Fr. Don's Musings . . .

Last Saturday morning we had our first Brothers in the Spirit gathering for men of the parish. This was an outgrowth of the ACTS men's retreat we had in November. After the retreat, the men wanted to continue to get together to encourage and support one another in our Catholic faith. David Villegas, who (God willing) will be ordained a permanent Deacon next year, offered to lead the group. We had a great first session! Ten men came, some had attended the retreat, some hadn't, and all want to be the best Catholic men they can be. The men that came covered a broad spectrum: retired men, dads/husbands with children at home, and single men.

We looked at some bible passages about manhood and discussed ways we can be strong, loving, dedicated and holy Catholic men. We prayed together and left the gathering encouraged and feeling more connected with other good men in the church. The group decided to meet weekly on Saturdays at 9am in the lower level of the parish office building. All men of the parish are welcome to come and try it out.

Next weekend I'll be away at our Confirmation retreat with 30 of our middle and high school students. We'll be at Mt. Angel at the Fr. Bernard Youth Center. Debbie Henkelman and her Confirmation team are leading the retreat. Please keep us in your prayers. I'll be back in time to preside at our Sunday 10:45am Mass and attend the St. Clare School Open House.

The School Open House is a great opportunity to see all the great things that happen in our parish school. I encourage parishioners to come over from 12-2pm and learn more about the "Little School with a Big Heart". We provide an amazing faith-based education for the K-8 students.

~ Fr. Don

“This and That “from Deacon Bill . . .

Today, as we walked into the church, we were struck by the relative barrenness of the sanctuary. Gone are the white vestments, the candles, the stable, the Christmas tree. Today is indeed a Sunday of transition...transition in nature as we continue to move from the dark days of winter towards a later sunset, transition in the church as we move from the Christmas Season into the beginning of Ordinary time.

It is a time when we move from celebrating the manifestation of God to celebrating the beginning of Christ's ministry on earth. Every year in Ordinary time we begin with a gospel from John. The other gospel writers focus on the Kingdom or reign of God; it is the gospel of John that focuses on relationships – Christ's relationship with the Father and our relationship with Christ. While all the Gospel writers recount the Baptism of the Lord, a feast from last Sunday, only in John's account do we hear John the Baptist cry: “Behold, the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world!” which we repeat at each Eucharistic Celebration to this day. In John's gospel, there is no nativity scene, no background about Jesus or his ancestry. Instead, there is “Behold the Lamb of God.” This is John's annunciation! Here God's introduction into our world is not heralded by an angel, it is proclaimed by a prophet on the banks of a river. One solitary man sees another and cannot help to bear witness to testify and cry out for the world to look and believe.

Unlike the other Gospel accounts which are a little more passive, John the Baptist makes no bones about who is coming to him. Why? Well, can you imagine the excitement? He had been baptizing in the River Jordan, day in and day out, with a faith that the Spirit of God would enlighten him with the knowledge of who is Christ. How often have we said that to ourselves and others...the times in our lives that we do not feel connected, times of great difficulties, times of great conflict, times where we feel we are just not good enough, times of great loss?

Tomorrow, we celebrate the life of Martin Luther King Jr. who spent a lifetime bringing light into the darkness of racial segregation and discrimination. While sitting in a jail cell in 1963, he wrote, “Darkness cannot drive out darkness only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate only love can do that.”

It is with this type of inward reflection and prayer that opens our eyes to this indwelling of the Holy Spirit. Where in the face of darkness we can cry out: Behold this is the Lamb of God, the Christ, who takes away the sin of the world. This is the Christ who dined with sinners and prostitutes and tax collectors, this is the Christ who made the lame walk, the blind see, and the dumb speak, this is the Christ who hung on the cross so that all would be saved, this is the Christ who calls us to be the light to others.

So, my fellow travelers our journey through Ordinary time begins and like the journey of John the Baptist it is a developmental journey, a journey where we may be faced by a time that we cry out, “I don't see him,” and other times where we can feel that light of Christ shining upon us. But we take comfort in knowing, as we heard in today's gospel, that it is Christ who comes toward us no matter where we are in our lives.

It is the indwelling of the Holy Spirit that gives us sight to see little glimpses of Christ every now and then in our lives. It is our good and gracious God who calls on us to be a beacon of light in times of darkness. Let us open our ears to that call to help others in their need. ~ Deacon Bill

Universal Church Appeal

Your Gift, Your Choice, Our Shared Mission

Beginning this year, the Archdiocese is combining the former national 2nd collections into one streamlined Universal Church Appeal, which will still be taken at Mass the weekend of July 12, 2026.

To make participation easier, online giving is now open at <https://osd.archdpdx.org/universal-church-appeal>.

Prefer to give directly? While the portal makes it easy to support multiple causes with one gift, you're always welcome to donate straight to the source (links are provided on the Archdiocese webpage listed above).

Please recycle any older national collection envelopes you may receive in the mail—we will not distribute or promote those at the parish level; official archdiocesan materials will come closer to July.
