Robert's Rules of Order

Robert's Rules of Order

- What Is Parliamentary Procedure?
 - A set of rules for conduct at meetings that allows everyone to be heard and to make decisions without confusion.
- ELCFH Bylaws:
 - V.3.1 (Governing Rules) “RRO will govern all official proceedings of the Coalition....”

Four Basic Types of Motions

- Main Motions: Purpose is to introduce items to the membership for their consideration. They cannot be made when any other motion is on the floor, and yield to privileged, subsidiary, and incidental motions.
- Subsidiary Motions: Purpose is to amend (change or affect) how a main motion is handled, and is voted on (ex: “Call the Question”).
- Privileged Motions: Purpose is to bring up items that are urgent about special or important matters unrelated to pending business (ex: recess, adjourn).
- Incidental Motions: Purpose is to provide a means of questioning procedure concerning other motions and must be considered before the other motion (ex: “Point of Order” - used if member feels rules are not being followed).

Must debate on a motion stop immediately as soon as any member calls the question?

- If debate has dragged on longer than a Board member feels is really warranted, that member can “call the question,”
- THEN the Chair has to immediately ask the Board to vote to determine whether or not debate should continue.
- The motion to call the question is itself not debatable.
- If two-thirds of the Board agree that the discussion should stop, then it must cease.
- Then a vote be taken on the question itself.

Is it true that, once a quorum has been established, it continues to exist no matter how many members leave during the course of the meeting?

No- once a quorum at a meeting has been established, the continued presence of a quorum is presumed to exist only until the chair or any other member notices that a quorum is no longer present.

Meaning- if the chair notices the absence of a quorum, he or she should declare this fact, at least before taking any vote or stating the question on any new motion.

Any member noticing the apparent absence of a quorum can and should make a Point of Order to that effect whenever another person is not speaking. It is dangerous to allow the transaction of substantive business to continue in the absence of a quorum. [RONR (11th ed.), pp. 348-49; see also pp. 12-13 of RONRIB.]
