FATIMA AL-FIHRI (TUNISIA/MOROCCO)
Knowledge Alchemist

In the 9th century, Fatima al-Fihri used her inheritance to found the University of al-Qarawiyyin in Fes, Morocco — an institution recognised by UNESCO and the Guinness World Records as the world's oldest existing university. A devout Muslim and learned woman, Fatima transformed knowledge from privilege into a community offering. She is a true alchemist: turning wealth into wisdom, creating spaces where ideas and learning could take root across religions and generations.
