how we change

CHANGE IS WORKED FOR, NOT WISHED FOR

Eric Wayman • January 25, 2026

- What you love in your heart has a greater influence on what you do than what you think in your mind.

- While new beliefs renew the mind, new practices retrain the heart.

"You learn to love what you practice." — JAMES K.A. SMITH

MATTHEW 5:19

MATTHEW 7:24-27

JAMES 1:22

PHILIPPIANS 2:12-13

Open to continue taking notes!

My notes from Sunday's message continued...

"Grace is not opposed to effort; it is opposed to earning."

— DALLAS WILLARD

- Formation into the image of Jesus isn't something we do to ourselves; it's something that we invite Him to do to us. Our job is primarily to make ourselves available.

"Much of Christians' current disillusionment over their lack of transformation is because they have never learned their part in spiritual formation. But our job isn't to self-save; it's to surrender."

— JOHN MARK COMER

This Study Guide is designed to help you apply Sunday's message. Join a Life Group and do this study together!

1. Think about something in your life that only changed once you actually started practicing it. What was it — and what finally got you moving?
2. This week's message was Change Is Worked For, Not Wished For. Let's read Philippians 2:12–13. Was there a part of the message that stood out to you or that God especially drew your attention to?
3. Let's read James 1:22–25. What do you notice about the warning James gives here? Why do you think it's so easy to confuse hearing with actually doing?
4. Now let's look at a story Jesus told in Matthew 7:24–27. What does this story show us about God's heart for our lives and why He cares so much about us putting His words into practice?
5. The message reminded us that new practices can slowly reshape our hearts. How do these verses show how spiritual practices can shape us? See Philippians 4:6–7, Mark 6:31–32, and Psalm 1:23.
6. What is one small, realistic practice you sense God inviting you to try this week — something you could actually do, not perfectly, but intentionally?
7. As we close, how can we pray for you this week? Is there a burden you're carrying, or a place where you need God's help as you take a next step?
