

Dustin is a small business owner who has been a financial advisor and investment manager for nearly 20 years. He has dedicated his career to helping thousands of families navigate crises like the Great Recession, the COVID-19 Pandemic, and the perennial hurricanes that have devastated our coasts.

Now, he's ready to put that experience to good use for our entire state. As a life-long Louisiana resident and graduate of Sulphur High School and Louisiana State University, Dustin deeply understands our way of life and has the expertise we need to get our Louisiana economy back on track.