This chart compares key provisions applied in domestic commercial arbitration by three of the major arbitral institutions: the International Institute for Conflict Prevention and Resolution (CPR), the American Arbitration Association (AAA), and JAMS. This is a simplified guide intended to provide an overview of the similarities and differences among these institutions' domestic commercial arbitration rules.

¹ CPR offers rules for administering a variety of different types of disputes, as do other organizations. These other rules may differ in material respects from the commercial rules. To review CPR's Rules, please see cpradr.org/resource-center/rules/arbitration for a listing or reach out to us with any questions at CPRNeutrals@cpradr.org. This guide is not intended as a substitute for detailed legal advice as to the procedures and laws which govern a particular dispute. Advice should be sought when agreeing to arbitration and at any early stage of any dispute. This version is correct as of September 1, 2022.

Confidentiality
What matters are confidential?	Rule 20 Unless the parties agree otherwise, the parties, the arbitrators and CPR shall treat the proceedings, any related discovery and the decisions of the Tribunal, as confidential, except in connection with judicial proceedings ancillary to the arbitration, such as a judicial challenge to, or enforcement of, an award, and unless otherwise required by law or to protect a legal right of a party.	R-45 (a) Unless otherwise required by applicable law, court order, or the parties' agreement, the AAA and the arbitrator shall keep confidential all matters relating to the arbitration or the award. (b) Upon the agreement of the parties or the request of any party, the arbitrator may make orders concerning the confidentiality of the arbitration proceedings or of any other matters in connection with the arbitration and may take measures for protecting trade secrets and confidential information.	Rule 26(a) JAMS and the Arbitrator shall maintain the confidential nature of the Arbitration proceeding and the Award, including the Hearing, except as necessary in connection with a judicial challenge to or enforcement of an Award, or unless otherwise required by law or judicial decision.
Arbitrator Appointment
What is the default number of arbitrators?	Rule 5.1.a Absent the parties' agreement on the number of arbitrators, in all cases in which the stated amount of the claim or counterclaim does not exceed $3 million, exclusive of interest or costs under Rule 19, a Tribunal shall consist of a sole arbitrator unless CPR, in its discretion, decides that three arbitrators shall be appointed due to the complexity of the case or other considerations. In all other cases, a Tribunal shall consist of three arbitrators.	L-2(a) Large, complex commercial cases shall be heard and determined by either one or three arbitrators. Absent the parties' agreement on the number of arbitrators, three arbitrators shall hear the case if a claim or counterclaim involves at least $3,000,000. If each claim and counterclaim is less than $3,000,000, then one arbitrator shall hear the case. (However, per R-17(a), the AAA may direct three arbitrators to be appointed for lower monetary amounts.)	Rule 7(a) The Arbitration shall be conducted by one neutral Arbitrator, unless all Parties agree otherwise.

What is the default procedure for arbitrator appointment?

CPR ADMINISTERED ARBITRATION RULES (2019)

Rule 5

CPR's neutral selection procedures are party driven, and the parties select how their arbitrators will be chosen. In addition to any party-designated process, CPR provides two unique appointment processes:

1. The parties can receive a curated roster of neutrals, whereby the parties and/or CPR propose candidates who are then vetted for their rates, disclosures and availability up front. Thereafter, the parties may agree to any candidate, or rank them in order of preference, knowing that the selected neutral will be available and free of any conflicts.
2. Where parties do not choose a selection method, the default under the Administered Arbitration Rules is the GAR award winning "screened selection process" whereby the parties nominate "party appointed" candidates to CPR but CPR conducts all of the interface with the candidates so that they don't know that they were party appointed. The Chair is chosen through a list selection process, as described in #1 above, after a conference call to determine the parties' desired qualifications and timing.

AAA COMMERCIAL ARBITRATION RULES (2022)

R-13

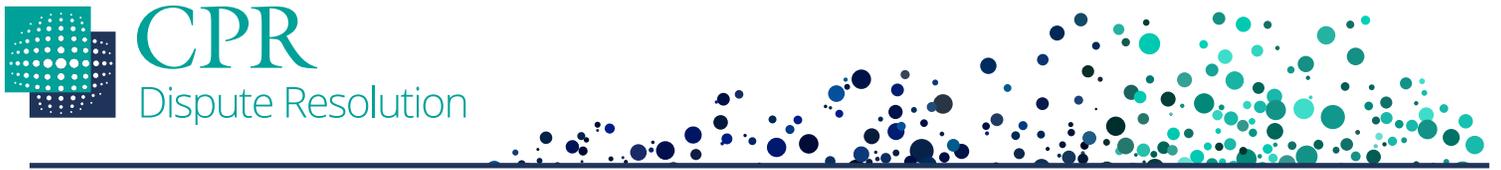

The AAA default selection process is a strike and rank list, wherein the parties are provided with a shortlist of names created by AAA staff (generally 10 for a single arbitrator, 15 for a panel), based on suggested qualifications and dispute type. The parties may then agree on the neutrals, or in absence of any agreement, strike the names objected to and rank the remaining names in order of preference. The AAA may limit the number of strikes allowed. The highest ranked neutrals will be selected. The parties thereafter will have a period of time to review the disclosures and provide any objections to the appointment, for final determination by the AAA

If any neutral cannot serve due to unavailability or conflict, the next name(s) from the list shall be selected. If there are no matches, the AAA may administratively appoint the neutral without issuing further lists.

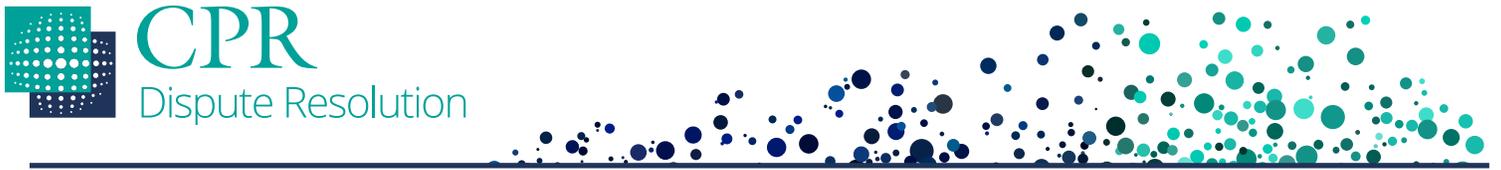

JAMS COMPREHENSIVE ARBITRATION RULES (2021)

Rule 15

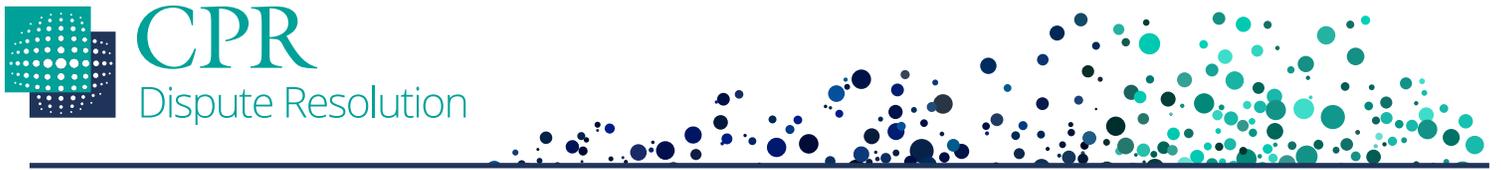

Parties may agree on an arbitrator prior to commencing the arbitration. If the arbitrator is not available to serve, JAMS may suggest alternate arbitrators with similar experience. If an arbitrator has not been selected, the parties may do so via a list generated by JAMS consultants (min 5 names for a single arbitrator, 10 for a panel). Parties have limited strikes (2 for single arbitrator, 3 for a panel). If this process does not yield an arbitrator, JAMS may designate the arbitrator.
