

White Squirrels

Color and Learn Some Fun Facts!

White squirrels are usually the eastern gray squirrel.

They are not a different species—they just have less color (pigment).

A white squirrel may be albino (pink or red eyes) or leucistic (dark eyes).

You can find white squirrels in a few special places, like Brevard (NC), Olney (IL), Marionville (MO), Kenton (TN), Exeter (ON), and Washington, D.C.

They eat many of the same foods as other squirrels, like nuts, seeds, fruits, and buds.
