal

We know that for many families, the barriers they face go beyond the digital divide. We built the community portal to offer individuals in-home access to vetted, localized support to meet some of these other needs. These include but are not limited to housing, childcare, additional education, healthcare, and food insecurity, among others.
