

What are streaming services?

Streaming services include TV shows and movies (also called “content”) that are delivered to your TV, computer or mobile device through the Internet, WiFi, or using cellular data. Some content is streamed On Demand, and some content is available Live.

On Demand streaming services include Netflix, Prime Video and Hulu (Hulu also offers Live TV). These services offer a library of video content that you can access and watch whenever you choose.

Live TV streaming services include Philo TV, Sling TV, Hulu+ Live TV, YouTube TV (and more) and are delivered over the internet, but function like traditional cable TV in that you are watching the shows live or you can record shows and watch them later.

Visit cablelynx.com/streaming to learn more.

Benefits of streaming TV

Affordable monthly cost some services are free, and others start at just $5 per month

Something for everyone most services offer news, live sports, entertainment and family channels

Cloud DVR

record your favorite shows, then watch them anywhere since they are stored in the cloud, not on a set-top box

Watch anywhere, any time

Streaming services can be watched on a variety of devices and screens including smart phones, computers and video streaming devices like Apple TV, Roku or Fire TV

Get what you want choose a service that offers the channels you watch the most

Get started with Streaming TV – Here’s what you’ll need

Streaming Device

Devices that work great for streaming to a TV include smart TVs, Roku, Fire TV and Apple TV. If you don’t want to watch on your TV, your computer, mobile phone or tablet will also work, as long as they are connected to WiFi or cellular data.

Reliable broadband connection

Cablelynx Broadband is made for streaming! You can start watching streaming TV with as little as 25 Mbps of broadband service, but depending on how many people will be streaming at the same time, you might need more service. If you’re not sure how much speed you need, please contact our customer service team at 1-800-903-0508.

Something to watch

You’re likely already familiar with Netflix, Hulu or Prime Video, but there are loads of other streaming services available. From popular brands like Disney+ to niche services like Britbox, there’s something for everyone to stream.

How do I know what to watch?

If you're looking for an experience similar to cable TV, where you can watch live TV and view what's on using a program guide, your best options are:

For the family

Movie lovers

Dedicated interests

Can't-miss cable channels

Sports fans

Free options

