Welcome aboard Island Transit

As the seasons begin to change, so does Island Transit. Fall brings new opportunities, and this year, some of the most significant improvements our agency has made in decades.

Beginning in September, you will see increased service frequency, improved ferry connections, earlier morning trips, and expanded service to better connect communities throughout Whidbey and Camano Islands. These changes reflect what we have heard from riders, commuters, employers, students, and community members who shared their ideas during our public outreach process. Thank you for helping shape the future of public transportation in Island County.

Whether you are commuting to work, heading to school, visiting family, running errands, or exploring everything our beautiful islands have to offer, we hope these improvements make your journey easier, more convenient, and more reliable.

On behalf of everyone at Island Transit, thank you for choosing to ride with us. We remain committed to providing safe, dependable, fare free transportation while continuing to listen, learn, and grow alongside the communities we proudly serve.

I wish you a wonderful fall season, and I look forward to seeing you onboard.

Warm regards,

Melinda Adams

Island Transit Bus Service is Fare Free

That means that for every $10 taxable purchase in Island County, 9 cents in sales tax is collected for Island Transit service. State and federal funds also help pay for our bus service.

What type of service does Island Transit provide?

- Fixed route bus service described in this service guide

Riders will be kept informed during these service disruptions on the website, through a news e-alert, and via social media. In some cases, schedules may also be impacted by road closures, ferry service delays, and accidents. Please allow for extra travel time and we thank you for your patience.

Flag Stops

What is a flag stop? A flag stop is when a rider boards the bus at a location that is not an established bus stop with a posted bus stop sign. Flagging the bus down is an option only in certain areas.

How do I flag a bus? As the bus approaches, raise and lower your arm over your head several times to catch the driver's attention. Be sure to stay back from the edge of the road to allow the bus enough room to pull off. During dark or foggy weather we suggest you have a flashlight you can wave for the driver to see you.

Express Routes

Express Routes do not perform flag stops within the defined route.

Lost & Found

If an item has been found, arrangements will be made for pick up at Island Transit's offices located at 19758 SR 20, Coupeville, WA 98239.

Policies & Procedures

DO:

- Please remove children from strollers and collapse the stroller prior to entering the bus.
- All children six years of age and under must be accompanied by an adult or guardian.
- Shirt and shoes required.
- Please be courteous to other passengers.

DON'T:

- No smoking within 25 feet of Island Transit property.
- No food or drink on the bus (drinks in closed lid containers are allowed).
- No loud music (if it is audible from earphones—it is too loud).
- No disruptive behaviors.
- Do not carry more packages than manageable in one trip.

Pets/ Service Animals

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) defines a service animal as dogs that are individually trained or in training to do work or perform tasks for people with disabilities. Dogs whose sole function is to provide comfort or emotional support do not qualify as service animals under the ADA.

Service animals and service animals in training are welcome on all our buses.

When it is not obvious what service an animal provides, only limited inquiries are allowed. Staff may ask two questions: (1) is the dog a service animal, or service animal in training, required because of a disability, and (2) what work or task the dog has been trained to perform. Staff cannot ask about the person's disability, require medical documentation, require a special identification card or training documentation for the dog, or ask the dog to demonstrate its ability to perform the work or task.

Service animals and service animals in training must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the service animal's and service animal in training's work or the individual's disability prevents using these devices. In that case, the individual must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls.

Service animals and service animals in training, regardless of training or certification, may be denied transportation if the animal is out of control or if the animal's behavior poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others.

Non-Service Animal: Pets and non-service animals are allowed on the buses with the following rules: Pets may ride if they are placed in a small carrier or container. Riders bringing a pet onboard are responsible for the animal and will be held liable for the behavior and action of the animal. If transferring to a transit system outside of the Island Transit service areas—please review their pet policy before traveling. Animals, insects, or reptiles known to be venomous are not allowed under any circumstances.

Comfort and Emotional Support Animals: Comfort and emotional support animals do not meet the definition of a service animal or service animal in training under state and federal guidelines. Animals other than dogs who are not working service animals or service animals in training, must be in a pet carrier or container.

For more information regarding traveling with a service animal, visit the Federal Transit Administration—FTA Website: Frequently Asked Questions | FTA \(dot.gov\)

Audio/Video Cameras

All transit vehicles are equipped with audio and video cameras.
