

Online Learning Journal for

Non-Voluntary Contributions

Policy

At Puffins we like to use Blossom Educational to update parents throughout the day, and provide each parent with photo updates of their child's learning journey.

From September 2025, parents who wish not to take part in the voluntary contribution will receive updates on their child's day at the point of collection. This will include nappy updates, what the child has eaten and what they have been up to that day. This will be a short interaction, to allow all staff members to complete hand overs with other parents, and needing to be in ratio within the room.

Staff members will then provide a more in-depth learning update for the child at parent's evening.
