

2018 Annual Report

YSEF MISSION: The York Suburban Education Foundation is an independent, nonprofit organization providing funding for innovative programs that enhance the educational experience and foster continued academic excellence for district students.

We do this by raising funds that are used to award grants to teachers, administrators and students who have new ideas for bringing learning to life. Donor support also funds the student-led Impact Foundation (IF) which operates Impact Closets located in all six York Suburban buildings and Food for Thought, a weekend food backpack program.

2018 Grants

YSEF awarded eight grants totaling $52,883.40 in 2018. See details inside.

Impact Foundation

Did you know 35% of York Suburban students qualify as economically disadvantaged? The Impact Foundation (IF), YSEF's student-led committee, has taken action with a goal of reaching one student at a time. Based on their motto of "students helping students," IF has two main initiatives:

- Food for Thought is a program that sends a backpack full of food home each weekend with students who need one. Food for Thought distributed 800 backpacks in 2018, serving over 50 children every week during the school year, and they collected over 2,000 food items through various events such as neighborhood food collections. It costs $4/week to fill one backpack, and $200/year to feed one student.
- Impact Closets are closets in each of the district's six buildings that IF members built, stock and manage, helping York Suburban staff to fill gaps for students in need. IF has purchased or organized donations of items such as school supplies, clothes, pillows, bed sheets, laundry detergent, mattresses, furniture, sneakers, and feminine hygiene products. You can help by emailing info@ysef.org.

"We get more out of this service than we give," says Liv Pindzola, IF's President. "You only need to see the little faces coming to retrieve their food backpacks once for it to hit home that this work is impactful and needed."

"We are so grateful for the help we receive from our community to allow us to live our mission," says Sweeta Rasiyan, IF's Secretary. "The need is all around us, we want to help, and we've learned the answer is always no unless we ask and work hard to create change."

YSEF's Volunteer Village

YSEF is a community of people who selflessly give their time, talents and donations to help kids. The YSEF Board of Directors wishes to thank each member of our volunteer village for their unique contributions, with special acknowledgment to our outgoing President and board members.

Anyone who knows Sarah Reinecker has learned from her non-profit management expertise and has witnessed her passion and drive to do more for kids. As a founding member of YSEF, her inclusive leadership emulates the meaning of a quote from David Starr Jones, "Wisdom is knowing what to do next, virtue is doing it." Sarah leads by example and inspires others to do the same by forging strong relationships. Under her leadership, the board conducted on-going strategic assessments to keep YSEF relevant with the ever-changing educational landscape. In addition, she led the board toward growing YSEF's permanent endowment, developing strong operational systems, increasing community awareness, and focusing on major gift and alumni development. Serving in many chairmanship committee roles over 10 years, she was also a central member of the group that established the Impact Foundation (IF) in 2015, a student-led committee of YSEF.

Along with Sarah, Josh Carney worked with students to help establish the IF. Josh secured financial resources to fund the IF programs and served as an advisor to the IF students with Sarah, Dr. Denise Fuhrman, Gina Trimmer, and Dr. Brian Ellis. During his six years on YSEF's board, Josh's commitment to support students is exemplified by his efforts to take action. He will continue to serve on the IF committee.

Another founding member, Brian Ports, was the inspiration behind establishing YSEF's Jeffrey D. Sindich Endowment Fund at the York County Community Foundation (YCCF). The Jeffrey Sindich board donated $5,000 per year over five years until a $25,000 endowment fund could be established. Since that time, the annual interest income has funded over $5,000 in YSEF grants. Brian continues to serve on YSEF's Fund Distribution committee. Serving three years each, Jim Hayman, '76, YSEF's resident photographer, captured the impact of YSEF's work through his lens, and Jonathan Bowman, '98, served on YSEF's Alumni Committee helping to build awareness with York Suburban alum.

The York Suburban Education Foundation (YSEF) is pleased to announce it has awarded eight grants totaling $52,883.40 through its 2018 Grant program.

YSMS Learning Commons-A STEAM Engine

– Dr. Scott Krauser, Rosemary Nestler, Dana Poster and Matt Moran
(York Suburban Middle School)

In 2017, YSEF awarded $40,000 to support the district-wide “Learning Commons” strategic initiative to incorporate STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Mathematics) concepts into the York Suburban curriculum at all learning levels. STEAM promotes inquiry and project-based learning, collaborative learning, critical thinking skills, innovation, and creativity. From incorporating coding, engineering, and design into kindergarten lessons to enhancing STEAM labs in the high school to transforming the middle and high school libraries into flexible learning spaces that allow for collaboration and exploration, last year’s collective “York Suburban Learning Commons” grant reinforces the district’s dedication to maintain academic rigor, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills. To support the continued evolution of the STEAM initiative, YSEF provided an additional $27,000 for the purchase virtual reality headsets and equipment to promote virtual aspects of learning with efficient technologies for creation and sharing. These new upgrades and resources will promote greater global and cultural understanding as students work together to investigate and solve complex problems with an emphasis on active and collaborative engagement. A safe storage system for the equipment is also included in this grant. This grant is supported with corporate funds donated to YSEF through the PA State Educational Improvement Tax Credit (EITC) program.

Additionally, a generous $10,000 donation from a YS alum, class of 1965, enabled the Middle School to continue innovative and self-sustaining practices to support the Outdoor Classroom and Conservation Efforts. All YSMS students are involved in some form of planning, designing, engineering, building, harvesting or marketing related to the Outdoor Classroom. A student led recycling program will also be instituted that will collect and recycle used 3D printer filament from Suburban and surrounding school districts.

Gardens in the Classroom

– Dr. Brian Ellis, Leslie Gentzyl and Joan Hammond (York Suburban High School and Valley View Elementary School)

A grant of $1,370.00 supported the development of a permanent garden on the high school campus, including a temporary greenhouse facility. Through collaboration among YSHS and Valley View Elementary staff, it is designed to help students of all grade levels develop an appreciation for the life cycle of plants as well as the use of sustainable growing practices within food meal planning and preparation. The students studied hydroponics, a relatively new technology in plant growth. This grant was made possible by YSEF’s Jeffrey D. Sindicich Endowment Fund held at the York County Community Foundation. The fund is in memory of Jeffrey Sindicich, York Suburban graduate class of 1986.

Escaping Language Limits

– Laura Gordon (Valley View, Yorkshire, East York and Indian Rock Elementary Schools)

In 2016, YSEF supported this pilot program which aims to build connections through “Imagine Learning”, an award-winning software program that features interactive content for the increasing population of English Language Learners (ELL). This program provides first-language support in 15 languages, while gradually translating reading for the students to begin acquiring essential English language skills. In 2017, YSEF supported a grant to fund three face-to-face activity meetings throughout the summer with students and their families to keep the program active and celebrate student progress with families through fun incentives. Upon seeing the positive impact of the summer meetings for ELL students at Yorkshire, this $1,400.00 grant allowed this program to expand to Valley View Elementary and supported families of 2nd grade ELL students as they transition to East York and Indian Rock Elementary Schools.

Flexible Classrooms – Kristie Kopp and Lorra Cummings (York Suburban Middle School)

As the number of students requiring outside the box innovations and support increases, Mrs. Kopp and Mrs. Cummings continuously explore how flexible classrooms can impact the diverse learning needs of students. Over the last two years, they have been on a mission to transform their classrooms into spaces where students feel welcome and allow students to explore different options so that they may choose their best learning environment. Growing on the grant they were awarded last year for standing desks, this $6,453.76 grant for additional flexible seating included desks that can easily be configured into groups of two, three, four or six. Adding rolling chairs further enhanced their ability to make flexible grouping and impromptu learning opportunities possible anywhere in the room. By providing more flexible seating options, students will have the freedom and movement necessary to reinvigorate the classrooms and create more room for collaboration, creativity and problem-solving.

It's EL-ementary! Bilingual Books!

– Laura Gordon (Valley View, Yorkshire, East York and Indian Rock Elementary Schools)

York Suburban's primary buildings provide English books for all levels of readers to take home and read each night. However, many bilingual students take English-only books home to read with parents who may not be fluent in English. Attempting to read and discuss English-only books can pose challenges for bilingual families. This $2,200.00 grant paid for English and Spanish versions of the same books so children with Spanish speaking parents may have reading experiences together promoting parental participation in school subjects while increasing fluency in English. Providing books in students' primary languages will boost student motivation and language development in each language.

Supporting Student Mentors – Dr. Denise Fuhrman (East York Elementary)

To fulfill a need for volunteers and mentors to work with students to build their reading and math fact fluency, East York partnered with members of the Eastminster Presbyterian Church to support volunteer opportunities in the classroom.

This $427 grant provided funding for the necessary clearances needed for school volunteers. YSEF's Impact Foundation students assisted the senior volunteers to complete the online clearance applications. For the past two years, this congregation has funded East York's weekend backpack program, providing for 49 East York families and continues to seek additional ways to support YS students.

Electricity is More Than Just Electrons – Leigh Foy and Chris Kurowski (York Suburban High School)

As the high school strives to align the YSHS chemistry curriculum to the new gold standard of Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS), the chemistry department is building opportunities for classroom activities to reflect the interconnected nature of science and to explore how chemistry concepts can be applied outside of the classroom. This $4,032.64 grant allowed for the purchase of updated hydrogen fuel cell model kits which assist students in learning the chemical principals of creating energy, including sustainable sources of electricity. The grant also provided a class set of wind turbine models for use in conjunction with the hydrogen fuel cells from the solar panel model cars. Having these resources will help create a powerful opportunity to teach chemistry students about renewable resources and the significance of saving electricity to conserve natural resources.

YSEF's Richard Guyer Fund Continues to Celebrate the Legacy

The Richard Guyer Fund, started by YSEF in 2009, celebrates the incredible impact Coach Guyer has made as a coach and mentor at York Suburban for over 47 years. The fund also honors the assistant coaches who have stood by his side to support the team's success.

Coach Guyer's commitment to building a culture of excellence is additionally exemplified through his work establishing the Trojan Aquatic Club (TAC) in 1988. Coach Guyer and his many mentee coaches have established a swimming legacy, while more importantly supporting a belief that academics come first and are the bridge to success. YSEF shares this value system, and we are honored to hold a fund in Coach Guyer's name.

The Richard Guyer Fund was established upon Coach Guyer's first retirement. The starting gifts were contributed by the swimming community and Coach Guyer's friends and family. Over the past 10 years, YSEF's goal has been to grow the fund balance to $25,000 at which time it will be transferred to the York County Community Foundation (YCCF) to establish a permanent endowment fund. The fund balance is currently at $20,355. YSEF has a parallel fund at YCCF named in memory of YS graduate Jeffrey D. Sindicich. The annual proceeds from named endowed funds support YSEF grants and/or YSEF's social mission to help students who are economically disadvantaged through the work of the student-led Impact Foundation, a committee of YSEF.
