To whom it may concern:

I am more than pleased to give this letter of recommendation for Miguel Maldonado of GoogaDesign for his services as a very creative website designer.

I am the founder and owner of Ellen Baum Design, a full service interior design business that is based in Pasadena, California.

I used the services of Miguel to redesign my company's website. He is very creative, easy to work with and produced a beautiful professional product. His willingness to make changes as the need arises to edit some of the material on my website and host the website as well, makes him a one stop shop. I'm obviously very pleased working with him and highly recommend his services.

Later, when my husband needed to have a website designed for his business, I immediately ran to Miguel for his expertise. My husband's business, Fluorochem, Inc., now has a professional image on the web. His website can be viewed at www.fluorocheminc.com.

Sincerely,

Ellen Baum
