Salt without flavor is no longer salt. Light that illuminates nothing is no longer light. As Christians, we must be what we have been made to be. So think about it, carefully: what stands between you and being who you were made to be? ©LPi

Fr. Don's Musings . . .

Daffodils are blooming in front of the church office, that's a sure sign that Spring is coming. I like daffodils because they are bright yellow after a normally dreary gray winter. But this winter hasn't really been a winter, it's been so mild. I am still picking ripe raspberries off my bushes in my backyard! This mild winter has left a very light snowpack in the mountains and that could be a problem in the summer, but I can't do anything about that, so I'm just going to enjoy the warm winter while it's here.

Lent is just around the corner, starts on the 18th. I encourage you to sign up for one of our Lenten Small Groups. We have a good book that we'll be using in the groups to help us reflect on God's presence in our lives and how we can respond to that in the way we live our lives. The groups are a good way to meet other parishioners and grow in your Catholic faith at the same time. The various groups will be meeting for an hour once a week throughout Lent.

We still have a few spots open for the Women's ACTS Retreat in March. This is a great weekend retreat, I recommend women of the parish to take advantage of it. Our next Men's ACTS Retreat will be in September.

I will be out of the office Monday-Friday this week, taking some personal time before the busyness of Lent begins. I appreciate that Fr. Pat McNamee has offered to cover the weekday Masses while I'm away. The office staff will still be here as usual to keep things running smoothly.

Let's keep praying for one another. ~ Fr. Don

Questions of the Week

Reflect and Respond to Scripture

1st Reading Question ~

We hear from Isaiah that the Lord expects us to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and avoid false accusations and hateful speech. Which of these virtues could you practice this week?

2nd Reading Question ~

Paul encourages the Corinthians to ground their faith in the power of God and not in human wisdom. How can you make this a regular habit?

Gospel Question ~

Jesus challenges his disciples to have a positive influence in the world. Who do you know makes the world a better place?

“This and That “from Deacon Bill . . . Light and Salvation

This week we hear Isaiah tell us, “Then your light shall break forth like the dawn...”, and Jesus tell us, “You are the light of the world.” The word light is used so often in scripture. Looking at the word itself leads me to Psalm 27 (my favorite) which was written by David when King Saul was trying to chase him down and kill him. I found this sermon on that Psalm by St. John the Serene, the Bishop of Naples who died on December 17, 849.

The Lord is my light and salvation; whom shall I fear? How great was the servant who knew how he was given light, whence it came, and what sort of man he was when he was favored by this light. The light he saw was not that which fades at dusk, but the light which no eye has seen. Souls brightened by this light do not fall into sin or stumble on vice.

Our Lord said: Walk while you have light in you. What other light did he mean but himself? For it was he who said: I am the light of the world, so that those who have eyes may not see and the blind may receive the light. The Lord then is our light, the sun of justice and rightness, who has shone on the Catholic Church spread throughout the world. The prophet spoke as a figure of the Church when he cried: The Lord is my light and salvation whom shall, I fear?

The spiritual man and woman who have been thus illuminated do not limp or leave the path, but bear all things. Glimpsing our true country from afar, they put up with adversities; they are not saddened by things of the time, but find their strength in God. They lower their pride and endure, possessing patience through humility. That true light which enlightens every man and woman who comes into the world bestows itself on those who reverence it, shining where it wills, on whom it wills, and revealing itself according to the will of the Son of God.

When this light begins to shine upon the person who sat in darkness and the shadow of death, in the darkness of evil and the shadow of sin, they are shocked, they call themselves to account, repent of their misdeeds in shame and say: The Lord is my salvation whom shall I fear? Great is this salvation, my brethren, which fears neither sickness nor lethargy and disregards pain. We should then in the fullness of sense not only with our voices but also with our very souls cry out, The Lord is my light and salvation whom shall, I fear?

If he enlightens and saves us, whom shall we fear? Even though the dark shadows of evil suggestions crowd about, The Lord is my light. They can approach, but cannot prevail; they can lay siege to our hearts, but cannot conquer it. Though the blindness of concupiscence assails us, again we say, The Lord is my light. For he is our strength; he gives himself to us and we give ourselves to him. Hasten to the physician while you can, or you may not be able to find him when you want him.

 This prayer of David is one of total trust in God which is so relevant today for all of us.

~ Deacon Bill

All are Welcome! Join a Parish Group for a Deeper Lenten Experience

Meeting once a week, we will increase our devotion in this holy season by reading and discussing Made for Heaven by Fr. Agustino Torres, CFR. The author writes, "This book is for anyone who desires to dive into the power of prayer, fasting and poverty to reorient your life toward God."

Committing to the readings, and sharing experiences and insights with others, will lead to deeper understanding and spiritual growth. Last year a participant said "this is like Lent unleashed – it's not just about giving up my coffee anymore." If this comment resonates for you, consider joining one of these groups. Make Lent more than "giving up something."

Sessions are scheduled for the days and times below along with the name of the discussion leader/s. All groups will meet downstairs at the parish office except the Sunday group. It will gather in the school music room adjacent to the parish hall:

- + Sundays, 12-1pm - Mark Ellis & Maria Clemente + Tuesdays, 1-2pm - Matt Cato
- + Wednesdays, 9:30-10:30am - Mike O'Phelan and Mary Muoth + Thursdays, 9:15-10:15am - Kim Zea
- + Fridays, 9:15-10:15am - Julie and Tim Zweber + Saturdays, 8-9am - Ted Seeber

The six sessions will begin with the Sunday group on Feb. 15, continue throughout the week of Ash Wednesday, Feb. 18, and end the week prior to Holy Week. Registration sheets are available at the church doors or sign-up online at <https://www.osvhub.com/saintclarechurch/forms/lenten-groups-feb-15-2026-1>

Recognize God in your Ordinary Moments A Reflection by Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

Be Salty

I want you to close your eyes. Are they closed?
(I'm serious.) Okay. Now think of the greatest saint in history.

I don't care who you're thinking of. It's going to be different for everyone. Just think of that person.
Think of his or her life. And answer the question:
Why is he or she a great saint?

You're all thinking of different people, but the answer is the same for everyone. And it's not "Because he did great things for God" or "Because she sacrificed everything she had for the poor." Those answers show evidence of the reason. But the reason is something more.

Just imagine if salt was ashamed of being salty.
Imagine if it looked at the sodium content on its nutrition label and thought, "That's embarrassing," and decided it was going to stop being salt. Well, great. Now it's just a box of tiny rocks.

Wouldn't it have been better for the salt to trust
the baker using it?

There is a plan for each of us. There is a path to holiness for each of us. This path doesn't bypass our flaws or our weaknesses; it incorporates them.
It transforms them. It fulfills them.

So be salty. Be who you were meant to be. ©LPi
