The Stone of St. Michael the Archangel from the Shrine of St. Michael in Gargano, Italy

High atop a mountainous promontory called Monte Gargano in Southeastern Italy, is the oldest shrine dedicated to St. Michael in western Europe. According to tradition, St. Michael the Archangel appeared to an Italian bishop in 493 and consecrated a nearby cave. This became known as the Sanctuary of Monte Sant'Angelo sul Gargano, more commonly referred to as Monte Gargano.

Over a thousand years later, tradition claims St. Michael appeared again at the shrine, where he told the bishop, "I am the Archangel St. Michael. Anyone who uses the stones of this grotto will be liberated." Since then, tiny stones from this grotto have been distributed around the world and are known as "St. Michael Stones." These are popular sacramentals that are used by the faithful to invoke the intercession of this powerful intercessor to protect them and grant them God's graces.

If you are interested in acquiring your own St. Michael Stone reliquary, you can stop by the parish office. The $60 donation covers the cost of the 24-carat gold-plated reliquary that holds the stone (not the stone itself, which is included), the certificate, and shipping. Proceeds support the Shrine of St Michael in Gargano.

Attention All Parents and Grandparents

If you have family in college or those in high school planning on attending college, please consider joining the Newman Connection. About 70% of Catholic college students leave the faith when in college. Don't let that happen to your loved ones. Learn more about the Newman Connection next weekend after all the Masses. There will be an information table in the narthex.
