At this point in time, we break for the entire period of Great Lent. Class will resume on Wednesday, April 29

This class will be a more interactive class than previous Bible studies as it will require active participation from all attendees. All students will read the assigned chapters. Each week, a random person will be assigned a single chapter to prepare for the next week. One student will prepare a short look at his/her assigned chapter answering the questions: 1) What is the narrative? 2) Who is involved? 3) Are there any “types” in the reading? 4) Any other details that bear discussing or that the reader wants to question. Each person will then present their “report” to the class for discussion.
