18th Sunday in Ordinary Time

We are Invited to a Banquet not to a Funeral Feast

The theme of the banquet joins together the first reading and the gospel. The banquet is the symbol of the happiness and joy present in the kingdom of God.

The first reading tells us of a promise; the gospel tells us of the accomplishment of such a promise. Many could object: if the banquet has begun with the coming of the Messiah, why do we still have so much hatred, so many wars, deaths all over the world? Yes, the feast has begun, but the Kingdom is still awaiting its full realization, its construction is progressing slowly and demands our collaboration.

The second reading is also connected with this theme: We are here shown the example of the community of Philippi where there is an authentic love and where a completely new life has really begun: the help and the gift sent to Paul is proof of this.

Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi (Prayer for Peace)

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace:

where there is hatred, let me sow love;

where there is injury, pardon;

where there is doubt, faith;

where there is despair, hope;

where there is darkness, light;

where there is sadness, joy.

O divine Master,

grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console,

to be understood as to understand,

to be loved as to love.

For it is in giving that we receive,

it is in pardoning that we are pardoned,

and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.
