13th Sunday in Ordinary Time - June 28, 2026

Brothers and Sisters,

Thank you to those who responded to my request regarding Artificial Intelligence. The consensus seems to be that we should have round-table style discussions allowing people to discuss their experience with AI, and their concerns. I will schedule that for July.

I use AI for things such as research assistance and formatting our new bulletin look and feel (debuting in July). While AI can help with many tasks, the danger is found in the post-humanist philosophy upon which it is built.

Human beings are made in the imago Dei (image of God) (Gen 1:26). Christ is the one who perfectly images God, as he is God. We learn what it means to be made in God's image by learning to desire what Christ desired. Thus, the goal of human formation is to become like Christ.

Human formation does not occur in a vacuum. We learn how to properly order our desires to those of Christ by imitating others. St. Paul informs us that we are to imitate him, because he imitates Christ (1 Cor 11:1). Thus, we learn to actualize the imago Dei by imitating saints, parents, teachers, and other holy men and women who have come before us – people made in the imago Dei with real lived experience in the Christian life.

AI is now mediating these relationships. It removes the vulnerability inherent in the Cross that comes from contact with other humans. I see this in schools, and even in family life, where teens frequently use AI to figure out how to relate to their peers, teachers, and parents, while parents and teachers use it to understand and relate to their students and children. Instead of direct contact, a minimum of two layers of AI is entering into formative human relationships – and it does so without possessing the imago Dei.

I hope we can discuss this, as well as other topics raised by Pope Leo and by you such as its impact on our creative capacity, on the environment, its priority on optimization over formation, as well as the possibilities it presents. As we do so, we must keep in mind that our humanity must never be outsourced to a machine.

Fr. Brian
