From ~~the Pastor~~ A Parishioner

Fr. Brian,

When I read your invitation to share a story about bringing my faith into the public square, I initially thought "I don't really have a story".

I have been a practicing Catholic my entire life. I hope to remain one until the day I die. I have struggled with spiritual courage for most of my adult life. It is only within the last couple of years that I have really begun praying for the courage to speak about my faith, and only within the last year that I have started trying to act on those prayers. Even then, my steps have been very small- almost embarrassingly small.

One thing I have started doing is speaking up when I am with a group of people, or with a person, whether at work or socially, and someone takes God's name in vain. I simply say, "Don't take God's name in vain." That's it. I don't lecture. I don't explain. I don't try to turn it into a conversation about faith. And I have never received any real pushback. Sometimes the response is, "You're right. I shouldn't do that." Sometimes it's, "I'm sorry." Sometimes someone will even ask, "Did I take God's name in vain?" And then I let it go.

When I look at this on paper, it doesn't seem like much of a faith story. In fact, my first reaction is that it shows how far I still have to go as a disciple. But perhaps that is part of my story.

So, I don't have a dramatic story about standing up in front of a crowd and proclaiming my faith. My story is smaller. It is about praying for courage and then trying to take one tiny step at a time. Sometimes that step is simply saying "Don't take God's name in vain." ...And sometimes it is recognizing that I still have a long way to go. But I am praying that God will continue to give me courage to speak when I should speak, the wisdom to know when I should be quiet, and the humility to recognize that discipleship is a lifelong work.

Dearest St. Joseph, at the word of an angel, you lovingly took Mary into your home. As God's humble servant, you guided the Holy Family on the road to Bethlehem, welcomed Jesus as your own son in the shelter of a manger, and fled far from your homeland for the safety of both Mother and Child.

We praise God that as their faithful protector, you never hesitated to sacrifice for those entrusted to you. May your example inspire us also to welcome, cherish, and safeguard God's most precious gift of life.

Help us to faithfully commit ourselves to the service and defense of human life —especially where it is vulnerable or threatened. Obtain for us the grace to do the will of God in all things. Amen.
