To Whom It May Concern,

I am the Executive Director of Youth Services Network, and it is my privilege to write this letter of recommendation for Miguel Maldonado, whose services as a graphic artist and web designer I have engaged on several major projects over the last several years.

Mr. Maldonado worked closely with me and was responsive and collaborative as we redesigned our logo, print materials, and website. He brought his unique artistic vision, intuitive sensibilities, exquisite craftsmanship, and impeccable professionalism to the table every time. As our nonprofit agency was undergoing significant and necessary transformation, his work was an integral part of the culture shift and rebranding we needed to accomplish.

During the time Mr. Maldonado was working on our print materials, he asked if he could work with our boys to engage them in creating graphic designs we used for some of our print materials. I had my misgivings, as our boys can be challenging to work with. However, this project yielded some beautiful work we ended up using for fundraising purposes. This ability to "think outside the box", as well as work effectively with a wide variety of people, only enhances his artistic and creative skills.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you would like more information.
