Boys & Girls Club Receives Transportation Van

The Boys & Girls Club of Pasadena has received a transportation van from Bridgestone. The van will provide club kids with transportation to and from their clubhouse and other enrichment activities, giving them access to high-quality, out-of-school programming.

Lisa Cavallar, CEO of Boys & Girls Clubs of Pasadena, received the van from Bridgestone, represented by Area Manager Carlos Torres.

Bridgestone surprised Boys & Girls Club of Pasadena last week by delivering a new passenger van to the organization. The new van will provide club kids with transportation to and from their clubhouse and other enrichment activities, giving them access to high-quality, out-of-school programming.

The donation is part of the Bridgestone "Driving Green Futures" initiative, which has helped kids and teens connect with Boys & Girls Clubs across the U.S. In attendance to celebrate the donation were Lisa Cavallar, CEO of Boys & Girls Club of Pasadena; Bridgestone Area Manager Carlos Torres; BGCAP leadership and board members, and dozens of club kids.

"We are so grateful to Bridgestone and are honored to be selected as a recipient for a new passenger van to help our club youth and families overcome transportation barriers," Cavallar said. "These vans will not only give kids and teens increased access to outside opportunities that boost their futures, but will also provide safe and reliable transportation to allow school programming to help them reach their full potential." Boys & Girls Club of Pasadena is one of 12 clubs nationwide to receive a grant from Bridgestone to purchase a new passenger van equipped with Bridgestone B2 Blizzaks. Bridgestone will also support the BGCAP by maintaining the new vehicle.

"After-school activities help young people develop crucial life skills and thrive for the future," said Mike Zaleski, president of BGCAP. "Boys & Girls Club of Pasadena is a pillar in this community, and we look forward to seeing how expanded transportation can make an even greater difference in the lives of club youth and families.

Last year, Bridgestone raised $3.6 million for Boys & Girls Clubs of America to help students gain access to high-quality, out-of-school support amid the COVID-19 pandemic. Since 2015, Bridgestone has contributed a total of $14.5 million to Boys & Girls Clubs of America.
