Skyhawks programs are coed and are designed for beginning up to intermediate athletes. Coaches will group kids by age and/or ability during the first day of the program. Coaches will teach sport-specific skills, run drills, and play skill-based games. Participants will play games unrelated to sports at the start and end of camp and during snack break. Where a sport is offered for two different age ranges the same week, we may choose to combine programs in the event of low enrollment.

For questions about financial assistance, medical, allergy and/or special needs contact askcolorado@skyhawks.com. To help ensure the health and safety of young athletes, it is recommended that parents review the concussion information available on the CDC website <https://www.cdc.gov/HeadsUp>.
