SUNDAY REFLEXION

A GOD WHO LOVES WITHOUT TAKING INTO ACCOUNT THE MERITS

Today all three readings converge on the same theme. In the first we see God who forgives the people of Israel though they had gone back to worship idols. His forgiveness is gratuitous, and he does not put any condition, he does not wait to see if they are going to deserve his forgiveness. He is led only by his love.

The Gospel says exactly the same thing: what could the little sheep have done to merit the attention of the shepherd? Nothing. It had just got lost, that's all. The example of Poul proposed by the second reading completes today's catechesis.

Some may object but Paul was erring without knowing that he was the wrong (1Tim 1:13); the people of Israel had reverted to pagan rites because of ignorance; the little sheep had gone astray by mistake... That is why the Lord was so good and understanding to them. But I say: is there anybody who sins in a different way from this? Is there somebody who, when committing sin, is fully aware of what he or she is doing? (cf. Lk 23:34).

THE JUBILEE PRAYER

Father in heaven,
may the faith you have given us in your son, Jesus Christ, our brother, and the flame of charity enkindled in our hearts by the Holy Spirit, reawaken in us the blessed hope for the coming of your Kingdom.

May your grace transform us into tireless cultivators of the seeds of the Gospel.

May those seeds transform from within both humanity and the whole cosmos
in the sure expectation of a new heaven and a new earth, when, with the powers of Evil vanquished, your glory will shine eternally.

May the grace of the Jubilee reawaken in us, Pilgrims of Hope, a yearning for the treasures of heaven.

May that same grace spread the joy and peace of our Redeemer throughout the earth.

To you our God, eternally blessed,
be glory and praise for ever.

Amen
