

Mrs. Susan Potts' journey in ballet is not just a reflection of her personal achievements but also a testament to her influence on countless students over the years. Her background as a competitive gymnast provided her with a strong physical foundation, which naturally transitioned into her love for ballet. This combination of disciplines likely enhances her teaching, as she can draw from a wide range of techniques and principles.

Throughout her career, Susan has embraced diverse teaching environments, adapting to different cultures and student needs. Teaching in locations like Hawaii and Germany not only broadened her own perspective but also enriched the lives of her students, exposing them to various ballet styles and methodologies.

Her experience at prestigious academies and companies indicates her high level of expertise and recognition in the field. She has likely encountered a variety of teaching philosophies, allowing her to develop a well-rounded approach to instruction.

Moreover, Ms. Susan's commitment to lifelong learning is evident in her participation in numerous workshops and advanced training programs. This dedication to continuous education not only enhances her skills but also sets an example for her students about the importance of growth and development in the arts.

Through her teaching, Ms. Susan instills not only technical skills but also a love for ballet and the arts in general. Her passion is likely contagious, inspiring her students to pursue their dreams and explore their creativity. Ultimately, Susan Potts embodies the spirit of a dedicated educator, and her contributions to the ballet community are invaluable.