

Megan Pifferini

Megan Pifferini is a highly dedicated and innovative dance instructor, bringing an impressive breadth of experience to the classroom. Specializing in a diverse array of dance styles—including lyrical, tap, jazz, ballet, acro, and hip hop—Megan adeptly teaches students ranging from ages 3 to 18 in both recreational and competitive environments. This wide-ranging expertise allows them to cater to the unique needs and skill levels of each student.

Holding a Bachelor of Arts in Broadcast Communications from Campbell University, Megan possesses a unique skill set that combines leadership capabilities from both the education and entertainment sectors. This background enables them to inspire and mentor young dancers effectively, encouraging both artistic growth and personal confidence through their engaging and inclusive instructional methods.

In their previous roles at Studio Five Dance Company in Fuquay-Varina, NC, and Linda Kinlaw School of Dance in Fayetteville, NC, Megan excelled not only in teaching but also in choreography, direction, and stage management. At Studio Five, they were responsible for guiding both recreational and competition teams, serving as a stage manager and dressing room coordinator during recital productions, which greatly enriched the students' creative journeys. Meanwhile, at Linda Kinlaw School of Dance, they focused on instructing lyrical and pom dance to competitive team members aged 8 to 12, supporting choreography and recital preparation, thereby significantly enhancing the learning experience.

Passionate about fostering a supportive and dynamic learning environment, Megan is committed to nurturing the talents and confidence of each student, ensuring that they thrive both in dance and in life.
