NATIONAL SOCIETY OF THE WASHINGTON FAMILY DESCENDANTS

REGISTRAR'S REPORT SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES

Inquiries

The Registrar received one hundred and Forty inquiries. Of those, thirty-five applications were sent, and nineteen application packages were received and approved for admittance to the NSWFD as of this date. In addition, there have been 12 Associate Memberships approved.

Washington and Lee University Digitization Project

The Memorandum of Understanding between Washington and Lee University and the National Society of Washington Family Descendants has been signed. The team at Leyburn Library Special Collections is currently developing a plan for organizing the metadata associated with the early applications in their possession.

Grandfathered Line:

Application No. 0563 – Lynn Carper, née Peeler

Approved: 25 January 1980

This application presents unresolved issues in Generation 09, specifically regarding Henry Fox, who is recorded as having married Anna/Anne West. There is no primary source evidence confirming that Generation 10, Hannah Ball, who married Capt. David Fox, had a child named Henry.

Virginia Genealogies by Rev. Horace Hayden (Genealogical Publishing Co., Baltimore, MD, 1979, p. 60) affirms that Hannah Ball married Capt. David Fox, son of David and Mary Fox. However, Henry Fox is not listed among their children nor assigned an entry number. In a footnote, Hayden suggests that Henry Fox of King William County, who married Anne West, is possibly a child of Hannah Ball and Capt. David Fox.

In Ball Families of Virginia's Northern Neck An Outline by Margaret Lester Hill (Mary Ball Washington Museum & Library, Inc., 1990, pp. 49–51), the children of Hannah Ball and Capt. David Fox are enumerated. Henry Fox appears with a question mark both before and after his name, indicating uncertainty.

In Cavaliers and Pioneers, Patent Book 7 (1679–1689) by Neil Marion Nugent (p. 245), a Henry Fox is identified as the son and heir of John Fox, with land located in New Kent and Gloucester Counties.

In the Petition of Henry Fox, Nathaniel West and Others (1704), held by the Archives Division of the Virginia State Library, genealogist George Harrison Sanford King wrote on 28 March 1939 that Henry Fox married Anne West, daughter of Col. John West. Col. West was the son of Governor John West and grandson of Thomas West, 2nd Lord De La Warr.

Additionally, James Wallace Fox, in his article published in The William and Mary College Quarterly Historical Magazine, Vol. 26, No. 2 (October 1917), pp. 129–138, identifies Henry Fox as the son of John Fox, who married Anne West (p. 133).

Conclusion:

Unless primary source documentation emerges that substantiates or refutes the information presented in Virginia Genealogies, Ball Families of Virginia's Northern Neck, and the other cited records, I recommend that this line be closed, and the admitted member grandfathered.

Historian General's Report
69th Reunion

In the spring of 2022, I received from Barbara Short the following materials from the prior Historian, Mary Shawn Webb Russell:

- Book of various newspaper clippings with mentions of NSWFD from 1954 – 2017
- Thumb drive from Millie Hopkins, who served as Historian for many years, with all the NSWFD files on her computer
- CD from Millie Hopkins of a photo slideshow of NSWFD related photos and clippings from 1954- 2013

My focus in the coming year will be to index and where needed digitize these records and photos from Millie Hopkins. I feel that Millie is a tremendous source of historical information and without index, we don't really know what information we have. In addition, starting with the 2022 historical records and going forward, I will keep both paper and digital versions of these archives. I assume at some point these archives need to be digital only. These records, by the way, are more in the way of ephemera and, although probably not worthy of W&L's perusal, are worth keeping in good order and easily accessible for our Washington descendants.

Respectfully submitted,

Laura Miller Keith

Here is some information on the three most popular volumes:

Vol. 1: The first seven generations of the Washingtons in America, beginning with the immigrant John Washington, great-grandfather of George Washington).

Vol. 2: The “Most Notable” members of the Washington family from all the generations coming after Volume 1, including General George S. Patton, the actor Lee Marvin, and the author Shelby Foote. This also contains the bibliography for volumes 1 and 2, which were originally intended as a two-volume set, since my original contract with the publisher called for only volumes 1 and 2 to be published in hardcover editions. This volume consists entirely of lengthy biographical sketches, and it is by far the most readable book in the set.

Vol. 3: A 40-generation history of the “Royal Descents” of the immigrant John Washington, also including many Royal Descents of the Reade-Warner line). This volume traces and documents the ancestry of the early Virginia members of this “Presidential Branch” back to the nobility and royalty of England and continental Europe, including the Plantagenet dynasty, William the Conqueror, Alfred the Great, and Charlemagne. It also adds lines of descent from fourteen of the twenty-five Barons who served as Sureties to compel King John to ratify the historic Magna Carta in 1215.
