Fr. Don's Musings . . .

Happy 4th of July weekend! Happy 250th birthday of our nation!

We have a lot to be thankful for as Americans. We sing the familiar God Bless America song and (especially this weekend) I think of the many ways that God has blessed America. Here in the United States we live very comfortable lives compared to most of the world. We often take our stability and security for granted but most countries of the world don't have the stability and security we enjoy. We enjoy a lot of freedoms that other people don't get to enjoy. We have one of the best justice systems in the world. We have excellent health care and education opportunities. We get to freely elect the people we want to govern our city/state/nation. We are free to practice our religion without governmental interference.

It is easy to get used to these good things and not even notice them, but most of the world doesn't enjoy these benefits. When I travel out of the country I always come home with a fresh appreciation of what we have here. It's been good to hear some of the comments from the World Cup visitors and their positive impressions of our nation.

Our nation has plenty of room for improvement, and we want to continually work to make things better, but this weekend let's not focus on our shortcomings or challenges but rather let's celebrate all the good things about the United States of America. There is a LOT to celebrate!

May God bless America. ~ Fr. Don

“This and That ” from Deacon Bill . . . “Faith, Freedom, and America’s Founding”

This weekend our country celebrates the anniversary of the 250th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, with barbeques, parades, and fireworks. But what is this day all about? How about a little American history with a Catholic touch?

In 1772, Committees of Correspondence were established to coordinate American colonial response to British policies of taxation and intimidation. On April 19, 1775 at Lexington and Concord, the “shot heard around the world” was fired. Bunker Hill in Boston, Moores Creek Bridge in North Carolina, and Charleston Harbor in South Carolina became historic battlefields in what would become known as the Revolutionary War.

Less than 2 percent of the population of the original thirteen colonies was Catholic, but a number of those Catholics mustered out to fight for independence and help shape the future of our country.

Catholics were generally mistrusted by the preponderate Protestants, but several Catholics distinguished themselves in the fight to throw off the yoke of British rule. Commodore John Barry, known as “the Father of the American Navy,” read the Bible every morning. John Fitzgerald, a devout Catholic, was George Washington’s aide-de-camp. Stephen Moylon, a cavalry commander, went down in history in 1776 when he used the term “United States of America”, in a letter, the earliest known use of that phrase.

France, a Catholic country, was secretly sending supplies to the Continental Army starting in 1775 and eventually entered the war in 1778. In 1781, Frenchman Gilbert du Motier, famously known as Marquis de Lafayette, enlisted at age nineteen, and went on to command troops in the siege of Yorktown, the final battle of the war.

The fighting ended in 1781. The Treaty of Paris, signed on September 3, 1781, officially ended the war, and secured freedom for America.

The Declaration of Independence was written by Thomas Jefferson. A committee comprised of John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Robert Livingston, and Roger Sherman helped draft it. On July 4th 1776, twelve of the colonies ratified the document. The New York delegation waited until July 19th due to poor communications between Philadelphia and their state capital. The actual Declaration document was not signed until August 2 of that year. Maryland Bishop John Carroll —known as the “patriarch of American Catholicism,” was the lone Catholic amongst the fifty-six original signatories. He was one of the wealthiest and formally educated signers, a product of seventeen years of Jesuit education in France. Maryland was the center of Catholic communities thanks to the Jesuits.

Most of us are familiar with the following passage: “We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.”

The Founding Fathers believed that the rights of government and individuals were God given and irrevocable. The Declaration grounds human rights in the laws of nature and God rather than in a grant from a king or government. The Founders adapted theological concepts into secular political language, creating a government based on natural law which protected religious freedom.

God’s name is listed four times within the document.

Happy July 4th and May God continue to Bless America.

~ Deacon Bill
