

VINCENT:

Gordon, I'll remind you that people who think they're hot shit don't turn out too well. I don't give much of a goddamn about you. When you go into that classroom, I want you to make sure you're teaching history. Real history. True history. By the book. The way it happened. Don't go in there sharing your revised nigger versions, trying to brainwash impressionable young minds. It won't work. You should be listening to me, taking notes, cuz if anything, I'm giving you a helping hand. Try to serve a plate of lies to the wrong kid, they'll go home to their folks and next thing you know you got a mob outside your door, rope in hand, just waitin' on you to make a move. So, let's keep both our lives on the easy end and stick to the book. Teach history. Go home. No trouble. Sounds pretty goddamn easy to me, don't you agree?

Vincent pulls out a cigarette, lights it. Silence.