25TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The vineyard owner hired five groups of laborers. Each subsequent group began work later in the day. When the owner hired the first group, they agreed on a fair wage. At the end of the day, he called in the workers and began paying them, the last ones first. Of course, the early morning crew saw the later ones getting a full day's wage and excitedly anticipated a bonus for themselves. When they were paid, they received only the negotiated amount. "It's not fair!" was their cry. How many times a day do our children point out that someone got more than they did? Enough, I'm sure, for us to know that today's Gospel illustrates a human response! But our human ways are not God's ways. God's generosity is sometimes beyond our understanding. But imagine what a world it would be if we rejoiced in generosity and good fortune of others.

GOSPEL REFLECTION FOR NEXT SUNDAY

26th Sunday of Ordinary Time

Matthew 21: 28-32

We will tell a story next weekend that we have heard many times. I suppose we need to hear it again, no matter how often, to help us to do what God asks. Two sons take center stage, and I believe there is a little of them both in all of us. Sometimes we say “yes,” and do nothing. Then, sometimes we say “no,” and eventually do what is asked of us. As we sit and wonder about these two and about ourselves, there can emerge a question that is better than which one of them is right? In some ways they both did the right thing, but not in the right way. We might better ask which one of them showed the most concern for the well-being of the family.

This story ends up being about action, about doing something. Polite words, pious gestures, bumper stickers with scripture quotes are all empty when not backed up by committed activity. As we have all heard from our parents, “Actions speak louder than words.” Only those who act, even if they are slow to respond, have done the Father’s will. So, we tell the story once again to remind those of us who are slow to get up and do something that will put to use the gifts we have for building up the Kingdom of God. Being polite and nice, looking as though we are good disciples really does nothing when it comes to the mission entrusted to us.

GOD IS GENEROUS

In this Gospel, we are reminded that God's ways are not our ways. God sees what we do not see, understands what we cannot fully understand, and acts with a mercy that often challenges our human sense of fairness. The parable invites us to look beyond our first reaction and to consider the deeper meaning of God's justice and generosity.

From a human point of view, those who work longer should be paid more than those who work only a short time. Because of that, the landowner may seem unfair at first. We can understand why the workers who labored all day would feel disappointed when others received the same wage. Yet this reaction shows how easily we bring our own expectations into the parable and assume that fairness must always be measured by comparison.

The landowner paid the workers what had been agreed upon. In that sense, he acted justly. But the parable goes further. The landowner is not only just; he is abundantly generous. Those who worked all day received the wage they were promised, and those who worked only one hour received more than they had earned. His generosity to the latecomers did not take anything away from the others. Instead, it revealed the goodness of his heart. In this way, the landowner reflects God, who gives not only what is just, but far more than we deserve.

This parable reminds us that God owes us nothing, yet gives abundantly and equally. At times, we may be tempted to believe that our work, our faithfulness, or our sacrifices should earn us a greater share of God's mercy than others receive. But God's generosity cannot be divided according to human standards. His mercy is not limited, and another person's blessing does not lessen our own. We are called to receive God's goodness with gratitude, not resentment, and to rejoice when others experience the same mercy that has been given to us.

—Loyola Press, edited by G. Carter

DIOS ES GENEROSO

En este Evangelio, se nos recuerda que los caminos de Dios no son nuestros caminos. Dios ve lo que nosotros no vemos, comprende lo que no podemos comprender plenamente y actúa con una misericordia que muchas veces desafía nuestro sentido humano de la justicia. La parábola nos invita a mirar más allá de nuestra primera reacción y a considerar el significado más profundo de la justicia y la generosidad de Dios.

Desde el punto de vista humano, quienes trabajan durante más tiempo deberían recibir un salario mayor que quienes trabajan solamente por un corto período. Por eso, al principio, el dueño de la viña puede parecernos injusto. Podemos comprender por qué los trabajadores que habían laborado todo el día se sintieron decepcionados al ver que otros recibían el mismo salario. Sin embargo, esta reacción demuestra lo fácilmente que proyectamos nuestras propias expectativas sobre la parábola y asumimos que la justicia siempre debe medirse en comparación con los demás.

El dueño de la viña pagó a los trabajadores lo que había acordado con ellos. En ese sentido, actuó con justicia. Pero la parábola va más allá. El dueño no solamente es justo; también es abundantemente generoso. Los que trabajaron todo el día recibieron el salario que se les había prometido, mientras que quienes trabajaron solamente una hora recibieron más de lo que habían ganado. Su generosidad hacia los que llegaron tarde no les quitó nada a los demás. Al contrario, reveló la bondad de su corazón. De esta manera, el dueño de la viña refleja a Dios, quien no solamente nos da lo que es justo, sino mucho más de lo que merecemos.

Esta parábola nos recuerda que Dios no nos debe nada y, sin embargo, nos da con abundancia y por igual. A veces podemos caer en la tentación de pensar que nuestro trabajo, nuestra fidelidad o nuestros sacrificios deberían darnos derecho a recibir una mayor parte de la misericordia de Dios que los demás. Pero la generosidad de Dios no puede medirse según los criterios humanos. Su misericordia no tiene límites, y la bendición que recibe otra persona no disminuye la nuestra. Estamos llamados a recibir la bondad de Dios con gratitud, no con resentimiento, y a alegrarnos cuando otros experimentan la misma misericordia que nosotros hemos recibido.

CHILDREN'S LITURGY OF THE WORD

All are welcome!

FOR CHILDREN
AGES 5-10*
DURING 11AM
MASS EVERY SUNDAY

What: CLOW is a special gathering in which children experience the Sunday readings at their own level and are able to respond to them. It is a Liturgy like Mass, not "playtime." Please have your child leave behind things that might distract (such as toys, dolls, books, cell phones.)

Why: The goal of Children's Liturgy of the Word is to help children engage meaningfully in the scriptures of the Sunday Mass, thus beginning a life-long practice of praying, learning, and celebrating at Mass.

Where: The children are dismissed from the main assembly to the chapel building with a leader before the First Reading and return during the Collection. All St. Agnes CLOW adult leaders are fingerprinted and background checked.

No registration or fees required.

Join us when father calls up the children after opening prayer!

If you would like to join CLOW as a leader or assistant, Contact Michael & Marianne Shahla at (239) 287-6798 or mar22one@hotmail.com

If your children are younger, we invite you to come sit with them to help them stay focused.*

EVENTOS PARROQUIALES HISPANOS

Los días de atención a los feligreses del Padre Alejandro Giraldo-Roldán son los jueves y viernes de 1:00 p.m. a 4:00 p.m. Por favor, llame a la oficina para hacer su cita al (239) 592-1949.

EL ASEO

Hoy hablaremos del aseo como base de la estimación social y la salud, extendiéndose desde la persona hasta el entorno y las relaciones con los demás.

- Aseo personal: Mantener el cuerpo limpio es signo de pureza de alma y buenas cualidades. Incluye el cuidado de la piel, el cabello, las uñas y el uso adecuado del pañuelo.
- Vestimenta: La ropa debe estar limpia y en buen estado, aunque no sea lujosa. Es preferible cambiar la ropa interior con frecuencia y evitar prendas rotas incluso en casa.
- Habitación y entorno: La limpieza debe abarcar toda la casa, desde la entrada hasta los lugares menos visibles. La ventilación y el orden son esenciales para la salud y la buena impresión.
- Aseo para con los demás: Hay que evitar acciones que puedan resultar desagradables a otros, como acercarse demasiado al hablar, toser o estornudar sin cubrirse, o dar la mano si no está limpia.
- Objetos compartidos: No se deben usar objetos personales de otros sin permiso, especialmente los relacionados con el aseo.

Ejemplos:

- Antes de entrar a una casa, limpiar el calzado para no ensuciar el suelo.
- No fumar ni escupir en lugares cerrados o ajenos, y evitar hablar de temas desagradables en sociedad.
