Equine Veterinarian

Part-time | 3 days per week | Nabiac, NSW

A new opportunity in equine veterinary medicine on the beautiful Barrington Coast.

Barrington Coast Vets is looking for an enthusiastic Equine Veterinarian to join our expanding team. With our dedicated Nabiac Equine Centre taking shape, we are creating a role for a veterinarian who wants to help develop a progressive equine service while enjoying the flexibility of part-time work.

Our vision combines ambulatory veterinary care with centre-based diagnostics, treatment and developing hospital facilities.

The position

This is a three-day-per-week position, with flexibility in working arrangements for the right candidate. The caseload offers opportunities in:

- General equine medicine and preventative healthcare
- Equine dentistry and oral examinations
- Lameness investigations and diagnostic imaging
- Sports and performance horse medicine
- Reproduction and breeding management
- Minor procedures, emergency medicine and hospital-based care
- Client education and preventative health programs

You will work alongside our veterinary team with dedicated equine nursing support. We encourage the development of individual clinical interests and welcome input into our centre's evolving services.

About you

- Registered or eligible for veterinary registration in NSW
- Genuine interest and experience in equine veterinary medicine
- Comfortable working independently within your experience and collaborating with colleagues
- Committed to high-quality practical veterinary care and client relationships
- Enthusiastic about contributing to an expanding equine service

Experienced equine veterinarians are encouraged to apply; motivated mixed-practice veterinarians with a strong equine interest will also be considered.

What we offer

- Three days per week and flexible arrangements
- An independently owned practice with a collaborative team
- Ambulatory and centre-based equine work
- Dedicated equine nursing support
- Professional development and scope to shape the new centre
- Competitive remuneration based on experience and a coastal/rural lifestyle
