

In this Ahrens & Flaherty tribute show, multi-MAC award winner, including 2026 Best Female Vocalist, and 2025 Bistro Recipient Ann Kittredge, along with Andrea Marcovicci, and Alex Rybeck, deliver an enchanting evening of gloriously funny and poignant songs from the ever-growing Ahrens and Flaherty canon. As a “vocal chameleon” and “A story-songstress supreme, Ann is the perfect conduit for such an oeuvre. These three artists share a simple, yet profound understanding: there must be as many different ways to expose the human heart as there are human hearts to expose.

Between bouts of warm, personal patter, Ann’s richly-mined characters seem to step directly out of their lives and onto the stage. Stage professionals, cabaret lovers, and casual theatergoers alike will appreciate Ann’s skillful display of talent and find it hard to leave the theater without a rekindled warmth in their hearts. But why just tell you about it? Lynn Ahrens and Stephen Flaherty are stylistically unbridled, their body of work so beautifully varied. Their honest renditions of humanity demand nothing less than a full embodiment of character, relying equally on the performer’s storytelling and vocal capabilities.
