

My notes from Sunday's message continued...

We're trying to fit the living God into a story
we've already decided will save us.

Does Jesus get to reinterpret my whole life?

Am I willing to let Jesus be Lord of my life?

WALKING with the SPIRIT

AUGUST 30, 2026 ~ ERIC WAYMAN
Mixing Gods and Missing God

ACTS 14:1-20

Syncretism happens when we combine beliefs that don't belong together.

To repent is to recognize that the direction I've been heading is wrong and turn a different way.

Jesus refuses to share our allegiance. He doesn't come asking for a seat at the table alongside all the other gods we've trusted. He comes claiming the throne.

This Study Guide is designed to help you apply Sunday's message. Join a Life Group and do this study together!

1. Have you ever been really convinced you were seeing or understanding something correctly — only to discover later that you had it completely wrong? What happened?
2. This week's message was Mixing Gods and Missing God. Let's read Acts 14:8–15. Was there a part of the message that stood out to you or that God called your attention to?
3. The people of Lystra saw God do something amazing but interpreted it through their own belief system. Let's read Isaiah 55:8–9 and Proverbs 3:5–7. What do you notice about the invitation to trust God rather than our own understanding?
4. Let's read Luke 9:23–25. Jesus doesn't simply ask us to add Him to the life we've already chosen — He asks us to follow Him. What does this passage show us about what it means for Jesus to be Lord?
5. The message asked, "Does Jesus get to reinterpret my whole life?" Where are you most tempted to look for security, significance, identity, or control apart from Jesus? What makes that especially difficult to surrender?
6. Think about one belief, priority, fear, relationship, habit, or source of security that Jesus may be calling you to surrender. What is one small, practical step you could take this week to give that area to Him?
7. As you think about surrendering more fully to Jesus, where do you most need His help right now? How can we pray for you this week?
