

A Message from the Founder

In Kosovo, I received a clear calling for my life's next chapter. I promised that after 20 years of honorable service, I would dedicate my retirement to a specific mission: lifting up the She-Roes who served alongside us but are now in need of a "hand-up" not a hand-out.

The H.O.P.E. Institute is that promise in action. From the Gulf War to the El Paso business world, my journey has taught me that self-sufficiency isn't just about housing; it's about restoring the whole person.

The H.O.P.E. Mandate is more than a mission statement; it is my personal commitment to ensure that in the city I call home, no Female Veteran is ever left behind.
