A Message From Your Homemaking Team

Over the next little while, you may notice some new faces helping you maintain the comfort and cleanliness of your home. While they may be new to you, they are qualified, professional, and doing their best to support you and your neighbours while your regular homemaker enjoys some much-deserved time off. We thank you for welcoming them just as warmly as you would our long-time staff.

We also kindly remind you that patience, understanding, and respect toward all staff entering your unit is essential for creating a healthy and productive work and home environment. Requests for specific staff members cannot be accommodated at this time, and we will not tolerate hostility, personal attacks, rude comments, or disrespectful behaviour toward any team member. We appreciate your cooperation and understanding.

Thank you for helping us maintain a positive and respectful environment for everyone.

Staff Spotlight

This month our Staff Spotlight shines on A.J. (Abhijith). He recently joined the Property Department as a Maintenance Worker. If you submit a work order, he may be the staff member who comes to your suite to address the issue. Please give A.J. a warm welcome when you see him around OSCR!

Happy Birthday To You!

FALL/WINTER MENU

The new Fall/Winter menu recently launched, and we have completed a full 4-week rotation. We hope you are enjoying the new menu. If you have feedback for the Food Services team, please leave your input in the suggestion box by the posted menus.

BON APPÉTIT!

Disposal of Personal Items

We've noticed an increase in personal or unwanted items being left behind in the communal floor lounges and shared spaces. While we understand the intention may be to pass things along or simply clean out your space, we kindly remind everyone that all personal and throwaway items must be disposed of properly and independently.

Please do not leave any belongings--whether they're meant for donation, disposal, or reuse, for staff or OSCR to manage. These items will not be collected or removed by our team and may create clutter or confusion for other residents. We suggest that you contact a family member, friends, waste removal company or donation centre to make arrangements for your items to be removed.

Let's work together to keep our shared spaces clean, safe, and enjoyable for all.
