Accountant Profile

Tom Larkin

Accountant Profile

Tom has extensive taxation and financial management experience, gained through working closely with individuals, businesses & corporates across a range of industries.

Tom understands that each business is unique and that not one size fits all. Tom enjoys working alongside businesses, providing a personalised service to help them achieve clearly defined & relevant targets.

He strongly believes in working with other professionals, and the specialists within IEC Advisory, to ensure clients are provided with quality strategic and holistic advice. He is supported by a great team of people, each with specialist areas of knowledge.

In 2000 he commenced his career as a cadet with a firm which is now the largest mid-tier accounting firm in Australia, and over a 16+ year association with that firm Tom worked in several different roles. The last 5+ years Tom was a Principal of the firm, responsible for working with others to support the local team, local clients and local operations.

In 2014 Tom was recognised as the Dubbo Chamber of Commerce Young Business Executive. Tom is motivated to provide clients with a personalised, local service, being of a high quality standard. In early 2017 Tom made the decision to go into practice for himself. In early 2017 Tom established IEC Advisory Pty Ltd.
