

STANDARD CONDITIONS OF SALE

1.0 ACCEPTANCE OF CONDITIONS By placing an order, the customer hereby accepts the following conditions, which may be varied only in writing by Fardell Electrical hereafter known as Fardell Electrical. Please be advised that placing this order with Fardell Electrical will override any terms and conditions provided by the Customer.

1.1 TAXATION In the event that at any time during the term of the contract any new or additional taxation is imposed which effects the cost of materials, services or labour associated with the works, or which may apply to the total invoiced costs, such increases shall be added to the contract sum.

1.2 TERMS OF PAYMENT Our standard Terms of Payment are as follows: For installation works long term projects 1 month or more in duration progress claims are required.

Monthly progress claims will be made and these will include:

1. All unfixed materials at site.
2. Electrical switchboards designed specifically for this project
3. Mains and sub mains cables
4. All materials and other equipment stored off site because of delays in construction or unavailability of site access.
5. All approved variation works in progress. 80% of all unapproved variations of works in progress. In addition, initial progress claims will also include up to 10% of the contract value for mobilisation, project setting up, commitment to initial procurement of materials and subcontracts and other costs and obligations incurred at the commencement of the project.
6. For Light Fittings: Monthly progress claims based on the following milestones: 20% on placement of order, 50% on delivery, 25% on completion of fit out, 5% on completion of works testing.

For General Works: Monthly progress claims based on the following milestones: 20% on placement of order, 40% on completion of the rough-in, 40% on completion of works and before certification is issued.

1.3 TERMS OF PAYMENT:

Short Term Projects. Notwithstanding that the company, Fardell Electrical may from time to time offer extended terms of payment, it reserves the right to require full payment of all indebtedness within 7 days of the date of invoice relating to the delivery of goods or provision of services. If payment becomes overdue, Fardell Electrical reserve the right to cease work regardless of site deadlines, until the account is settled. If a dispute arises, the dispute will be dealt with as a separate matter and does not obviate the client from settlement of any outstanding monies.

1.4 INTEREST WHEN ACCOUNTS ARE OVERDUE:

We reserve the right to charge interest monthly at the rate of 2% per week if account becomes overdue. Part payments shall be firstly applied against interest.

1.5 RECOVERY COSTS PAYABLE BY THE CUSTOMER:

We reserve the right to charge all costs incurred or which may be incurred in recovering or attempting to recover any goods or amount owed by the customer, including any debt collectors commission and any solicitors costs and charges incurred in recovering or attempting to recover any amount owed by the customer. Any part payment shall firstly be credited against interest then debt recovery charges.

1.6 RETURN OF GOODS:

Credits will only be allowed if authorised by Fardell Electrical and at a value calculated by Fardell Electrical. Claims for credits must be made in writing within seven days of delivery and invoice number and date be quoted. Goods being returned are at the risk and cost of the customer at all times. Re stocking fees may apply.

1.7 NON-PAYMENT

In the event, the product or service provided, is not paid for, Fardell Electrical reserves the right to enter the site of installation under the original contract for work to disable the system, by any means possible, until payment has been made. Once payment has been made Fardell Electrical will return within 5 business days to re-commission the system. The owner of the property gives Fardell Electrical permission to enter the property to conduct both of the aforementioned actions, if required.

1.8 STRUCTURAL INTEGRITY OF BUILDING AND MATERIALS

Unless specifically mentioned as an inclusion in the contract for work, any existing building deficiency (or potential upgrade required) to the structural integrity a building, is to be completed by the owner, prior to commencement of work. Fardell Electrical expect that the owner of the building, conduct their own investigations (at their own cost) into the ability of their structure to carry the weight of the equipment being installed, with a qualified and licensed structural engineer, prior to work commencing. By the owner accepting, the installation booking date, Fardell Electrical are making the presumption that this investigation has been completed prior to commencement and will proceed on this knowledge. Fardell Electrical will be forthcoming with any product specifics, should they be requested, for this process to occur.

1.9 ROOF TYPES AND POTENTIAL ISSUES

When installing solar or energy efficiency products on many different and varying roofing materials, there is risk to the roofing material being damaged. These materials all carry risk of damage when walking on and installing products on them. Due to the varying age and condition of the roofing material present on different sites, Fardell Electrical cannot guarantee that no damage will be sustained or caused to the roof during the process of the installation. Fardell Electrical take great care to avoid damage to the materials, but roofing materials such as Aluminium Sheeting, Decromatic Tile, Trim deck, Corrugated Iron and Ceramic Tiled roofs may sustain damage from the nature of the installation. Fardell Electrical take no responsibility for any damage caused and the owner, by accepting our conditions, by placing an order understands the risks involved with the installation and that the damage can be sustained and may result in repairs or replacements (at the owners cost) being required to the roofing material post installation.

The Contract

2.0 Price Basis The price is quoted on the condition that supplier items and major material items can be ordered, and stored either on site or off site with storage certificates issued and payment made for materials held in storage.

2.11 Title Risk of Loss Title of goods, services and works undertaken by Fardell Electrical should not pass until full payment for the goods, services and work undertaken has been made by the purchaser. The purchaser hereby authorises and acknowledges that entry will be given to the premises where the goods have been delivered, or installed arrangements will be made for us to regain possession of the goods, for which full payment has not been made.

2.12 Hazardous Materials Unless specifically stated in this quotation, the quoted price is based on the assumption that the work for which this quotation is submitted will be executed in a hazardous material free environment. It is a strict condition of this quotation that the customer accepts full responsibility for the resolution of any problems and for delays and additional costs which may result from the presence of these materials in or about the site on which the works (or any part thereof) are to be performed.

2.13 Work Site Access We have based our offer on free and unrestricted access to all required work areas.

2.14 Live Work Clause It is our strict policy to only undertake live work or work near live conductors where it is safe to do so, particular emphasis is placed on: Compliance with AS/NZS 4836:2001 "Safe working on Low Voltage Electrical Installations, relevant Commonwealth and State Statutory Acts and Work Place Regulations". Our live work procedure is designed to eliminate risk of injury to our employees, damage to your installations and unexpected power disconnections. The above may require us to disconnect or isolate parts of the installation to undertake such work for which additional charges may be applicable.

2.15 Cancellation Fees If work is not able to be proceeded with as arranged and if no alternative activities can be undertaken at site, a cancellation fee of 20% of the contract will be charged if the work is confirmed with an agreed start date set and is then cancelled or re-scheduled, based on man hours and materials committed to the work at the time of cancellation where these are not able to be otherwise deployed.

2.16 Service/Delivery By Installments Where it is practical, we reserve the right to deliver the goods, service and/or carry out the installation by installments. In such instances progress payments and billings for each installment shall be due in accordance with the clauses "Terms of Payments" above.

2.17 Delays/Prolongation Any it specifically mentions it, any quotation provided has been based on the understanding that the contract will be carried out as one continuous project, devoid if delay and with the provision of equipment and services by others as and when needed. Hold over time, waiting time, industrial disputes, inclement weather or any other time spent because of delays/prolongation caused by others will be charged at the applicable NECA standard or agreed contract hourly rates. Fardell Electrical also reserves the right to claim for additional costs where the client requests acceleration of the works to meet revised programming.

2.18 Site Conditions This quotation is valid only if the site equipment/plant is in the same condition as stated when this quotation was prepared. Any additional costs incurred due to changes or further damaging of equipment by others will be deemed to be a variation to the contract.

2.19 Delivery Delivery periods quoted are subject to change and as such should be treated as estimates only. We will Endeavour to meet delivery dates but do not accept and liability for failure to complete the contract within any specified delivery period unless specifically stated otherwise in our quotation.
