FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

A FORETASTE OF PARADISE

Throughout Easter Time, the Church rejoices with Jesus, risen from the dead. Our readings on this Fourth Sunday of Easter celebrate our instinct to come together in joy, worshiping in church. While private prayer nourishes our individual relationship with the Lord, community prayer is a foretaste of paradise. The book of Revelation depicts a "great multitude" worshipping God "day and night in his temple." Our churches on Easter Sunday often reflect this happy multitude, filling the pews to bursting. Four Sundays into the festive season, we are encouraged to keep praising God together. In the Acts of the Apostles, Paul and Barnabas demonstrate their instinct to worship with their faith community each Sabbath, dutifully taking their seats in the synagogue. In the Gospel, Jesus calls us his sheep and reminds us why coming together as a flock is so important: uniting in community, we imitate the unity of God.

For Our Mothers

Good and Gentle God, we pray in gratitude for our mothers and for all the women of theory who have joined with you in the wonder of bringing forth new life. Grant to all mothers the courage they need to face the uncertain future that life with children always brings.
 Give them the strength to love and to be loved in return, not perfectly, but humanly.
 Give them joy and delight in their children to sustain them through the trials of motherhood. Most of all, give them the wisdom to turn to you for help when they need it most.

God is Gentle

While realizing that ten years ago I didn't have the faintest idea that I would end up where I am now, I still like to keep up the illusion that I am in control of my own life. I like to decide what I most need, what I will do next, what I want to accomplish, and how others will think of me. While being so busy running my own life, I become oblivious to the gentle movements of the Spirit of God within me, pointing me in directions quite different from my own.

It requires a lot of inner solitude and silence to become aware of these divine movements. God does not shout, scream, or push. The Spirit of God is soft and gentle like a small voice or a light breeze. It is the Spirit of Love.

Henri Nouwen

“Stewardship is the grateful response of a Christian disciple who recognizes and receives God’s gifts and shares these gifts in love of God and neighbor.”

DO WE FOLLOW THE GOOD SHEPHERD?

We begin by being with Jesus, being taught by him, and following his lead as a good shepherd. Most people hear “good shepherd” and think of those who are ordained bishop or priest. But the behavior we associate with a good shepherd – protecting and providing for those who cannot do for themselves – is the responsibility of all the baptized. We, the baptized, are more than passive onlookers of the example of Jesus, say, like visitors to an art museum, enjoying what they see, and then going home unchanged.

Our faith in Jesus is participatory: our life is hidden with Christ in God. And so, if Jesus is a good shepherd, protecting and providing for others, then his followers do the same. The behavior of a good shepherd is reflected in the Catholic Church’s long and well-defined body of social teaching, rooted in the example and teachings of Jesus.

Catholic social teaching hinges upon two cardinal principles: respect for human life and dignity, and the common good. The common good ensures that all people enjoy the things needed to live in dignity: productive work and fair wages, food and shelter, education and health care, protection from harm, and the right to emigrate when these are unavailable in one’s homeland.

We might disagree about how people are afforded access to things needed for dignified living, but there should be no disagreement that people have a right to them.

And among the goods that all people have a right to share in, the most fundamental is the right to life, without which advocating for other rights just does not make sense.

As Pope Francis says: The defense of unborn life is linked to the defense of every human right. It involves the conviction that a human being is always sacred and inviolable. Once this conviction disappears, so do solid and lasting foundations for the defense of human rights (Joy of the Gospel, 213-214).

Based on the common good and respect for human life and dignity, we have a responsibility to provide for and protect those unable to do for themselves. That responsibility is greatest when others are least able to do for themselves, say, a child in the womb or an aged person. Our responsibility may decrease as the other person’s ability increases, but it never goes away entirely. We care about and so care for others, no matter who it is, regardless of whether that person is judged worthy, asks nicely, is aware of the cost, or is grateful.

How do I live as a good shepherd, protecting and providing for others?

—Archbishop Jackels, Archbishop of Dubuque

¿SEGUIMOS AL BUEN PASTOR?

Comenzamos por estar con Jesús, ser enseñados por él y seguir su ejemplo como buen pastor. La mayoría de la gente escucha “buen pastor” y piensa en aquellos que son obispos o sacerdotes ordenados. Pero el comportamiento que asociamos con un buen pastor, proteger y proveer a aquellos que no pueden hacerlo por sí mismos, es responsabilidad de todos los bautizados. Nosotros, los bautizados, somos más que espectadores pasivos del ejemplo de Jesús, digamos, como visitantes de un museo de arte, disfrutando de lo que ven y luego regresando a casa sin cambios.

Nuestra fe en Jesús es participativa: nuestra vida está escondida con Cristo en Dios. Y así, si Jesús es un buen pastor, protegiendo y proveyendo a los demás, entonces sus seguidores hacen lo mismo. El comportamiento de un buen pastor se refleja en el largo y bien definido cuerpo de enseñanza social de la Iglesia Católica, arraigado en el ejemplo y las enseñanzas de Jesús.

La doctrina social católica gira en torno a dos principios cardinales: el respeto por la vida y la dignidad humanas, y el bien común. El bien común asegura que todas las personas disfruten de las cosas necesarias para vivir con dignidad: trabajo productivo y salarios justos, comida y vivienda, educación y atención médica, protección contra daños y el derecho a emigrar cuando no estén disponibles en la patria de uno.

Es posible que no estemos de acuerdo sobre cómo las personas tienen acceso a las cosas necesarias para una vida digna, pero no debería haber desacuerdo en cuanto a que las personas tienen derecho a ellas.

Y entre los bienes que todas las personas tienen derecho a compartir, el más fundamental es el derecho a la vida, sin el cual abogar por otros derechos simplemente no tiene sentido.

Como dice el Papa Francisco: La defensa de la vida no nacida está ligada a la defensa de todos los derechos humanos. Implica la convicción de que el ser humano es siempre sagrado e inviolable. Una vez que esta convicción desaparece, también desaparecen los fundamentos sólidos y duraderos para la defensa de los derechos humanos (La alegría del Evangelio, 213-214).

Sobre la base del bien común y el respeto por la vida y la dignidad humanas, tenemos la responsabilidad de proveer y proteger a quienes no pueden valerse por sí mismos. Esa responsabilidad es mayor cuando otros son menos capaces de hacerlo por sí mismos, por ejemplo, un niño en el útero o una persona mayor. Nuestra responsabilidad puede disminuir a medida que aumenta la capacidad de la otra persona, pero nunca desaparece por completo. Nos preocupamos y nos preocupamos por los demás, sin importar quién sea, independientemente de si esa persona se considera digna, pide amablemente, es consciente del costo o está agradecida.

¿Cómo vivo como un buen pastor, protegiendo y proveyendo a los demás?

— Hermana Ann Harpenau, OSB

St. Agnes Parish

7775 Vanderbilt Beach Road, Naples (English)

Pope Francis has initiated The Synod on Synodality to bring a greater degree of openness, collaboration, and mutual listening to the church.

By reflecting together on the journey that has been made so far, the diverse members of the Church will be able to learn from one another's experiences and perspectives, guided by the Holy Spirit. Enlightened by the Word of God and united in prayer, we will be able to discern the processes to seek God's will and pursue the pathways to which God calls us – towards deeper communion, fuller participation, and greater openness to fulfilling our mission in the world.

All are invited for a listening session about the Catholic Church and your relationship with it.

Listening Session will take place from 6:30 - 8:00 PM

Please register for the Listening Session

RETURN

HOW TO DRAW YOUR CHILD BACK TO THE CHURCH

By Brandon Vogt, Foreword by Bishop R. Barron

WORDonFIRE

The statistics are troubling: an average of 6.5 people leave the Catholic Church for every one that joins, and 50% of young people who were raised Catholic are no longer Catholic today. The Catholic Church is hemorrhaging young people.

Behind these statistics are countless stories of wounded families. Millions of mothers and fathers are longing for their prodigal children to come home to the Church, crying: "Where did we go wrong?"

The passive wait-and-see approach is no longer an option. We need a different strategy. We need to understand the real reasons why our young people drift away, and we need a game plan to bring them home. We need Return.

Prayer to Saint Monica

*Exemplary Mother of the Great Augustine, you perseveringly pursued your wayward son,
not with wild threats but with prayerful cries to heaven.*

Intercede for all mothers in our day so that they may learn to draw their children to God.

Teach them how to remain close to their children, even the prodigal sons and daughters who have sadly gone astray.

Amen.
