

STORY SHAPER

She reclaims, reframes, and reweaves narratives - personal, historical, and cultural. With words as her tools, she helps others make meaning, find voice, and step into stories that liberate

Key Qualities

- Creative
- Empathetic
- Reflective
- Articulate
- Healing presence

What sort of activities it may involve?

- Writing memoir or fiction
- Leading storytelling workshops
- Mentoring quietly
- Curating exhibitions
- Podcasting or content creation

CHIMAMANDA NGOZI ADICHIE (NIGERIA)

Story Shaper

Chimamanda Adichie's stories span continents but are deeply rooted in Nigeria's soil. Through novels like Half of a Yellow Sun and her viral TED Talk We Should All Be Feminists, she challenges dominant narratives, exposes colonial legacies, and weaves together the personal and the political. Her storytelling helps women around the world reframe their own stories — not as side characters, but protagonists. She is a modern griot, using words as both mirror and catalyst.